Social Worlds Of Sentencing:

Social Worlds of Sentencing Jeffery T. Ulmer, 1997-07-31 Combines quantitative and qualitative data in a careful investigation of sentencing processes and context under Pennsylvania's sentencing guidelines Criminal Case Dispositions through Pleas in Greater China Enshen Li, Xiaoyu Yuan, Yan Zhang, 2024-06-24 This book investigates the policy implications discursive ethos and practical realities of plea based case dispositions in the criminal justice system of four Chinese speaking jurisdictions including Mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and Macau It aims to provide fresh and cutting edge insights into important legal social and cultural issues found throughout plea based case dispositions in Greater China but in a geographically specific manner providing an in depth view of issues that can help forge connections and inspire creative solutions for scholars gaining understanding of common problems across the societies in question The book includes an introduction and conclusion with 9 chapters Based on a diverse range of first hand data and secondary sources of information topics covered in the chapters represent multiangle perspectives and analysis that help to construct a sophisticated intricate and evidence based portrait of locally informed approaches to case disposition through pleas in Chinese speaking societies Criminal Justice John R. Fuller, 2013 Criminal Justice Mainstream and Crosscurrents uses a distinctive crosscurrents theme to teach students about the complexities of the criminal justice system and help them think critically about critical issues Introduction to Criminal Justice Bradley D. Edwards, Lawrence F. Travis III, 2015-05-20 This student friendly introductory text describes the criminal justice process outlining the decisions practices people and issues involved It provides a solid introduction to the mechanisms of the criminal justice system with balanced coverage of the issues presented by each facet of the process including a thorough review of practices and controversies in law enforcement the criminal courts and corrections Transforming Criminal Justice Jon B. Gould, Pamela R. Metzger, 2022-12-06 America's criminal justice system requires reform but those efforts too often rest on anecdotes or assumptions Drawing on the contributions of America's top justice researchers this compendium provides an evidence based blueprint to guide the movement toward criminal justice reform Introduction to Criminal Justice Lawrence Travis III, 2017-10-23 This student friendly introductory core text describes the criminal justice process in the United States outlining the decisions practices people and issues involved It provides a solid introduction to the mechanisms of the criminal justice system with balanced coverage of the issues presented by each facet of the process including a thorough review of practices and controversies in law enforcement the criminal courts and corrections Trial by Treatment Mary Ellen Stitt, 2025-05-20 A troubling account of the unexpected impacts of treatment based alternatives to criminal punishment Every year courts send hundreds of thousands of people to treatment based programs as alternatives to traditional punishment These alternatives known as diversion programs are widely celebrated as reforms that reduce the punishment of the mentally ill But in Trial by Treatment Mary Ellen Stitt shows that they have in fact expanded the reach of the criminal legal system and its power over the lives of the most vulnerable The inner workings of diversion programs are obscure partially by design and data on outcomes is hard to come by Stitt draws on two years of fieldwork in criminal courtrooms and court mandated treatment sessions as well as an original national dataset in depth interviews and experimental survey data to document the hidden impacts of diversion She shows that placing mental healthcare under the control of the courts has helped to legitimize the criminalization of illness warped treatment environments and amplified inequalities in punishment In vivid and humanizing detail Trial by Treatment shows how reforms that keep power and discretion in the same hands can entrench the very problems they promised to solve Criminal Courts Craig Hemmens, David C. Brody, Cassia Spohn, 2019-02-04

Written by three nationally recognized experts in the field Criminal Courts A Contemporary Perspective explores all the fundamental topics court structure courtroom actors and the trial and appeals process as well as other ground breaking topics such as specialty courts and comparative court systems This bestseller provides you with a foundation for understanding key concepts by reviewing the judicial function the role and purpose of law sources of law the various types of law and the American court system s structure and operations You will build on this foundation by learning about participants in the system and the pretrial trial and post trial processes Packed with contemporary examples and new pedagogical tools the Fourth Edition has been thoroughly revised with the most up to date content and resources to give you a more comprehensive understanding of the criminal courts system Selective Incapacitation and Public Policy Kathleen Auerhahn, 2003-10-09

