

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a mountain landscape. A steep, green mountain slope rises from the bottom left towards the center. A prominent, light-colored rocky ridge runs diagonally across the upper right portion of the image. The sky above is a clear, deep blue. The title 'Sobs of the Violins' is written in a large, elegant, white cursive font, with 'of the' in a smaller, simpler font between the two main words.

Grim Reaper's scythe barely missed his head. He wished it hadn't. Stephen Ingalls has quite enough on his plate. Starting his freshman year at Clarkstowne High School, a tough enough challenge for any young man, he finds that he and his friend Doug have been given the unprecedented opportunity to become the first student conductors of the high school orchestra. Dr. Donaldson, their teacher and mentor, will help them push the limits of their talents while weathering the storm of controversy and opposition to this innovative program. When Stephen meets Jason Anderson, he seems to know instinctively that the young man will also be important to him this new school year. It isn't that Jason is using a wheelchair, nor even that the boy is still grieving the loss of his best friend Tony, killed in the same accident that caused Jason to lose the use of his legs. Jason has lost something else: the connection to a musical ability that Stephen is certain still burns inside. Jason is convinced that his music died with Tony, with the violin, a twin to his own, damaged in the accident. Doctors are certain that Jason's paralysis is psychological; that he could walk if only they could find and treat the dark blockage in his mind. Stephen determined not to let either talent or hope disappear, must find the way to mend the pieces of the broken heart and the broken violin to help Jason overcome the past and live beyond the day the music died.
