Taking Back The Streets:

Tearing Down the Streets Jeff Ferrell, 2002-10 From New York to San Francisco Times Square to the Tenderloin graffiti artists young people radical environmentalists and the homeless clash with police on city streets in an attempt take back urban spaces from the developers and disneyfiers Drawing on more than a decade of first hand research this lively account goes inside the worlds of street musicians homeless punks militant bicycle activists high risk BASE jump parachutists skateboarders outlaw radio operators and hip hop graffiti artists to explore the day to day skirmishes in the struggle over public life and public space

Street Reclaiming David Engwicht, 1999 This book is about the cultural and economic significance of street life Ever since ancient Athens and Greece Engwicht argues streets have been a major center of commerce socialization and cultural exchange But the advent of automobiles and suburbanization in the 20th century eroded the richness of American streetlife Streets and sidewalks once filled with people and furniture are now filled with automobiles carrying citizens to those indoor streets malls Using an abundance of drawings that detail urban traffic patterns Engwicht prescribes a series of creative methods for returning vibrancy to the street everything from reducing traffic with more one way routes to making avenues more like living rooms with the addition of rugs television sets and bulletin boards

We Take Care of Our Own June Skinner Sawyers, 2024-09-15 We Take Care of Our Own traces the evolution of Bruce Springsteen s beliefs beginning with his New Jersey childhood and ending with his most recent works from Springsteen on Broadway to Letter to You The author follows the singer s life examining his albums and a variety of influences both musical and nonmusical especially his Catholic upbringing and his family life to show how he became an outspoken icon for working class America indeed for working class life throughout the world In this way the author emphasizes the universality of Springsteen s canon and depicts how a working class sensibility can apply to anyone anywhere who believes in fairness and respect In addition the author places Springsteen in the historical context not only of literature especially John Steinbeck but also of the art world specifically the work of Thomas Hart Benton and Edward Hopper Among the themes explored in the book include community a sense of place America as the Promised Land the myth of the West and ultimately mortality

Confessions of an Undercover Agent Charlie Spillers, 2016-03-24 This true story of an ex Marine who fought crime as an undercover cop a narcotics agent and finally a federal prosecutor spans a decade of crime fighting and narrow escapes Charlie Spillers dealt with a remarkable variety of career criminals including heroin traffickers safecrackers burglars auto thieves and members of Mafia and Mexican drug smuggling operations In this riveting tale the author recounts fascinating experiences and the creative methods he used to succeed and survive in a difficult and sometimes extremely dangerous underworld life As a young officer with the Baton Rouge Police Department ex Marine Charlie Spillers first went undercover to infiltrate criminal groups to gather intelligence Working alone and often unarmed he constantly attempted to walk the thin line between triumph and disaster When on the hunt his closest associates were safecrackers prostitutes and burglars His abilities propelled him into years of undercover work inside drug trafficking rings But the longer he worked the greater the risks His final and perhaps most significant action in Baton Rouge was leading a battle against corruption in the police department itself After Baton Rouge he joined the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics and for the next five years continued working undercover from the Gulf Coast to Memphis and from New Orleans to Houston Texas He capped off a unique career by becoming a federal prosecutor and the justice attach for Iraq In this book he shares his most intriguing exploits and exciting undercover stings putting readers in the middle of the action Lion's Head Deception Chuck Waldron,2013-06

Matt Tremain discovers a passion for writing blogs When he is warned of a diabolical scheme and the tipster is killed Matt uncovers a conspiracy An investigative television reporter and her cameraman may be potential partners or rivals A detective offers his assistance but Matt is unsure of his true motivation Matt Tremain and his friends are forced to go on the run to expose the truth before they are discovered arrested and perhaps exterminated themselves Memories of Ash Intisar Khanani,2024-03-26

An unjust imprisonment A rogue apprentice One epic jailbreak In the year since she cast her sunbolt Hitomi has recovered only a handful of memories But the truths of the past have a tendency to come calling and an isolated mountain fastness can offer only so much shelter When the High Council of Mages summons Brigit Stormwind to stand trial for treason Hitomi knows her wrongfully accused mentor won t return not with Arch Mage Blackflame behind the charges Armed only with her magic and her wits Hitomi vows to free her mentor from captivity She must traverse spell cursed lands and barren deserts facing powerful ancient enchantments and navigating bitter enmities in order to reunite with old friends and plan a rescue equal parts magic and trickery Australian Environmental Planning Jason Byrne,Neil Sipe,Jago Dodson,2014-04-16

