on the figure of the child in modernist novels investigating the demand for emotional suppression as manifested later in cruelty and aggression in adulthood Jennifer Margaret Fraser provides sophisticated close readings of key works by Joseph Conrad Virginia Woolf and James Joyce among others who share striking concerns about the concept of infancy both as a collection of infants and as foot soldiers of war A phenomenon associated traditionally with Freud Fraser instead uses a unique Derridean theoretical prism to provide new ways of understanding modernist concerns with power dynamics knowledge and meaning Be a Good Soldier establishes a pioneering nuanced vocabulary for further historical and cultural inquiries into modernist childhood

Jean Rhys's Historical Imagination Veronica Marie Gregg, 2017-11-01 As the foremost white West Indian writer of this century and author of the widely acclaimed novel Wide Sargasso Sea Jean Rhys 1890-1979 has attracted much critical attention most often from the perspective of gender analysis Veronica Gregg extends our critical appreciation of Rhys by analyzing the complex relationship between Rhys's identity and the structures of her fiction and she reveals the ways in which this relationship is connected to the history of British colonization of the West Indies Gregg focuses on Rhys as a writer a Creole woman analyzing the question of identity through literary investigations of race gender and colonialism Arguing that history itself can be a site where different narratives collide and compete she explores Rhys's rewriting of the historical discourses of the West Indies and of European canonical texts such as Rhys's treatment of Jane Eyre in Wide Sargasso Sea Gregg's analysis also reveals the precision with which Rhys crafted her work and her preoccupation with writing as performance

Representing the Exotic and the Familiar Meenakshi Bharat, Madhu Grover, 2019-11-28 The multicultural world of today is often said to be marked by a certain kind of exoticization a fetishizing process as Graham Huggan has called it which separates a first world from a third world the Occident from the Orient The essays collected here reassess this tendency not least by focusing on the kinds of intellectual tourism and dilettantism to which it has given rise The wider context of these analyses is a postcolonial scenario where literatures and languages can move from the exotic to the comparatively familiar space of contemporary writings where an exotic mythos can live on into the familiar present and where certain perceptions and representations of peoples of literatures and of languages have turned exoticization and familiarization into global modes of mass cultural consumption Especially by exploring the liminalities between different cultures this collection manages to trace both the history and the politics of exoticist representation and in so doing to make a significant critical intervention

Jean Rhys Elaine Savory, 1998 Jean Rhys has long been central to debates in feminist modernist Caribbean British and postcolonial writing Elaine Savory's study first published in 1999 incorporates and modifies previous critical approaches and is a critical reading of Rhys's entire oeuvre including the stories and autobiography and is informed by Rhys's own manuscripts Designed both for the serious scholar on Rhys and those unfamiliar with her writing Savory's book insists on the importance of a Caribbean centred approach to Rhys and shows how this context profoundly affects her literary style Informed by contemporary arguments on race gender class and nationality Savory explores Rhys's stylistic innovations her use of colours her exploitation of the trope of performance her experiments with creative non fiction and her incorporation of the metaphysical into her texts This study offers a comprehensive account of the life and work of this most complex and enigmatic of writers English for Life 3 Cecil Gray,2014-11 A four book course satisfying all language needs from lower secondary to CSEC examination level Her True-true Name Pamela Mordecai,Betty Wilson,1989 31 women writers from throughout the Caribbean express the loss and the longing the pride and passion of the Caribbean identity Tales of Deadliest Hurricanes Muska Ayir,101-01-01 Tales of Deadliest Hurricanes explores the raw power and profound impact of some of the most intense hurricanes in history This book is a compelling mix of nature's fury and human resilience charting storms from formation to aftermath and weaving in stories of survival courage and loss Each chapter offers a deep dive into a specific hurricane backed by historical records scientific data and personal accounts revealing how these natural disasters have shaped lives landscapes and policies More than just weather events hurricanes are presented as pivotal moments in time testing communities transforming regions and inspiring remarkable acts of bravery With climate change intensifying such storms the book serves not only as a chronicle of the past but also a call to understand and prepare for the future Through vivid storytelling and thorough research it honors the enduring spirit of those who endure and rebuild capturing the human side of nature's fiercest trials

Thomas,2015-12-27 Much attention has focused on the imperial gaze at colonised peoples cultures and lands But during and after the British Empire what have writers from those cultures made of England the English and issues of race gender class ethnicity and desire when they have travelled expatriated or emigrated to England This question is addressed through studies of the domestic novel and the Bildungsroman and through essays on Mansfield Rhys Stead Emecheta Lessing Naipaul

Emecheta Rushdie and Dabydeen Border Traffic Maggie Humm,1991 A work on the ways in which women writers from different races and cultures often choose similar alternative routes across the borders of their literary place For example Buchi Emecheta s and Bessie Head s exile in Britain and Botswana dictate the form and content of their writing African Concord ,1986 Fairy Tales with a Black Consciousness Vivian Yenika-Agbaw,Ruth McKoy Lowery,Laretta Henderson,2013-07-05 The all new essays in this book discuss black cultural retellings of traditional European fairy tales The representation of black protagonists in such tales helps to shape children s ideas about themselves and the world beyond which can ignite a will to read books representing diverse characters The need for a multicultural text set which includes the multiplicity of cultures within the black diaspora is discussed The tales referenced in the text are rich in perspective they are Aesop s fables Cinderella Rapunzel and Ananse Readers will see that stories from black perspectives adhere to the dictates of traditional literary conventions while still steeped in literary traditions traceable to Africa or the diaspora
