and the Growing Challenge from Non-traditional Maritime Threats Phan Xuan Dung, To Minh Son, 2023-03-03 While the South China Sea dispute remains Vietnam's top security concern the country also confronts a variety of growing non-traditional threats such as illegal fishing maritime violence smuggling ecological degradation and climate change These issues adversely affect Vietnam's external relations socio-economic development marine ecosystems and political stability while engendering and exacerbating regional tensions In response at the national level Vietnam has focused on building a blue economy and strengthening its law enforcement capacity At the international level Vietnam has participated in a variety of bilateral and multilateral cooperative mechanisms However these efforts have been impeded by internal and external factors such as corruption inadequate capacity and lack of budget as well as ASEAN's institutional limitations and sovereignty sensitivities To better confront these multifaceted maritime issues Vietnam will need to 1 formulate a comprehensive national strategy for maritime security 2 streamline the overlapping responsibilities of maritime security agencies 3 enhance its maritime domain awareness 4 ensure proper policy and investment to improve climate resilience and coastal development and 5 optimize its approach to multilateralism The Maritimes [text (large Print)] : Tradition, Challenge & Change MacGregor, Carolyn, Peabody, George, Richard Gregory Thorne, 1987 Women's Changing the province or territory during the last century Global Challenges in Maritime Security Lisa Otto, Anja Menzel, 2024-10-22 Achieving sustainability is perhaps the single most important task for our generation In the face of a looming climate disaster calls for the sustainable use of the world's resources are getting louder As the sea covers more than 70 per cent of the earth's surface this holds even more true for the use of ocean resources Despite its vastness the sea has often been a securitised and politicised space where the concepts of sustainability and security meet at sea in the form of a myriad of important contemporary issues In this volume we set out the intersection between sustainability and security alongside the security development nexus and examine these issues under four dimensions of security economic security ecological security human security and traditional security Within sections dedicated to each of these we explore both theory and practice by offering cases alongside a conceptual discussion and in so doing cover topics ranging from the Blue Economy and the net zero agenda to natural disasters and climate change from food security and the future of Small Island Developing States to the geopolitics of the Arctic This book takes a bird's eye view connecting the dots between these issues of security and sustainability and ending with scenarios for the future with policy making in mind This volume presents a timely and compelling argument that policymakers and scholars need to come to terms with the intersection of sustainability and security at sea The editors detail a clear and insightful conceptual approach for grasping the simultaneity and interplay of security and sustainability concerns that will give inspiration to further research in the field Chapter contributors convincingly illustrate aspects of this approach across regions scales and sites of political engagement from port cities to the UN A must read for students researchers and practitioners of ocean politics Elana Wilson Rowe Research Professor at the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs NUPI Too often issues of security and sustainability at sea have been studied in narrow terms This volume makes a critical contribution to the literature by unpacking the interconnections and interdependence between these two vitally important issues Robert McCabe Assistant Professor and Director of the MA Maritime Security Programme at Coventry University In this timely publication an international set of contributors portray a rich array of views on the oceans security and sustainability for the reader Of particular value is how the security sustainability nexus runs through the chapters to emphasise the ever growing importance and relevance of this interplay Francois Vre Professor Emeritus of Military Science and Research Coordinator at the Security Institute for Governance and Leadership in Africa SIGLA Stellenbosch University The Atlantic Provinces in Confederation E.
