The Force of Fantasy Ernest G. Bormann, 2001 In this book first published in 1985 Ernest G Bormann explores mass persuasion in America from 1620 to 1860 examining closely four rhetorical communities the revivals of 1739 1740 the hot gospel of the postrevolutionary period the evangelical revival and reform of the 1830s and the Free Soil and Republican parties Each community varies greatly but Bormann asserts that each succeeding community shares a rhetorical vision of restoring the American Dream that is essentially a modification of the previous visions Thus they form a family of rhetorical visions that constitutes a rhetorical tradition of importance in nineteenth century American popular culture Dictionary of Media and Communication Studies James Watson, Anne Hill, 2015-10-22 The Dictionary of Media and Communication Studies has provided students and the general public alike with a gateway into the study of intercultural communication public relations and marketing communications since 1984 In this 9th edition James Watson and Anne Hill provide a detailed compendium of the different facets of personal group mass media and internet communication that continues to be a vital source of information for all those interested in how communication affects our lives They cover new applications and developments such as the incorporation of Neuroscience techniques in advertising and marketing Other updates include Cyber bullying Twitter scandals conduct in media organizations on line lobbying global protesting petitioning and gender issues relating to social media in general While new entries explore the profound shifts that have taken place in the world of communication in recent years the purpose of this new edition is not necessarily to keep abreast of every new media event but to reflect the trends that influence and prompt such events such as the Leveson Inquiry and Report and phone hacking via mobile phones Politics seems to be playing out more on Twitter than in The Times This volume seeks to make its twenty first century readers more media literate as well as more critical consumers of modern news Communication Yearbooks Vols 6-33 Set Various, 2021-12-02 The Communication Yearbook annuals originally published between 1977 and 2009 publish diverse state of the discipline literature reviews that advance knowledge and understanding of communication systems processes and impacts across the discipline Topics dealt with include Communication as Process Research Methodology in Communication Communication Effects Taxonomy of Communication and European Communication Theory Information Systems Division Mass Communication Research Mapping the Domain of Intercultural Communication Public Relations Feminist Scholarship Communication Law and Policy Visual Communication Communication and Cross Sex Friendships Across the Life Cycle Television Programming and Sex Stereotyping InterCultural Communication Training Leadership and Relationships Media Performance Assessment Cognitive Approaches to Communication Communication Yearbook 11 James A. Landmark Essays on American Public Address Martin J. Medhurst, 2020-08-26 This volume traces the historical evolution of American academic thought concerning public address what it is how it ought to be studied and what can be learned by engaging rhetorical texts in an analytical fashion To begin one must distinguish among three separate but interrelated uses of the term public address as practice theory and criticism The essays in this volume represent landmarks in the literal sense of that term they are marks on the intellectual landscape that indicate where scholars and ideas have passed and in that passing left a mark for future generations It is appropriate to revisit the landmarks that have set public address off as a field of study and it allows readers to remember the struggles that have led to the current situation Most of the authors of the following chapters are deceased but their ideas live on transformed adapted modified rejected and reborn The scholarly dialectic continues What constitutes a study in public address how best to approach rhetorical texts which analytical tools are required for the job how best to balance text with context and what role ought theory to play in the conduct or outcome of critical inquiry these questions live on To answer them at all is to engender debate and that is how it should be if the intellectual vitality of public address is to be maintained The papers are a prolegomenon to such studies for they mark where scholars have been and point the way to where they still must go     Religion and the American Experience: A Social and Cultural History, 1765-1996 Donald C. Swift, 2016-12-05 Religion in the USA manifests itself in many forms and this book examines them from religion in the early republic to early African American religion reform nativism movements and fundamentalism up to the contemporary culture wars in a study that spans almost 250 years

