provides a comprehensive and extensive range of critical reflections of key areas impacting on children's sport and coaching up to the age of 16. With coaching-related chapters authored by academics across various disciplines including nutrition, psychology, pedagogy, medicine, youth development, and sociology, the text provides detailed reviews of the existing state of research and consideration of the implications of these particular factors upon parents, coaches, administrators, and clearly the young people themselves, as well as recommendations for future research. This new volume provides in-depth investigation to key topics of coaching, such as Learning and Child Development, Protecting Young Athletes, Talent Identification and Development, and Inclusive Coaching, and finally introduces a broad array of contextual considerations for coaches from considering professional learning through to coaching in particular contexts. This book is more than simply an academic text; it offers insights that will further inform practice in children's sport coaching. The handbook is relevant for students, UG/PG researchers, academics, parents, coaches, and administrators, as well as those interested in children's sport coaching and the related topics therein.

Martin Toms PhD is a senior lecturer/associate professor in the School of Sport, Exercise, and Rehabilitation Sciences at the University of Birmingham, UK. A former professional sports coach with an MPhil and PhD exploring the sociological issues of young people in junior sport, Martin has been heavily involved in juniors' sport all of his adult life. He has published widely and presented extensively around the world on youth sport, including working on international projects and for NBGs, Federations, and National Governmental organisations. He has gained European and SCUK funding for youth and coaching-related projects, as well as being involved in international consultancy. He is a co-editor of the European Journal for Sport and Society as well as the current Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Golf Science.

Ruth Jeanes PhD is an associate professor in the Faculty of Education at Monash University, Australia. Ruth's research examines inclusion and exclusion within youth sport, particularly examining how sport can be used to achieve broader social policy objectives targeted at young people. Within this, she is particularly interested in the role of coaches in facilitating broader social outcomes for young people. Ruth has published extensively in these areas with over 100 publications across journal articles, book chapters, and books. She is widely cited and has been successful in securing extensive funding for her research, including two highly competitive Australian Research Council grants.

Protecting the Welfare of Individuals Operating in Organized Sport James L. Rumbold, Ashley Stirling, Louise Davis, James Newman, Andrew J. Higham, 2025-03-26

The issue of welfare in sport has become paramount in recent years. This has led various individuals who operate in sport, e.g., the media, professional bodies, and researchers, to consider aspects such as safeguarding, clean sport, overtraining, and the wider ethics surrounding the duty of care of those involved in sport. Focusing greater attention on understanding these aspects is critical given the potentially deleterious effects these aspects may have on the well-being and mental health of individuals who are subjected to wrongdoing in sport. Furthermore, by focusing on safeguarding, clean sport, overtraining, and the wider ethics surrounding the duty of care and addressing wrongdoing, it provides a critical opportunity to improve cultures in sport and make this a more prosocial environment for all involved Given the need to promote a prosocial environment in sport as well as the need to address wrongdoing in this context it is unsurprising that some researchers professional bodies and sport organizations have tasked themselves with the protection of individuals in this context To date work has been undertaken to explore how issues concerning the welfare of individuals are understood to consider the impact of the sporting culture on the protection or otherwise of individuals operating in sport and to develop potential interventions which may protect those involved in this context Numerous positive advances have been made to understand and improve the welfare and well being of those involved in sport as well as to raise awareness and education at the micro e g peer to peer meso e g coach athlete coach parent parent athlete exo e g professional leagues national governing bodies and macro system e g media and societal views levels Despite this these advances have not necessarily been well communicated between system levels or across international perspectives Continued efforts are therefore needed to disseminate research findings policy and practice developments in this area Therefore the goal of this research topic is to bring together a collection of papers that are concerned with protecting the welfare of individuals who may operate at varying system levels within organized sport
