The Free Church And Seductive Culture:

The Free Church and Seductive Culture Calvin Wall Redekop, 1970 That the Christian faith is largely finished and written off as a convincing and winsome alternative for modern man is generally accepted But how has this come about Why did it happen What if anything can be done about it Using historical data and several original sociological case studies the author attempts to show that the central problem of the Christian faith as expressed in the Christian church is the capitulation to self deception a temptation which seduces all men and institutions But the uniqueness and incongruity of the self deception of the Christian church is that it lays claim to a divine perception of reality yet contradicts this divine orientation at every turn The author proceeds to show that the only hope for a recovery of integrity and winsomeness for the Christian church and its faith life is the institution of a structure for accountability is slowly evolving in the secular world but is rejected by Christians because the acceptance of this structure would be costly even though it promises the Christian church the opportunity to become the free church The incipient concept of a free church as expressed in the Anabaptists Quakers and other related movements tends to give the author some hope that the truly free church can actually be achieved Publisher

Service, The Path To Justice Calvin Redekop, Terry Beitzel, 2019-06-14 Service the Path to Justice is a timely antidote to cynicism and despair in a world of growing inequality and injustice The authors argue that serving others is the basis for human survival because only through service to others will injustice be eradicated and peace prevail Redekop and Beitzel focus on the concept of voluntary service public participation motivated by the value of loving one's neighbour as oneself as morally worthy social action in which the doer and the recipient of the action benefit equally This approach to social action counteracts the inequality and injustice inherent in society's structures The development and practice of self giving in Mennonite Brethren and Quaker denominations is analyzed bringing sociological ethical and applied perspectives to the examination The practice of voluntary service is immediately available to everyone and the win win benefits flowing from this approach to social action promote sustained public participation for social action This is an enlightening and optimistic view of the power of an individual to bring kindness fairness and peace to the world The Collected Writings of James Leo
