performance convergence and displacement in a range of countries worldwide Economic Models for Policy Making

Solomon Cohen, 2013-05-02 Over the past decades many different kinds of models have been developed that have been of use to policy makers but until now the different approaches have not been brought together with a view to enhancing the systematic unification and evaluation of these models This new volume aims to fill this gap by bringing together four decades worth of work by S I Cohen on economic modelling for policy making Work on older models has been rewritten and brought fully up to date and these older models have therefore been brought back to the fore both to assess how they influenced more recent models and to see how they could be used today The focus of the book is on models for development policies in developing economies but there are some chapters that relate to economic policies in transition and developed economies The policy areas covered are of typical interest in developing and transition economies They include those relating to trade liberalization reforms sustainable development industrial development agrarian reform growth and distribution human resource development and education public goods and income transfers Each chapter contains a brief assessment of the empirical literature on the economic effects of the policy measures discussed in the chapter The book presents a platform of economic modelling that can serve as a refresher for practising professionals as well as a reference companion for graduates engaging in economic modelling and policy preparations East Asian Trade After the Uruguay Round David

Robertson, 1997-03-27 This volume provides a comprehensive assessment of the likely effects of the Uruguay Round agreements on the dynamic economies of East Asia The rapid development of these countries owes much to the strong export performance and unilateral deregulation of their economies in recent years Their major stake in maintaining the integrity of the global trading system was demonstrated by their active participation in the negotiations The impact of the Uruguay Round liberalisation on East Asian economic development and policies is evaluated using sophisticated CGE models to estimate the effects on trade and income The strengthening of trade rules and dispute settlement procedures are examined by a group of world trade experts They establish that some gaps in the system remain to be tackled anti dumping regional discrimination and that some new problems are pending competition policy investment International Bibliography Of