Winner of the Planning Institute of Australia s 2015 Cutting Edge Research and Teaching Award

Australians from all walks of life have begun to realise the nation s cities cannot sustain profligate growth indefinitely Dwindling water supplies failing food bowls increased energy costs more severe bushfires severe storms flooding coastal erosion rising transport expenses housing shortages and environmental pollution are now daily news headlines Australia s cities may have reached their ecological limits a new model for planning the places we live is needed Understanding the natural cycles of the city is just as important to planning our cities as knowledge of local ordinances indeed much more so A profound knowledge of environmental processes is critical for successful planning in today s world Environmental planners take as their guiding principle the concept of designing with nature approaching cities as living organisms that consume water energy and raw materials and produce waste This metabolic view of cities means we can find new solutions to old problems and steer our cities towards a more sustainable form of planning Written specifically for students and professionals working in city planning in Australia this ground breaking new book enables Australian planners architects and developers to get a better understanding of the fundamental principles of environmental planning for cities showing how land water air energy wildlife and people shape our built environments and how in turn environmental processes must be better understood

if we are to make informed decisions about developing cities that are more sustainable The book's coverage is comprehensive from an overview of the concepts and theories of environmental planning through analysis of governance systems and urban environmental processes to agendas and policies for the future all the key topics are covered in depth with recommendations for supporting reading and an unrivalled selection of additional materials Ideal for students essential for professionals

Australian Environmental Planning is vital reading for more sustainable cities in a more sustainable world Lords and Towns in Medieval Europe Howard B. Clarke, Annagret Simms, 2017-07-14 This volume is based on possibly the biggest single Europe wide project in urban history In 1955 the International Commission for the History of Towns established the European historic towns atlas project in accordance with a common scheme in order to encourage comparative urban studies Although advances in urban archaeology since the 1960s have highlighted the problematic relationship between the oldest extant town plan and the actual origins of a town the large scale cadastral maps as they have been made available by the European historic towns atlas project are still necessary if we want to understand the evolution of the physical form of our towns By 2014 the project consisted of over 500 individual publications from over 18 different countries across Europe Each atlas comprises at least a core map at the scale of 1:2500 analytical maps and an explanatory text The time has come to use this enormous database that has been compiled over the last 40 years This volume itself based on a conference related to this topic that was held in the Royal Irish Academy in Dublin in 2006 takes up this challenge The focus of the volume is on the question of how seigneurial power influenced the creation of towns in medieval Europe and of how this process in turn influenced urban form Part I of the volume addresses two major issues the history of the use of town plans in urban research and the methodological challenges of comparative urban history Parts II and III constitute the core of the book focusing on the dynamic relationship between lordship and town planning in the core area of medieval Europe and on the periphery In Part IV the symbolic meaning of town plans for medieval people is discussed Part V consists of critical contributions by an archaeologist an art historian and an historical geographer By presenting case studies by leading researchers from different European countries this volume combines findings that were hitherto not available in English A comparison of the English and German bibliographies attached to this volume reveals some interesting insights as to how the focus of research shifted over time The book also shows how work on urban topography integrates the approaches of the historian archaeologist and historical geographer The narrative of medieval urbanization becomes enriched and the volume is a genuine contribution to European studies Lost Without Him Carol Scutt, 2018-10-29 In the summer of 1967 two teenagers from completely opposite kinds of upbringing met in Columbia City Indiana They both worked at the local Kroger grocery store She worked as a cashier and he worked as a night stocker She was sixteen and he was seventeen This infatuation grew into a love stronger than the worst storms and more passionate than the words of Shakespeare The first storm they endured as newlyweds was Paul being drafted and sent to Vietnam for fourteen months Their journey was one of commitment and determination Their love for each other and for Christ drew them together during all the difficult times A time did come when they nearly divorced How they dealt with the hurt and heartache is an inspiring lesson Paul was a brilliant businessman and ended his career as a senior vice president with Kroger That journey wasn't without its struggles He made a vow to Carol in the first year of their marriage that he would see that she have everything she ever dreamed or imagined He kept that vow even on the last day of his life
