Situated Utterances:

Situated Utterances Harry Berger, 2005 In Situated Utterances Berger designs an analytical model of New Criticism shows how it was dismantled after the Second World War and demonstrates practice in studies of specific works The scope of the practice is broadened to the connection between cultural representations and institutional change Plato's dialogues are also covered

Approaching Dialogue Per Linell, 1998 Approaching Dialogue has its primary focus on the theoretical understanding and empirical analysis of talk in interaction It deals with conversation in general as well as talk within institutions against a backdrop of Conversation Analysis context based discourse analysis social pragmatics socio cultural theory and interdisciplinary dialogue analysis People's communicative projects and the structures and functions of talk in interaction are analyzed from the most local sequences to the comprehensive communicative activity types and genres A second aim of the book is to explore the possibilities and limitations of dialogism as a general epistemology for cognition and communication On this point it portrays the dialogical approach as a major alternative to the mainstream theories of cognition as individually based information processing communication as information transfer and language as a code Stressing aspects of interaction joint construction and cultural embeddedness and drawing upon extensive theoretical and empirical research carried out in different traditions this book aims at an integrating synthesis It is largely interdisciplinary in nature and has been written in such a way that it can be used at advanced undergraduate courses in linguistics sociopragmatics of language communication studies sociology social psychology and cognitive science About the author Per Linell holds a Ph D in linguistics and has been professor within the interdisciplinary graduate program of Communication Studies at the University of Linköping Sweden since 1981 He has published widely in the fields of discourse studies and social pragmatics of language

Meaning, Language, and Time Kevin J. The Study of Speech Processes Victor J.

Boucher, 2021-01-21 There has been a longstanding bias in the study of spoken language towards using writing to analyse speech This approach is problematic in that it assumes language to be derived from an autonomous mental capacity to assemble words into sentences while failing to acknowledge culture specific ideas linked to writing Words and sentences are writing constructs that hardly capture the sound making actions involved in spoken language This book brings to light research that has long revealed structures present in all languages but which do not match the writing induced concepts of traditional linguistic analysis It demonstrates that language processes are not physiologically autonomous and that speech structures are structures of spoken language It then illustrates how speech acts can be studied using instrumental records and how multisensory experiences in semantic memory couple to these acts offering a biologically grounded understanding of how spoken language conveys meaning and why it develops only in humans
