Action Jürgen Habermas, 2015-10-07 Here for the first time in English is volume one of Jürgen Habermas's long awaited magnum opus The Theory of Communicative Action. This pathbreaking work is guided by three interrelated concerns: 1 to develop a concept of communicative rationality that is no longer tied to the subjective and individualistic premises of modern social and political theory; 2 to construct a two level concept of society that integrates the lifeworld and system paradigms; and 3 to sketch out a critical theory of modernity that explains its sociopathologies in a new way. Habermas approaches these tasks through a combination of conceptual analyses, systematic reflections and critical reconstructions of such predecessors as Marx and Weber, Durkheim and Mead, Horkheimer and Adorno, Schutz and Parsons. Reason and the Rationalization of Society develops a sociological theory of action that stresses not its means ends or teleological aspect but the need to coordinate action socially via communication. In the introductory chapter Habermas sets out a powerful series of arguments on such foundational issues as cultural and historical relativism, the methodology of Verstehen, the inseparability of interpretation from critique. In addition to clarifying the normative foundations of critical social inquiry, this sets the stage for a systematic appropriation of Weber's theory of rationalization and its Marxist reception by Lukács, Horkheimer and Adorno. This is an important book for degree students of philosophy, sociology and related subjects. TEExES Core Subjects 4-8 \(211\)

Family Ties and Psychosocial Processes in an Ageing Society Alejandro Klein, 2024-05-10 This book contributes to the discussion on the ageing society by addressing the new psycho-social structures of the ageing society, the problems around family bonds and ties and the structures of care and protection. The book sheds light on the new roles of grandparents and new grandparents and the empowerment and resilience initiatives, thereby providing a broad discussion of what the ageing society implies in psychosocial terms. These issues are addressed in an interdisciplinary way but also in an approach that is also rare: comparing different realities between Europe and Latin America. The basis of the English translation of this book from its Spanish original manuscript was done with the help of artificial intelligence. A subsequent human revision of the content was done by the author.

Economics as a Social Science Raimund Dietz, 2024-09-30 This book explores the separation of economics from the social sciences Raimund Dietz attributes this development to the adoption of a too narrow instrumentalist perspective and demonstrates how close the mainstream is to the idea of a socialist planned economy despite all its liberal phraseology The book attempts to comprehensively reconstruct economics as catallactics explicitly including and assigning a central role to liberal forms of socialization such as exchange and money an approach that it argues is the only way to overcome the methodological deficits of the mainstream It allows monetary theory to be integrated into economic theory Further the book shows that modern societies have no choice but to organize themselves as capitalist market economies For good economic reasons money has lost its physical value over the course of time and is now merely symbolic As a result the importance of the state has also grown The author proposes that the power to create money should be consistently placed in the hands of the central bank The book offers a transformative perspective that addresses the urgent need for sustainable resource management worldwide It invites social scientists policymakers and especially economists to rethink economics and pursue a holistic approach to a more sustainable future Rationality and the Environment Bo

Elling,2012-05-04 Environmental assessment and management involve the production of scientific knowledge and its use in decision making processes The result is that within these essentially rational political assessment frameworks experts are creating and applying scientific knowledge for decision and management purposes that actually have strong ethical and aesthetic dimensions Yet these rational political frameworks lack the tools to provide guidance on ethical and aesthetic issues that affect the wider public This revolutionary work argues that ethical and aesthetic dimensions can only be brought into environmental politics and policies by citizens actively taking a stand on the specific matters in question The author draws on Habermas trisection of rationality as cognitive instrumental moral practical and aesthetic expressive to suggest that truly effective environmental policy needs to activate all three approaches and not favour only the rational To achieve this objective the author argues that public participation in environmental policy and assessment is necessary to counteract the dictatorship of technical and economic instrumentality in environmental policy the failure to take ethical and aesthetic rationalities into account and more importantly how such policy is applied on the ground to shape our natural and material world