Celebrating Romans Sheila E. McGinn, 2004 This book brings international Christian scholars together to celebrate Robert Jewett's lifelong interest in Romans by reviewing and significantly advancing five fruitful approaches to Paul's most influential work James D G Dunn Jeffrey B Gibson and Graydon F Snyder show where the new approach to Pauline theology elucidates and corrects earlier theological appropriations of the letter to the Romans William S Campbell James D Hester and Wilhelm Wuellner illustrate different models of rhetorical criticism Peter Lampe and Carolyn Osiek show what can be gained by a social historical approach to Romans Sheila E McGinn Elsa Tamez and Pamela Thimmes demonstrate how a feminist hermeneutic clarifies key texts from Romans and challenges the interpretive tradition Keith Augustus Burton Lareta Halteman Finger and L D Hurst create a conversation between Paul's letter and contemporary culture An introduction provides context for these chapters by offering a helpful overview of recent trends in New Testament scholarship that are pertinent to Pauline studies particularly the study of Romans The authors all established teachers in academic and church settings recognize the need for analyses of the Bible that are substantial and scholarly but also intelligible to nonspecialists The essays in Celebrating Romans will challenge the thinking of students and scholars alike illuminating diverse methods of biblical analysis and fostering a deeper appreciation for and engagement with this crowning literary achievement of the apostle to the Gentiles Contributors Robert Atkins Keith Augustus Burton William S Campbell James D G Dunn Lareta Halteman Finger Jeffrey B Gibson James D Hester Frank W Hughes L D Hurst Peter Lampe Sheila E McGinn Carolyn Osiek Graydon F Snyder Elsa Tamez Pamela Thimmes Wilhelm Wuellner K K Yeo     The Inaugural Addresses of Twentieth-Century American Presidents Halford Ryan, 1993-06-30 The essays in Halford Ryan's The Inaugural Addresses of Twentieth Century American Presidents explore how presidents have used their addresses to empower themselves in office. The volume's construct holds that the president delivers persuasive speeches to move the Congress and the people and to move the people to move the Congress if it is intransigent. Even on Inauguration Day, a largely ceremonial occasion, the president seeks acquiescence and action from Congress and the people in his first rhetorical deed as the nation's chief executive officer. Since scholars agree that the rhetorical presidency arose in the twentieth century with Theodore Roosevelt, the book commences with Roosevelt's address followed by all subsequent presidents' inaugurals, including that of Bill Clinton. The authors' methodology applies classical rhetoric to the nexus of political discourse, the interrelationships between the speaker, the speech, and the audience, discussing vox populi, elocutio, inventio, and actio. Each of the chapters analyzes the political situation with regard to political purpose, giving special attention to genre, criticism, and to the themes of campaign rhetoric that were or were not carried forth into the inaugural address. The essayists explicate the evolution of each inaugural's preparation, criticize its delivery, and evaluate its persuasive strengths and weaknesses by accounting for its reception by the media and by the American people. Recommended for scholars of political communication and rhetoric, political science history, and presidential studies.

Stephen Sondheim and the Reinvention of the American Musical Robert L. McLaughlin, 2016-08-11 From West Side Story in 1957 to Road Show in 2008, the musicals of Stephen Sondheim (1930-2021) and his collaborators have challenged the conventions of American musical theater and expanded the possibilities of what musical plays can do, how they work, and what they mean. Sondheim's brilliant array of work, including such musicals as Company, Follies, Sweeney Todd, Sunday in the Park with George, and Into the Woods, established him as the preeminent composer-lyricist of his (if not all) time. Stephen Sondheim and the Reinvention of the American Musical places Sondheim's work in two contexts: the exhaustion of the musical play and the postmodernism that, by the 1960s, deeply influenced all the American arts. Sondheim's musicals are central to the transition from the Rodgers and Hammerstein style musical that had dominated Broadway stages for twenty years to a new postmodern musical. This new style reclaimed many of the self-aware performative techniques of the 1930s musical comedy to develop its themes of the breakdown of narrative knowledge and the fragmentation of identity. In his most recent work, Sondheim, who was famously mentored by Oscar Hammerstein II, stretches toward a twenty-first-century musical that seeks to break out of the self-referring web of language. Stephen Sondheim and the Reinvention of the American Musical offers close readings of all of Sondheim's musicals and finds in them critiques of the operation of power, questioning of conventional systems of knowledge, and explorations of contemporary identity.
