Pop Culture and Power Dawn H. Currie, Deirdre M. Kelly, 2022-03-01 Literacy education has historically characterized mass media as manipulative towards young people who as a result are in need of close reading skills By contrast Pop Culture and Power treats literacy as a dynamic practice shaped by its social and cultural context It develops a framework to analyse power in its various manifestations arguing that power works through popular culture not as everyday media Pop Culture and Power thus explores media engagement as an opportunity to promote social change Seeing pop culture as a teaching opportunity rather than as a threat Dawn H Currie and Deirdre M Kelly worked with K 12 educators to investigate how pop culture can support teaching for social justice Currie and Kelly began the research for this project with a teacher education seminar in media analysis where participants designed classroom activities using board games popular film music videos and advertisements These activities were later piloted in participants classrooms enabling the authors to identify and address practical issues encountered by student learners Case studies describe the design implementation and retrospective assessment of activities engaging learners in media analysis and production Following the case studies the authors consider how their approach can foster ethical practices when engaging in the digital environment Pop Culture and Power offers theoretically informed yet practical tools that can help educators prepare youth for engagement in our increasingly complex world of mediated meaning making Paranormal States D. E. Osto, 2024-09-10 A number of converts to Buddhism report paranormal experiences Their accounts describe psychic abilities like clairvoyance and precognition out of body experiences near death experiences and encounters with other beings such as ghosts and deities and they often interpret these events through a specifically Buddhist lens This book is a groundbreaking exploration of these phenomena and their implications for both humanistic and scientific study of the paranormal D E Osto examines accounts of paranormal phenomena experienced by convert Buddhists from around the world collected through an online survey and interviews placing them in the context of Indian Buddhist sources and recent scientific research They focus in detail on the life stories of two interviewees and the important role the paranormal has played in their lives These contemporary first person narratives demonstrate the continued importance of the psychic and paranormal within the Buddhist tradition and they can be interpreted as a living Buddhist folklore Osto considers the limitations of both traditional religious views and Western scientific studies of the paranormal and proposes instead a new Buddhist phenomenological approach Ultimately Paranormal States contends these deeply mysterious and extraordinary experiences exceed current understandings and they can help bridge the gap between religious and scientific worldviews

Walls, 2009-08-10 Teaching and learning mathematics is a political act in which children teachers parents and policy makers are made visible as subjects As they learn about mathematics children are also learning about themselves who they are who they might become We can choose to listen or not to what children have to say about learning mathematics Such choices constitute us in relations of power Mathematical know how is widely regarded as essential not only to the life chances of individuals but also to the health of communities and the economic well being of nations With the globalisation of education in an increasingly market oriented world mathematics has received intensified attention in the first decade of the twenty first century with a shifting emphasis on utilitarian aspects of mathematics This is reflected in the reconceptualisation of mathematical competence as mathematical literacy loosely conceived as those ways of thinking reasoning and working mathematically that allow us to engage effectively in everyday situations in many occupations and the cut and thrust of world economies as active empowered and participatory citizens It is no surprise then that mathematics has become one of the most politically charged subjects in primary school curricula worldwide We are experiencing an unprecedented proliferation of regional and national strategies to establish benchmarks raise standards enhance achievement close gaps and leave no child behind in mathematics education Industries have sprung up around the design administration and monitoring of standardised assessment to measure and compare children s mathematical achievement against identified benchmarks and each other

Shadow Work Craig Lambert, 2016-04-12 With the exception of sleep humans spend more of their lifetimes on work than any other activity It is central to our economy society and the family It underpins our finances and our sense of meaning in life Given the overriding importance of work we need to recognize a profound transformation in the nature of work that is significantly altering lives the incoming tidal wave of shadow work Shadow work includes all the unpaid tasks we do on behalf of businesses and organizations It has slipped into our routines stealthily most of us do not realize how much of it we are already doing even as we pump our own gas scan and bag our own groceries execute our own stock trades and build our own unassembled furniture But its presence is unmistakable and its effects far reaching Fueled by the twin forces of technology and skyrocketing personnel costs shadow work has taken a foothold in our society Lambert terms its prevalence as middle class serfdom and examines its sources in the invasion of robotics the democratization of expertise and new demands on individuals at all levels of society The end result A more personalized form of consumption a great social leveling pedigrees don t help with shadow work and the weakening of communities as robotics reduce daily human interaction Shadow Work offers a field guide to this new phenomenon It shines a light on these trends now so prevalent in our daily lives and more importantly offers valuable insight into how to counter their effects It will be essential reading to anyone seeking to understand how their day got so full and how to deal with the ubiquitous shadow work that surrounds them