Using cutting edge methodologies this book evaluates California s measures to protect the public from dangerous criminals Race and Ethnicity in the Juvenile and Criminal Justice Systems Jennifer H Peck, 2018-11-07 Over the last few decades the racial and ethnic composition of the United States has changed dramatically This seismic transformation has important implications for theory research policy and public opinion perhaps most crucially around the topic of race ethnicity and our justice systems Recent national events from Ferguson to ferocious public debate about racism to media depictions of police violence have reawakened the tense question of race relations in the 21st century This edited collection of research aims to highlight contemporary issues surrounding the overrepresentation of racial and ethnic minorities throughout both the juvenile and adult criminal justice systems Our contributors cover both formal sources of social control e g police courts correction facilities and perceptions and public opinions of the relationship between race ethnicity and offending behaviors As the intellectual sphere ignites with fresh debate old questions redefined and new ones asked this publication provides innovative insight into how race and ethnicity interconnect with all aspects of criminology and criminal justice Furthermore it helps encourage directions for future research practice and public policy This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Crime and Justice Routledge Handbook on American Prisons

Laurie A. Gould, John J. Brent, 2020-11-01 The Routledge Handbook on American Prisons is an authoritative volume that provides an overview of the state of U S prisons and synthesizes the research on the many facets of the prison system The United States is exceptional in its use of incarceration as punishment. It not only has the largest prison population in the world but also the highest per capita incarceration rate. Research and debate about mass incarceration continues to grow with mounting bipartisan agreement on the need for criminal justice reform. Divided into four sections: Prisons, Security Operations and Administration, Types of Offenders and Populations, Living and Dying in Prison, and Release, Reentry, and Reform, the volume explores the key issues fundamental to understanding the U.S. prison system, including the characteristics of facilities, inmate risk assessment and classification, prison administration and employment for profit, prisons special populations, overcrowding, prison health care, prison violence, the special circumstances of death row prisoners, collateral consequences of incarceration, prison programming and parole. The final section examines reform efforts and ideas and offers suggestions for future research and attention. With contributions from leading correctional scholars, this book is a valuable resource for scholars with an interest in U.S. prisons and the issues surrounding them. It is structured to serve scholars and graduate students studying corrections, penology, institutional corrections, and other related topics.

How Do Judges Decide? Cassia Spohn, 2002-01-28. The appropriate amount of punishment for a given crime is an issue that has been debated by scholars, philosophers, and legal professionals since the beginning of civilizations. This book seeks to address this issue in all of its complexity by providing a comprehensive overview of the sentencing process in the United States. The book begins by discussing the overall concept of punishment and then proceeds to dissect individual aspects of punishment. Topics include the sentencing process, responsibility of the judge, disparity and discrimination in sentencing, and sentencing reform. This book is an ideal text for introductory courses on the judicial system, criminal law, law and society. It can be an essential resource to help students understand patterns in the wide discretion and latitude given to judges when determining punishments within the framework of the United States judicial system.

Judging Juveniles Aaron Kupchik, 2006-11-20. 2007 Ruth Shonle Cavan Young Scholar Award presented by the American Society of Criminology. 2007 American Society of Criminology Michael J. Hindelang Award for the Most Outstanding Contribution to Research in Criminology. By comparing how adolescents are prosecuted and punished in juvenile and criminal adult courts, Aaron Kupchik finds that prosecuting adolescents in criminal court does not fit with our cultural understandings of youthfulness. As a result, adolescents who are transferred to criminal courts are still judged as juveniles. Ultimately, Kupchik makes a compelling argument for the suitability of juvenile courts in treating adolescents. Judging Juveniles suggests that justice would be better served if adolescents were handled by the system designed to address their special needs.

