Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies, 2001 Suicide Jon Klimo, Pamela Rae Heath, 2006-06-12 This provocative study explores what happens to those who commit suicide Drawing on communications from the spirits of more than 100 successful suicides it offers an intriguing look at what the dead themselves say about suicide its repercussions and their experiences in the afterlife Bringing together the channeled messages of three types of suicide traditional suicide assisted suicide and the suicide mass murder adopted by terrorists the book covers a wide range of topics including why people commit suicide what it is like to cross over adjustment problems what suicides would say to those left behind and what they would tell others thinking of taking their own lives Additionally the book conveys powerful messages from suicide bombers warning potential terrorists of the serious karmic consequences that await them For anyone contemplating suicide or euthanasia the book offers profound sometimes unsettling insight into the ramifications of these acts The Truth about Veterans' Suicides United States. Congress. House.

Committee on Veterans' Affairs, 2009 Rational Suicide, Irrational Laws Susan Stefan, 2016 Rational Suicide Irrational Laws argues that laws aimed at preventing suicide and laws aimed at facilitating it co exist because they are based on two radically disparate conceptions of the would be suicide This is the first book that unifies policies and laws toward people who want to end their lives Russian Tragifarce Julia Listengarten, 2000-06 The tradition of Russian tragifarce can be characterized by its strong links to Russian political and cultural history and by its significant role in the development of Russian dramatic literature and theater practice The book argues that the dualistic character of Russian tragifarce which is close in spirit and philosophy to Bakhtin's understanding of the medieval carnival embodies the ambivalent spirit of Russian culture and politics The book further argues that the tragifarcical perception of the world can be seen as a national characteristic of the self doubting and ironic Russian sensibility under the influence of a repressive political regime

Russian Drama of the Revolutionary Period Robert Russell, 1988-06-18 The period between the Revolution of 1917 and Stalin s coming to power in the early 1930s was one of the most exciting for all branches of the arts in Russia This study tries to show how the diversity of the Soviet arts of the 1920s continued the major trends of the pre Revolutionary years

Preventive Strategies on Suicide Diekstra, Gulbinat, Kienhorst, Leo, 2023-07-31 Recent estimates by The World Health Organisation and The World Bank indicate that throughout the world each and every year more than 800 000 persons die as a consequence of suicide This means that the death toll of suicide equals and in many countries even exceeds that of road traffic accidents In addition to the number of suicidal deaths at least ten times as many persons make non fatal attempts to take their lives or harm themselves often seriously enough to require medical attention and not infrequently resulting in irreversible disability But still these figures inadequately describe the magnitude of human loss and suffering caused by suicide If one assumes that for every suicidal death there are at least five persons whose lives are profoundly and often for many years affected by the event emotionally socially and economically by the event then each year millions of survivor victims are added to the tens of millions already out there Hence suicide is an ever recurring catastrophe of the first degree It is not a phenomenon that first and foremost forms a dubious privilege of the so called highly developed countries Suicide also occurs in the developing countries and there is more than suggestive evidence that in several of these countries the suicide rate equals or even surpasses the highest national rates shown by official statistics It follows that suicide is an extremely important public health problem It is however a problem that is painfully neglected Throughout the world resources devoted to the prevention of suicide are only a tiny fraction of those devoted to the prevention of comparable problems such as road traffic accidents or to problems of lesser magnitude at least in the industrialized countries such as HIV infection and Aids This volume produced under the supervision and auspices of the World Health Organization brings together for the first time information on epidemiological clinical and preventive intervention aspects regarding suicide that have global significance and applicability After a detailed description of the epidemiology of suicide and suicidal behaviour on an international scale a large part of the book is devoted to the how to's of developing and organizing suicide prevention programs and services in different national and cultural settings both at clinical and community level In addition a wealth of practical information for health care workers and volunteers is provided on how to evaluate and deal with acute suicide risk Examples of successful preventive intervention programs and projects from the developed as well as the developing world are provided Legal and ethical problems involved in suicide prevention are also discussed Finally both cultural and biological aspects of suicidal behaviour as well as their clinical practice relevance are examined
