The Fragmented Metropolis Los Angeles 1850 193:

The Fragmented Metropolis Robert M. Fogelson, 1993-06-09 The most detailed study ever published of Los Angeles most critical period An invaluable aid to my understanding of this city David Brodsky author of L A Freeway Topophilia and Topophobia Xing Ruan, Paul Hogben, 2020-10-28 This book is about the love and hate relations that humans establish with their habitat which have been coined by discerning modern thinkers as topophilia and topophobia Whilst such affiliations with the topos our manmade as well as natural habitat have been traced back to antiquity a wide range of twentieth century cases are studied here and reflected upon by dwelling on this framework The book provides a timely reminder that the qualitative aspects of the topos sensual as well as intellectual should not be disregarded in the face of rapid technological development and the mass of building that has occurred since the turn of the millennium Topophilia and Topophobia offers speculative and historical reflections on the human habitat of the century that has just passed authored by some of the world's leading scholars and architects including Joseph Rykwert Yi Fu Tuan Vittorio Gregotti and Jean Louis Cohen Human habitats ranging broadly from the cities of the twentieth century highbrow modern architecture both in Western countries and in Asia to non architect planner designed vernacular settlements and landscapes are reviewed under the themes of topophilia and topophobia across the disciplines of architecture landscape studies philosophy human geography and urban planning The New Urban History Leo Francis Schnore, 2015-03-08 As part of the new consciousness concerning the history of the American city younger historians economists and geographers working with quantitative methods on urban historical problems were brought together at a conference sponsored by the History Advisory Committee of the Mathematical Social Science Board The papers in this volume products of the conference represent the pioneer stage of quantitative exploration in United States urban history United by a common concern with the growth of cities in society and the effects of growth on the internal organization and related social order of cities the papers deal with such topics as jobs residences neighborhoods adjustment status accommodation innovation and location The authors attempt to measure some of the attitudes and behavior of capitalists workers immigrants and freedmen and speculate on the ways in which households firms and assorted social groupings cope with changing physical and social environments The essays demonstrate the productive use of quantitative research techniques ranging from simple enumeration of data in tabular form to sophisticated types of statistical hypothesis testing and mathematical modeling Originally published in 1975 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 A Companion to American Environmental History Douglas Cazaux Sackman, 2010-02-12 A Companion to American Environmental History gatherstogether a comprehensive collection of over 30 essays that examinethe evolving and diverse field of American environmental history Provides a complete historiography of American environmentalhistory Brings the field up to date to reflect the latest trends andencourages new directions for the field Includes the work of path breaking environmental historians from the founders of the field to contributions frominnovative young scholars Takes stock of the discipline through five topically themedparts with essays ranging from American Indian EnvironmentalRelations to Cities and Suburbs

Downtown Robert M. Fogelson,2022-06-24 Winner of a Lewis Mumford Prize Extremely engaging reading for those interested in the history of cities and urban experience Booklist Written by one of this country s foremost urban historians Downtown is the first history of what was once viewed as the heart of the American city It tells the fascinating story of how downtown and the way Americans thought about downtown changed over time By showing how businessmen and property owners worked to promote the well being of downtown even at the expense of other parts of the city it also gives a riveting account of spatial politics in urban America Drawing on a wide array of contemporary sources Robert M Fogelson brings downtown to life first as the business district then as the central business district and finally as just another business district His book vividly recreates the long forgotten battles over subways and skyscrapers in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries And it provides a fresh often startling perspective on elevated highways parking bans urban redevelopment and other controversial issues This groundbreaking book will be a revelation to scholars city planners policymakers and anyone interested in American cities and American history A thorough and accomplished history The Washington Post Book World Superlative a vital contribution to the study of American life Publishers Weekly A superbly thorough analysis of the causes of inner city blight congestion and economic decline in mid 20th century urban America Library Journal Includes photographs

The Fragmented Metropolis Robert M. Fogelson,1967 Literature and Race in Los Angeles Julian Murphet,2001-03-19 Los Angeles is both the most fragmented and the most minoritized metropolis in America and its most luridly abstract and aestheticized city With more than eighty five languages being spoken in its classrooms and one homogeneous visual language emanating from its entertainment industry LA radically challenges the prospects of that archaic representational medium literature In its investigation of the work of Bret Easton Ellis James Ellroy Anna Deveare Smith and others Literature and Race in Los Angeles articulates their aesthetic preoccupations with the structures of social space in the city Harnessing some of the theoretical insights of Henri Lefebvre and the LA school of geographers Murphet demonstrates the versatility of literary production in LA and speculates about the fortunes of literature in a predominantly visual culture

Working for Justice Milkman Ruth,Joshua Bloom,Victor Narro,2013-09-30 Working for Justice which includes eleven case studies of recent low wage worker organizing campaigns in Los Angeles makes the case for a distinctive L A Model of union and worker center organizing Networks linking advocates in worker centers and labor unions facilitate mutual learning and synergy and have generated a shared repertoire of economic justice strategies The organized labor movement in Los Angeles has weathered the effects of deindustrialization and deregulation better than unions in other parts of the United States and this has helped to anchor the city's wider low wage worker movement. Los Angeles is also home to the nation's highest concentration of undocumented immigrants making it especially fertile territory for low wage worker organizing. The case studies in Working for Justice are all based on original field research on organizing campaigns among L.A. day laborers, garment workers, car wash workers, security officers, janitors, taxi drivers, hotel workers as well as the efforts of ethnically focused worker centers and immigrant rights organizations. The authors interviewed key organizers, gained access to primary documents and conducted participant observation. Working for Justice is a valuable resource for sociologists and other scholars in the interdisciplinary field of labor studies as well as for advocates and policymakers.

The City Allen J. Scott, Edward W. Soja, 1996. Los Angeles has grown from a scattered collection of towns and villages to one of the largest megacities in the world. The editors of THE CITY have assembled a variety of essays examining the built environment and human dynamics of this extraordinary modern city, emphasizing the dramatic changes that have occurred since 1960. 58 illustrations.

Landscapes of Desire William Alexander McClung, 2002-05-31. An imaginative and provocative interpretation of the meaning of Los Angeles, carefully thought out and beautifully written.

Robert Winter, editor of Toward a Simpler Way of Life: The Arts and Crafts Architects of California. McClung's sharp eye and his ability to be both critic and analyst combine to make this a book of real timeliness. It is unusual and it is smart.

William Deverell, author of Railroad Crossing: Californians and the Railroad 1850-1910.
