Taking Sex into Account Jill McCalla Vickers, 1984-11-15 Taking Sex Into Account Jill Vickers, Canadian Research Institute for the Advancement of Women, 1984-01-01 Gender Bias in Scholarship Winnie Tamm, Gordon Hamilton, 2006-01-01 This multi disciplinary anthology is about hermeneutical issues pertaining to gender ideology in university scholarship The authors provide from their own discipline an extensive examination of the issues raised in the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada pamphlet On the Treatment of the Sexes in Research by Margrit Eichler and Jeanne Lapointe 1985 Gender bias is described and evaluated in the light of possible alternative perspectives which would alter the content and shape of research including women as subjects of research and as researchers The authors underscore the importance of acknowledging underlying gender imagery in the selection interpretation and communication of research data They explore the notion of research as a social construction which is strongly aligned with the socially constructed notion of male and dissociated from the socially constructed notion of female The focus is on refraining research ideology to include both female and male constructed imagery Contributors include Marlene Mackie sociology Carolyn Larsen psychology Estelle Dansereau literary criticism Gisele Thibault education Alice Mansell art Eliane Leslau Silverman history Yvonne Lefebvre biochemistry Petra von Morstein philosophy and Naomi Black political science

Learning to Be Old Margaret Cruikshank, 2013-02-14 This work examines what it means to grow old in America today The book questions social myths and fears about aging sickness and the other social roles of the elderly the over medicalization of many older people and ageism Here the author proposes alternatives to the ways aging is usually understood in both popular culture and mainstream gerontology She does not propose the ideas of successful aging or productive aging but more the idea of learning how to age Featuring new research and analysis the third edition of this text demonstrates more thoroughly than the previous editions that aging is socially constructed The book focuses on the differences in aging for women and men as well as for people in different socioeconomic groups The author is able to put aging in a broad context that not only focuses on how aging affects women but men as well Key updates in the third edition include changes in the health care system changes in how long older Americans are working especially given the impact of the recession and new material on the brain and mind body interconnections The author challenges conventional ideas about aging and brings forth some new ideas surrounding aging in America today Women and Politics Worldwide Barbara J. Nelson, Najma Chowdhury, Nājamā Caudhurī, 1994-01-01 This is the first book to analyse the complexities of women's political participation on a cross national scale and from a feminist perspective Surveying forty three countries chosen to represent a variety of political systems regions and levels of economic development questions of women's status power means and methods of reform are addressed on a global scale Includes chapters on the following countries Argentina Australia Bangladesh Bolivia Brazil Canada China Costa Rica Cuba Czechoslovakia former Egypt France Germany Ghana Great Britain Greece
