Hirst, 1976 Radical Issues in Criminology Pat Carlen, Mike Collison, 1980-01-01 This collection of essays deals with central issues relating to the rule of law individual rights and the politics of penal reform The issues examined include juvenile justice criminal violence feminism and criminology civil liberties police powers justice in prisons and the necessity for social life to be regulated by law The emphasis throughout is upon specific concrete problems and the formulation of possible solutions In marked contrast to many radical criminologists who have fashioned utopian visions of a socialist society untroubled by problems of social regulation each contributor to this book focuses sharply upon tangible problems and workable alternatives By eschewing global theories of either crime or law and by avoiding generalized radical recipes for change these essays provide an important counter balance to recent libertarian anarchistic and utopian trends in modern criminology

Domination and Power Peter Miller, 2019-11-21 First published in 1987 Our understanding of the nature of power in western societies is currently undergoing a major reassessment The significance of this reassessment emerges forcefully through comparing the writings of the principal exponents of Critical Theory Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and Jürgen Habermas with those of Michel Foucault Peter Miller suggests that these two traditions embody fundamentally distinct philosophical and sociological principles He grounds his analysis in the concepts of domination Critical Theory and power Foucault Miller identifies the notion of subjectivity as central to a differentiation of the respective approaches of Critical Theory and Foucault For Critical Theory it is the repression of subjectivity which provides the evidence of domination and the rationale for its critique while for Foucault subjectivity in western societies is fabricated through power and linked to the deployment of specific knowledges Miller shows that despite the achievements of Critical Theory in bringing to light the repressive nature of advanced industrial societies its thinking is inadequate as a basis for future analysis and critique He argues that Foucault's genealogy of the modern subject which highlights the role of the human sciences in its fabrication is a more fruitful basis for charting and investigating the mode of operation of contemporary forms of power The book includes a survey of all published works by Foucault up to the time of his death in 1984 and commentaries on the writings of Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and Jürgen Habermas

The Future of Post-Human Engineering Peter Baofu,2009-03-26 Why should mass media be informational and accurate as much as its proponents would claim and conversely disinformational and propagandistic as much as its critics would argue Contrary to the conventional wisdom held by many since the modern era of mass media neither of the two opposing views is correct to the extent that a total analysis of media influence has yet to be adequately explored and understood Something fundamentally vital to the analysis of communication has been missing This is not to say however that the literature on media studies hitherto existing in history has been much ado about nothing on the contrary indeed much can be learned from different theoretical approaches in the field But the important point to remember here is that this book aims to show an alternative better way to understand the nature of mass media which goes beyond both the pros and cons in the literature on media influence while learning from them all If true this seminal view will alter the way of how mass media are to be understood with its enormous theoretical implications for going beyond the existing paradigms on the future of communication in a small sense and for predicting the future of open and closed societies in a large sense
