stories wove together swashbuckling adventure romance and real events from France's past. Among the best known are The Three Musketeers and its sequels Twenty Years After and Le Vicomte de Bragelonne Ten Years Later. Set across four decades, this trilogy follows the rise of the dashing D'Artagnan from hot-headed soldier to trusted captain under Louis XIV. The Man in the Purple Cow House and Other Tales of Eccentricity Mary Ames Mitchell, 2005.

The Son of Man in Myth and History Frederick Houk Borsch, 2007-03-01. Borsch has not answered all the questions of course. Who can? But his view of the Man tradition makes more sense to me than, for example, Perrin's rather cavalier dismissal of the evidence, and it not only enlightens but also enlivens the discussion. As against the extreme skeptics, Borsch is also convincing to me in arguing the case for a large measure of authenticity in the Son of man tradition in the Gospels. If the proof of the pudding is in the eating, the book constantly calls me back to its pages for insight regarding the problem, both in its historical dimension and in its bearing upon the meaning of Jesus of Nazareth for faith today. Theology. The author is well aware of the difficulties involved in entering a field wherein so much investigation has been done. And of this, with the positive and negative conclusions, he gives an excellent survey, crisp and critical. The lines opened up will engage the attention of a new and more positive chapter in the form of critical argument. London Quarterly and Holborn Review.

Frederick H. Borsch is the retired Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles and Professor of New Testament and Chair of Anglican Studies at The Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia. He is also the former Dean of the Chapel at Princeton University. His other books include The Spirit Searches Everything: Keeping Life's Questions: The Bible's Authority in Today's Church, Introducing the Lessons of the Church Year: A Guide for Lay Readers and Congregations, and The Christian and Gnostic Son of Man.

The Man in the White House Wilfred E. Binkley, 1970-10. The Constitution of the United States says little about the president's specific duties other than the enforcement of the laws of the land. Combining brilliant scholarship with a lively style, this book reveals how deep-seated forces inherent in American society and affecting the presidency for over two centuries have transformed the office created by the framers of the Constitution into the complex, powerful and responsible institution it is today. The administrations of the strong presidents have added to the powers and duties of the office as we know them. In addition, such social and political forces as the growth of political parties, economic and geographic expansion, and the changing nature of the national government have all had their influence on the presidency. These processes are historically traced by the author and illustrated by vivid examples of how they worked in the case of such holders of the office as Washington, Jackson, Polk, Lincoln, the two Roosevelts, and Eisenhower. Every chapter of the book brings a fresh and authoritative approach to an office and an institution that is the subject of searching debates today

The Art and Science of Making the New Man in Early 20th-Century Russia Yvonne Howell, Nikolai

Krementsov, 2021-12-02 The idea that morally mentally and physically superior new men might replace the currently existing mankind has periodically seized the imagination of intellectuals leaders and reformers throughout history This volume offers a multidisciplinary investigation into how the new man was made in Russia and the early Soviet Union in the first third of the 20th century The traditional narrative of the Soviet new man as a creature forged by propaganda is challenged by the strikingly new and varied case studies presented here The book focuses on the interplay between the rapidly developing experimental life sciences such as biology medicine and psychology and countless cultural products ranging from film and fiction dolls and museum exhibits to pedagogical projects sculptures and exemplary agricultural fairs With contributions from scholars based in the United States Canada the UK Germany and Russia the picture that emerges is emphatically more complex contradictory and suggestive of strong parallels with other new man visions in Europe and elsewhere In contrast to previous interpretations that focused largely on the apparent disconnect between utopian new man rhetoric and the harsh realities of everyday life in the Soviet Union this volume brings to light the surprising historical trajectories of new man visions their often obscure origins acclaimed and forgotten champions unexpected and complicated results and mutual interrelations In short the volume is a timely examination of a recurring theme in modern history when dramatic advancements in science and technology conjoin with anxieties about the future to fuel dreams of a new and improved mankind
