Fears and Hopes for European Urbanization T. Malmberg, M. Tvrđý, 2012-12-06 Urbanization is a process taking place in our society which is changing from a predominantly rural and agrarian society into a predominantly urban and industrial one This is a transformation which is not just taking place in certain areas it is not merely a concentration of houses and of people and of activities but what is perhaps much more important it is also a change in the way of life Although there are regional differences which exist within every nation and between the nations of Europe the process is a general one it is omnipresent Whether the country is rich or poor it still spends between 15% and 25% of all invested capital on the formation of physical assets housing for example It uses another 15% to 20% on various urban services roads utilities Including domestic power this means that everywhere about half of the investment resources available are spent on the process of urbanization Much more significant than this financial way of indicating the importance of urban society and of the urbanization process but much less clearly expressed in figures is the fact that it is in the cities that the great evolutions are taking place from the society of the present towards the society of the future The big cities and conurbations are the breeding grounds of technological innovation of new forms of organization of the creation of new activities of new social relations and of new forms of culture

Changing Cultures in Higher Education Ulf-Daniel Ehlers, Dirk Schneckenberg, 2010-03-10 More and more educational scenarios and learning landscapes are developed using blogs wikis podcasts and e portfolios Web 2.0 tools give learners more control by allowing them to easily create share or reuse their own learning materials and these tools also enable social learning networks that bridge the border between formal and informal learning However practices of strategic innovation of universities faculty development assessment evaluation and quality assurance have not fully accommodated these changes in technology and teaching Ehlers and Schneckenberg present strategic approaches for innovation in universities The contributions explore new models for developing and engaging faculty in technology enhanced education and they detail underlying reasons for why quality assessment and evaluation in new and often informal learning scenarios have to change Their book is a practical guide for educators aimed at answering these questions It describes what E learning 2 0 is which basic elements of Web 2 0 it builds on and how E learning 2 0 differs from Learning 1 0 The book also details a number of quality methods and examples such as self assessment peer review social recommendation and peer learning using illustrative cases and giving practical recommendations Overall it offers a step by step guide for educators so that they can choose their own quality assurance or assessment methods or develop their own evaluation methodology for specific learning scenarios The book addresses everyone involved in higher education university leaders chief information officers change and quality assurance managers and faculty developers Pedagogical advisers and consultants will find new insights and practices for the integration and management of novel learning technologies in higher education The volume fosters in lecturers and teachers a sound understanding of the need and strategy for change and it provides them with practical recommendations on competence and quality methodologies

Developments in American Sociological Theory, 1915-1950 Roscoe C. Hinkle, 1994-01-01 This book presents a comprehensive extended and systematic analysis of social theory as it developed between the two World Wars a period during which major transformation occurred Centering on the continuities on the one hand and discontinuities on the other in substantive theory it deals with the major ideas of Cooley Ellwood Park Thomas Ogburn Bernard Chapin Mead Faris Hankins MacIver Reuter Lundberg H P Becker Parsons Znaniecki Sorokin and Blumer Finally the problematic relevancy of the past for the present is directly confronted The author examines how basic assumptions of theory in particular periods have used relatively unique schema and generated considerable controversy

The International Journal of Indian Psychology, Volume 7, Issue 1, Version 2 Suresh Makvana, Ankit Patel, 2019-03-21 Emotions and Leadership in Organizations and Educational Institutes Osman Titrek, Anna Stavicka, Ana Campina, Gozde Sezen-Gultekin, Carlos Francisco De Sousa Reis, 2023-11-28

Emotion management is an important source of social capital and synergy for organizations. Managers have a great role in the creation of this synergy. A manager who can cope with their emotions indirectly contributes to organizational effectiveness. This situation is especially important in human oriented organizations providing services rather than goods such as educational institutions. Leadership is a process of social influence which maximizes the efforts of others towards the achievement of a goal. Leadership stems from social influence rather than authority or power. In terms of system approach the input output process and feedback of educational organizations are always related to human behaviors. Therefore organizations must address the nature of human beings in all of their managerial processes. Although organizations in which people are at the foreground try to continue their functioning on a rational and formal basis throughout the managerial process they sometimes have to manage emotional and informal phenomena. In this case there is a need for managers and school leaders who can shape the rationale in line with the requirements of human nature. What is expected from this administrator is that they do not ignore human needs and emotions while providing the management of educational institutions. For this reason these managers should be leaders rather than executives who only work in a formal framework of organization management. Moreover principals and teachers should also be leaders in all educational processes. Emotions are the main catalyst of positive organizational culture. Leaders can create an effective organizational culture with the main source of positive emotions between employers. Positive emotions also motivate employees for organizational purposes. If a leader wishes to create and maintain an effective organizational culture it is essential to support positive behavior and emotional climate in their institutes and schools. Leaders school managers and teachers therefore need to develop emotion management abilities. Educational organizations need to shape their organizational culture climate and psychology to support their leaders in efficiently managing their employees emotions. Up to now this topic has been usually addressed as the main catalyst and a sub dimension of emotional intelligence. Moreover current evidence classifies social and empathy skills as other sub dimensions of emotional intelligence. For this reason this collection of peer reviewed articles will draw attention to the contemporary term emotional management and contribute to educational fields by means of exploring the relationship between emotions and leadership.

The New Institutionalism in Organizational Analysis Walter W. Powell, Paul J. DiMaggio, 2012-09-21

Long a fruitful area of scrutiny for students of organizations the study of institutions is undergoing a renaissance in contemporary social science. This volume offers for the first time both often cited foundation works and the latest writings of scholars associated with the institutional approach to organization analysis. In their introduction the editors discuss points of convergence and disagreement with institutionally oriented research in economics.

and political science and locate the institutional approach in relation to major developments in contemporary sociological theory Several chapters consolidate the theoretical advances of the past decade identify and clarify the paradigm s key ambiguities and push the theoretical agenda in novel ways by developing sophisticated arguments about the linkage between institutional patterns and forms of social structure The empirical studies that follow involving such diverse topics as mental health clinics art museums large corporations civil service systems and national polities illustrate the explanatory power of institutional theory in the analysis of organizational change Required reading for anyone interested in the sociology of organizations the volume should appeal to scholars concerned with culture political institutions and social change
