Setting of the Gospel Tradition Mark Harding, Alanna Nobbs, 2010-10-22 Editors Mark Harding and Alanna Nobbs have here brought together the internationally recognized scholarly excellence of Macquarie University faculty and associates to provide a major contribution to the study of the content and environment of the New Testament Gospels Few books in current New Testament scholarship seriously tackle its social setting and textual tradition beyond a chapter or two The Content and Setting of the Gospel Tradition integrates the texts with the literary social and historical context in which they were written Paul and the Gospels Michael F. Bird, Joel Willits, 2013-05-01 This volume which collects together the work of several established scholars attempts to situate the Apostle Paul the Pauline writings and the earliest Christian Gospels together in the context of early Christianity It addresses the issue of how the Christianity depicted in and represented by the individual Gospels relates to the vision of Christianity represented by Paul and the Pauline writings This raises such questions as to what extent did Paul influence the canonical and non canonical Gospels In what way are the Gospels reactions to Paul and his legacy A comparison of the Gospels and Paul on topics such as Old Testament Law Gentile mission Christology and early church leadership structures represents a fruitful area of study While a number of volumes have appeared that attempt to assess the relationship between the historical Jesus and the Apostle Paul relatively few studies on Paul and the Gospels have been published This volume excellently fills this gap in New Testament Studies and makes a valuable contribution to studies on Christian Origins Pauline research and the Gospels The Historical Reliability of the Gospels Craig L. Blomberg, 2014-05-06 For over twenty years Craig Blomberg s The Historical Reliability of the Gospels has provided a useful antidote to many of the toxic effects of skeptical criticism of the Gospels He offers an overview of the history of Gospel criticism Thoroughly updated edition with added footnotes and two new appendixes Credit and Usury in Jewish Society in the Mishnah and Talmud Ben Zion Rosenfeld, 2023-12-05 Credit is the oxygen of every society In many cases we wonder why the rabbis prohibit certain business credit transactions considering them usury The writer uses literary and epigraphic sources to decipher the rabbinic approach This book shows how rabbinic legislation innovatively expand the Torah prohibition of usury in loans to all fields of credit It is a pioneering inquiry regarding rabbinic literature compiled under Roman and Sasanid rule helping to fill the void in research concerning credit It also distinguishes various kinds of credit differentiating credit of money for money or products exposing the ramifications of the rabbinic legislation How to Read the Gospels Yung Suk Kim, 2024-05-29 This accessible introduction to the Gospels examines the distinctive messages offered by the texts giving students a better understanding of methods and interpretations It explores a close reading of each Gospel and encourages students to approach texts from their own perspectives from postcolonialism to environmentalism The discussion questions included will help students focus their reflections on the gospel narrative its theology and methods of reading it How to Read the Gospels is an ideal textbook for undergraduate and seminary classrooms The book aims to reach seminary and graduate students who study the Gospels critically and comprehensively It provides user friendly summaries such as the basics of each Gospel authorship history important parables etc the Jesus of each Gospel and notable interpretation and translation issues Without reading the entire story readers often focus on only specific passages This book aims to foster close reading of each entire text sensitizing students to historical and literary issues that commonly arise and helping them better understand various ways to interpret these formative stories What makes this book unique is that it also engages various readings of the Gospels from traditional to deconstruction approaches including womanist interpretation disability interpretation ecological interpretation and many more For example how can readers understand the story of Jesus surprising conversation with the Samaritan woman in John 4 through the lens of feminism Or postcolonial criticism By providing alternative ways to think about these stories and various methods of approaching texts that may be new to the

Apocalyptic Imagination in the Gospel of Mark Elizabeth E. Shively, 2012-08-31 This narrative study uses Mark 3 22 30 as an interpretive lens to show that the Gospel of Mark has a thoroughly apocalyptic outlook That is Mark 3 22 30 constructs a symbolic world that shapes the Gospel's literary and theological logic Mark utilizes apocalyptic discourse portraying the Spirit filled Jesus in a struggle against Satan to establish the kingdom of God by liberating people to form a community that does God's will This discourse develops throughout the narrative by means of repetition and variation functioning rhetorically to persuade the reader that God manifests power out of suffering rejection and death This book fits among literary studies that focus on Mark as a unified narrative and rhetorical composition and uses narrative analysis as a key tool While narrative approaches to Mark generally offer non apocalyptic readings this study clarifies the symbols metaphors and themes of Mark 3 22 30 in light of the religious and social context in which the Gospel was produced in order to understand Mark's persuasive aims towards the reader Accordingly a comparative analysis of Jewish apocalyptic literature informs the use of Mark 3 22 30 as a paradigm for the Gospel

The Johannine Gospel's Concept of Community Godibert Kelly Gharbin, 2025-05-27 The Johannine Gospel's Concept of Community takes an interdisciplinary approach to contextualizing the New Testament in an African milieu which helps Johannine scholarship intersect with Akan anthropology and sociology through a tripartite frame of interpretation a narratological analysis of community oriented narratives in John the exegesis of the Akan concept of community encapsulated in their proverbial lore the anthology of inestimable information about the Akan conceptualization of communitarianism and an engagement between the two conceptual schemes through an intercultural reading The methodological principles utilized foster a cross pollination of ideas between the Johannine characterization of a community of God and the community concept present in Akan maxims This allows the Akan concept of communitarianism to enrich the reader's understanding of the text It also allows John's theology of community revealed in what Jesus epitomizes prescribes and proscribes for the believing community to serve as a form of discernible evaluation for Akan and other believers on the modus vivendi redolent of a believing community In the end it forces a redefinition of community replacing the anthropocentric individualistic and acquisitive elements that have typified the human community with a theocentric and authentically collectivist approach

The Theology of the Gospel of Luke Joel B. Green, 1995-04-20 The Gospel of Luke often mined for information about the life of Jesus is also one of the earliest Christian examples of narrative theology Unlike some writers of New Testament books Luke has engaged in the theological task by shaping a narrative representation of the coming and mission of Jesus In doing so he goes to great lengths to ground the work of Jesus in the continuing story of God's redemptive plan especially witnessed in the Scriptures and he also emphasises the ongoing character of that story with the result that Luke's audience is challenged to discern the purpose of God in order that they may embrace it and order their lives around it This exploration of the way in which Luke accomplishes his theological task in the first century is both informative and illuminating for contemporary readers seeking approaches to cultural criticism and constructive theology today
