Social Work Practice With The Elderly:

Social Work with the Aging Carol H. Meyer, 1986

Social Work Practice with Older People Rory Lynch, 2014

Older people are the biggest service user group for social workers and an increasing portion of the population. In this refreshingly positive and practical textbook, Rory Lynch draws on years of practice and teaching experience to show how to achieve best social work practice with older adults. He takes a person-centred approach which fosters respect by valuing the fact that elderly people have more lived experience than others. Exploring the key theoretical approaches and methods of intervention, this book helps social workers to identify, understand and facilitate their service users' wishes for wellbeing and a fulfilling older age. Chapters are practice-driven, containing case studies drawn from a range of care settings, reflective questions and exercises. Mapping directly onto the key modules on the social work degree, this is Gerontological Social Work Practice Enid Opal Cox, Rosemary Chapin, Elizabeth Kelchner, 2014-02-25. What are the challenges facing gerontological social workers today and in the near future? This book gives you an essential overview of the role, status and potential of gerontological social work in aging societies around the world. Drawing on the expertise of leaders in the field, it identifies key policy and practice issues and suggests directions for the future. Here you will find important perspectives on home health care, mental health, elder abuse, older workers, issues and death and dying, as well as an examination of the policy and practice issues of utmost concern to social workers dealing with the elderly. With Gerontological Social Work Practice: Issues, Challenges and Potential, you will explore the differences between real situations and what demographics lead one to expect; the need for social workers to focus on economic, political and social issues in order to promote positive change; the long-term care insurance issues facing elderly Japanese citizens; a Canadian perspective on social work practice with aging people; practice techniques to use with aging African Americans; strengths-based and empowerment-oriented ways to work with frail elderly; the impact of multiculturalism on social policy; and much more.

Social Work Practice with the Elderly Marvin David Feit, Michael J. Holosko, 2004. The third edition describes significant practice issues and challenges facing gerontological social workers working with the fastest growing demographic cohort in North America. Insightful and creative practitioners provide current accounts and case examples from their work in a variety of settings. The material includes both micro and macro practice and offers a focus on advanced specialty practice while also providing an advanced generalist model. All the chapters have been rewritten and updated by adding related additional readings and websites. Six new chapters have been added on sensory impairment, HIV/AIDS, elder abuse, community-assisted living, rural elderly retirement and volunteerism. Social Work Practice with the Elderly offers an exciting collection of well-crafted readings and will be useful for any social work student at the undergraduate or graduate level. It will also be a valuable resource for those in other helping professions who work side by side with social workers in this field: nurses, physiotherapists, music and art therapists, psychologists, physicians, recreational therapists, speech and language therapists, and clergy.

Empowerment-oriented

Social Work Practice with the Elderly Enid Opal Cox, Ruth J. Parsons, 1994 Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Barbara Berkman, 2006-02-09 The Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging is the first reference to combine the fields of health care aging and social work in a single authoritative volume These areas are too often treated as discrete entities while the reality is that all social workers deal with issues in health and aging on a daily basis regardless of practice specialization As the baby boomers age the impact on practice in health and aging will be dramatic and social workers need more specialized knowledge about aging health care and the resources available to best serve older adults and their families The volume s 102 original chapters and 13 overviews written by the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars in the United States and across the world provide social work practitioners and educators with up to date knowledge of evidence based practice guidelines for effectively assessing and treating older adults and their families new models for intervention in both community based practice and institutional care and knowledge of significant policy and research issues in health and aging A truly monumental resource this handbook represents the best research on health and aging available to social workers today Social Work with the Aged and Their Families Roberta R. Religion, Spirituality, and Aging Harry R Moody, 2012-12-06

Learn how to make a more positive impact with your social work with the aged Religion is an important coping mechanism for many aging adults Religion Spirituality and Aging A Social Work Perspective presents the latest research that shows how religion and spirituality can improve quality of life for elders Respected social work researchers and scholars provide insight and practical methods for fostering positive aging while also considering how spirituality and religion can affect practitioners themselves The full range of advantages and ethical implications are discussed in clear detail from a social work viewpoint

Case studies plainly illustrate the positive impact that the inclusion of spirituality and religion in an aging person's life may have on their physical and mental welfare. Organized social work in the early twentieth century actively tried to distance itself from its roots as a form of religious charity in favor of becoming a scientific and professional endeavor. Religion, Spirituality, and Aging once again bridges the gap between social work and spiritual matters by presenting penetrating articles that discuss the issues of the aging soul while examining ways to improve care. Creative strategies are offered to contribute to the spiritual side of aging while considering every implication and ethical question. The compilation is extensively referenced and includes helpful figures and tables to clearly illustrate data and ideas. Religion, Spirituality, and Aging discusses the latest social work trends and attitudes toward spirituality, prayer, meditation, and acts of altruism as interventions; an empirical study of how social workers use religion and spirituality as an intervention; ethical considerations and best practices; religion and spirituality during long-term care; the Postcards to God project; dreams and their relationship to the search for meaning in later life; a spiritual approach to positive aging through autobiography; dementia and spirituality; creating new rituals for sacred aging; spiritual master Henri Nouwen's principles of aging; and his approaches to caring for older people; an interview study on elders' spirituality and the changes manifested in their views of religion. Religion, Spirituality, and Aging is a remarkable reminder that elders are our future selves. This erudite, well-reasoned examination of aging and spirituality from a social work perspective is crucial reading for social workers, human service professionals who work with the aged, and gerontology scholars.

Critical Issues in Social Work With Older People Mo G. Ray, Miriam Bernard, Judith Phillips, 2018-06-26

This timely text highlights the importance of informed and critical practice in social work with older people. With an emphasis on reflection throughout, it argues for the need to rethink how social workers support some of the most vulnerable people in society. The text begins with an exploration of the relationship between gerontology, the study of aging, and social work and demonstrates that a gerontological approach has long been missing from social work practice. The central chapters consider key issues affecting older people and social work practice such as Risk of poverty, Memory loss and dementia, Palliative and end of life care, Loss and bereavement, Moving into a care home, Bringing together theoretical and research insights. This agenda-setting text provides a sound base for creative practice with older people. All those looking to make a positive and discernible difference to older people will find this text rewarding reading.
