Bolster,1976 Brief Authority Charles Innes Meek,2011-06-01 Charles Innes Meek s account of his twenty years in Tanganyika now Tanzania goes to the heart of British colonial rule at the end of empire The story begins with his arrival in the former German colony during the dark days of World War II He describes the challenges of living in a peasant community in a remote colony in war time and of life among a remarkable cast of frontier characters hunters mining magnates and farmers and working with his individualistic and even eccentric colleagues Cheap efficient and just administration were the watchwords of British Colonial Service With his colleagues Meek was absorbed in the daily work of a Colonial Officer building roads and bridges improving agriculture keeping the peace and administering justice By the late 1940s however the drive towards nationalism had gained pace There were experiments with forms of indirect rule with local tribal leaders but all was suddenly overtaken by the momentum of the independence movement and in 1957 Meek was moved from his beloved district administration to Dar es Salaam Here he was embroiled in the fast moving events leading to decolonization He worked with the last Governor Sir Richard Turnbull as Permanent Secretary to the Chief Minister and later as Head of the Civil Service He collaborated deeply with Julius Nyerere the Chief Minister and Meek provides a sympathetic and intimate portrait of the magnetic personality of this most charismatic and respected of African leaders a moving story of friendship and mutual respect Brief Authority is a fascinating story for all readers interested in the inside story of the British Colonial service at the end of empire dramatic moving and full of human interest

Eye of Newt and Toe of Frog, Adder's Fork and Lizard's Leg Marty Crump, 2015-11-16 From celebrated herpetologist and science writer Marty Crump a beautifully illustrated exploration of the interlinked stories of herp folklore natural history and conservation Frogs are worshipped for bringing nourishing rains but blamed for devastating floods Turtles are admired for their wisdom and longevity but ridiculed for their sluggish and cowardly behavior Snakes are respected for their ability to heal and restore life but despised as symbols of evil Lizards are revered as beneficent guardian spirits but feared as the Devil himself In this ode to toads and snakes newts and tuatara crocodiles and tortoises herpetologist and science writer Marty Crump explores folklore across the world and throughout time From creation myths to trickster tales from associations with fertility and rebirth to fire and rain and from the use of herps in folk medicines and magic as food pets and gods to their roles in literature visual art music and dance Crump reveals both our love and hatred of amphibians and reptiles and their perceived power In a world where we keep home terrariums at the same time that we battle invasive cane toads and where public attitudes often dictate that the cute and cuddly receive conservation priority over the slimy and venomous she shows how our complex and conflicting perceptions threaten the conservation of these ecologically vital animals Sumptuously illustrated Eye of Newt and Toe of Frog Adder's Fork and Lizard's Leg is a beautiful and enthralling brew of natural history and folklore sobering science and humor that leaves us with one irrefutable lesson love herps Warts scales and all
