Butler* Eliza Marian Butler, 1952 Fictional Practice: Magic, Narration, and the Power of Imagination , 2021-09-27 To what extent were practitioners of magic inspired by fictional accounts of their art In how far did the daunting narratives surrounding legendary magicians such as Theophilus of Adana Cyprianus of Antioch Johann Georg Faust or Agrippa of Nettesheim rely on real world events or practices Fourteen original case studies present material from late antiquity to the twenty first century and explore these questions in a systematic manner By coining the notion of fictional practice the editors discuss the emergence of novel imaginative types of magic from the nineteenth century onwards when fiction and practice came to be more and more intertwined or even fully amalgamated This is the first comparative study that systematically relates fiction and practice in the history of magic Medicine, Magic and Art in Early Modern Norway Ane Ohrvik, 2018-04-02 This book addresses magical ideas and practices in early modern Norway It examines a large corpus of Norwegian manuscripts from 1650 1850 commonly called Black Books which contained a mixture of recipes on medicine magic and art Ane Ohrvik assesses the Black Books from the vantage point of those who wrote the manuscripts and thus offers an original study of how early modern magical practitioners presented their ideas and saw their practices The book show how the writers viewed magic and medicine both as practical and sacred art and as knowledge worth protecting through encoding the text The study of the Black Books illuminates how ordinary people in Norway conceptualized magic as valuable and useful knowledge worth of collecting and saving despite the ongoing witchcraft prosecutions targeting the very same ideas and practices as the books promoted Medicine Magic and Art in Early Modern Norway is essential for those looking to advance their studies in magical beliefs and practices in early modern Europe as well as those interested in witchcraft studies book history and the history of knowledge Strange Revelations Lynn Wood Mollenauer, 2007-01-01 The Affair of the Poisons was the greatest court scandal of the seventeenth century From 1679 to 1682 the French crown investigated more than 400 people including Louis XIV s official mistress and members of the highest ranking circles at court for sensational crimes In Strange Revelations Lynn Mollenauer brings this bizarre story to life exposing a criminal magical underworld thriving in the heart of the Sun King s capital The macabre details of the Affair of the Poisons read like a gothic novel In the fall of 1678 Nicolas de la Reynie head of the Paris police uncovered a plot to poison Louis XIV La Reynie s subsequent investigation unveiled a loosely knit community of sorceresses magicians and renegade priests who offered for sale an array of services and products ranging from abortions to love magic to poisons known as inheritance powders It was the inheritance powders usually made from powdered toads steeped in arsenic that lent the Affair of the Poisons its name The purchasers of the powders gave the affair its notoriety for the scandal extended into the most exalted ranks of the French court Mollenauer adroitly uses the Affair of the Poisons to uncover the hidden forms of power that men and women of all social classes invoked to achieve their goals While the exercise of state power during the ancien r gime was quintessentially visible ritually displayed through public ceremonies the affair exposes the simultaneous presence of other imagined and real sources of power available to the Sun King s subjects magic poison and the manipulation of sexual passions Highly entertaining yet deeply researched Strange Revelations will appeal to anyone interested in the history of court society gender magic or crime in early modern Europe

Making Sense as a Cultural Practice Jörg Rogge, 2014-04-15 In the cultural and social formations of the past practices exist for the generation and integration of moments having and giving sense with the objective of strengthening the cultural and social cohesion Such practices and processes have a constructive character even if this is not always the intention of the actors themselves As the production of sense is one of the central fields of action of cultural and political practice the articles examine with an interdisciplinary perspective how in different contexts the construction of sense was organized and implemented as a cultural practice