Psychology and Law Andreas Kapardis, 2014-02-10. Now in its fourth edition, Psychology and Law is a comprehensive guide to the complex interactions between psychology and criminal law. Andreas Kapardis explores contemporary psycho-legal issues both in and out of the courtroom, from eyewitness testimony, investigative interviewing, jury decision making, and sentencing as a human process to restorative justice, terrorism, police prejudice, and offender profiling. The book draws upon sources from Europe, North America and Australia to investigate the subjectivity and human fallibility inherent in our systems of justice It suggests ways of minimising undesirable influences on judicial decision making and discusses procedures for dealing with witnesses and suspects Fully revised and with greater emphasis on relevant law Psychology and Law remains the leading text on legal psychology for students and practitioners in psychology law criminology social work and law enforcement Sentencing Without Guidelines Rhys Hester, 2024-06-07 This book looks to the case of South Carolina to show how its attempt to achieve sentencing uniformity through guidelines reform was successfully resisted by South Carolina judges but how other mechanisms arose to ensure fair expectations in criminal sentencing there nonetheless Handbook on Sentencing Policies and Practices in the 21st Century Cassia Spohn, Pauline Brennan, 2019-06-14 Sentencing Policies and Practices in the 21st Century focuses on the evolution and consequences of sentencing policies and practices with sentencing broadly defined to include plea bargaining judicial and juror decision making and alternatives to incarceration including participation in problem solving courts This collection of essays and reports of original research explores how sentencing policies and practices both in the United States and internationally have evolved explores important issues raised by guideline and non guideline sentencing and provides an overview of recent research on plea bargaining in the United States Australia and the United Kingdom Other topics include the role of criminal history in sentencing the past and future of capital punishment strategies for reducing mass incarceration problem solving courts and restorative justice practices Each chapter summarizes what is known identifies the gaps in the research and discusses the theoretical empirical and policy implications of the research findings The volume is grounded in current knowledge about the specific topics but also presents new material that reflects the thinking of the leading minds in the field and that outlines a research agenda for the future This is Volume 4 of the American Society of Criminology's Division on Corrections and Sentencing handbook series Previous volumes focused on risk assessment disparities in punishment and the consequences of punishment decisions The handbooks provide a comprehensive overview of these topics for scholars students practitioners and policymakers Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2017-03-02 Combining the latest work of leading sentencing and punishment scholars from twelve different countries this major new international volume answers key questions in the study of sentencing and society It presents not only a rigorous examination of the latest legal and empirical research from around the world but also reveals the workings of sentencing within society and as a social practice Traditionally work in the field of sentencing has been dominated by legal and philosophical approaches Distinctively this volume provides a more sociological approach to sentencing so allowing previously unanswered questions to be addressed and new questions to be opened This extensive collection is drawn from around one third of the papers presented at the First International Conference on Sentencing and Society Almost without exception the chapters have been revised cross referenced and updated The overall themes and findings of the international volume are set out by the opening Introduction and the closing Reflections chapters Research findings on particular penal policy questions are balanced with an analysis of fundamental conceptual issues making this international volume essential reading for sentencing and punishment scholars criminal justice policy makers and graduate students

A Study of Liberation Discourse Roberto Rivera, 2004 This book counters postmodernist critiques of liberation discourses by drawing on the contributions to hermeneutics made by Paul Ricoeur and Jürgen Habermas Ultimately its defense of liberation discourses relies on the concept of transculturation as developed by Fernando Ortiz A Study of Liberation Discourse extends this concept in the light of contributions to the theory of ideology by such authors as Valentin Volosinov Michel Pecheux Terry Eagleton and Norman Fairclough

Courts Cassia Spohn, Craig Hemmens, 2009 Courts A Text Reader provides the best of both worlds authored text Sections with carefully selected accompanying Readings that illustrate the questions and controversies legal scholars and court researchers are investigating in the 21st century The articles from leading journals in criminology and criminal justice reflect both classic studies of the criminal court system and state of the art research and often have a policy perspective that makes them more applied less theoretical and more interesting to both undergraduate and graduate students This unique Text Reader is primarily intended for undergraduate and graduate courses on the criminal court system and or judicial processes

Handbook on Punishment Decisions Jeffery T. Ulmer, Mindy S. Bradley, 2017-10-16 Handbook on Punishment Decisions Locations of Disparity provides a comprehensive assessment of the current knowledge on sites of disparity in punishment decision making This collection of essays and reports of original research defines disparity broadly to include the intersection of race ethnicity gender age citizenship immigration status and socioeconomic status and it examines dimensions such as how pretrial or guilty plea processes shape exposure to punishment how different types of sentencing decisions and or policy structures sentencing guidelines mandatory minimums risk assessment tools might shape and condition disparity and how post sentencing decisions involving probation and parole contribute to inequalities The sixteen contributions pull together what we know and what we don't about punishment decision making and plow new ground for further advances in the field The ASC Division on Corrections Sentencing Handbook Series publishes volumes on topics ranging from violence risk assessment to specialty courts for drug users veterans or people with mental illness Each thematic volume focuses on a single topical issue that intersects with corrections and sentencing research

The Top Books of the Year Social Worlds Of Sentencing The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Social Worlds Of Sentencing : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Social Worlds Of Sentencing : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
