forty one chapters including forty two discourses even when looked in casually provide us with unexpected insights and various perspectives Sh ichi Saeki 1922 2016 was Professor Emeritus the University of Tokyo T ru Haga 1931 2020 was Professor Emeritus International Research Center for Japanese Studies

The Culture of Copying in Japan Rupert Cox, 2007-09-12 This book challenges the perception of Japan as a copying culture through a series of detailed ethnographic and historical case studies It addresses a question about why the West has had such a fascination for the adeptness with which the Japanese apparently assimilate all things foreign and at the same time such a fear of their skill at artificially remaking and automating the world around them Countering the idea of a Japan that deviously or ingenuously copies others it elucidates the history of creative exchanges with the outside world and the particular myths philosophies and concepts which are emblematic of the origins and originality of copying in Japan The volume demonstrates the diversity and creativity of copying in the Japanese context through the translation of a series of otherwise loosely related ideas and concepts into objects images texts and practices of reproduction which include shamanic theatre puppetry tea utensils Kyoto town houses architectural models genres of painting calligraphy and poetry sample food displays and the fashion and car industries
