Taking Space Seriously Law Space And Society In Contemporary Israel:

Taking Space Seriously Issachar Rosen-Zvi, 2017-10-24 This perceptive study investigates the different ways in which the state deals with various social groups through the mechanisms of space By means of case studies involving three social groups within Israel's multicultural society the Sephardim the Bedouin Arab minority and the ultra Orthodox community of Jerusalem the different roles played by political space in legal analysis are revealed and analyzed Issachar Rosen Zvi then unearths the unifying logic underlying the disparate legal treatment of political space brought to light by the case studies The law treats political space differently depending on the social group involved an attitude that the author argues can be traced back to early Zionist thinking He concludes that a reform of local government law is required to correct the segregated system of political space and the separate and unequal distribution of political power and economic resources that accompany it

Life after Ruin Noam Leshem, 2017 Noam Leshem examines the radical transformation of Arab landscapes seized by Israel in the 1948 war By looking at the spatial history of Arab villages Leshem highlights the intricate and often intimate engagements between Jews and Arabs in the present day

The Expanding Spaces of Law Irus Braverman, Nicholas Blomley, David Delaney, Alexandre Kedar, 2014-05-28 The Expanding Spaces of Law presents readers with cutting edge scholarship in legal geography An invaluable resource for those new to this line of scholarship the book also pushes the boundaries of legal geography reinvigorating previous modes of inquiry and investigating new directions It guides scholars interested in the law space power nexus to underexplored empirical sites and to novel theoretical and disciplinary resources Finally The Expanding Spaces of Law asks readers to think about the temporality and dynamism of legal spaces

Jewish Topographies Julia Brauch, Anna Lipphardt, 2016-05-06 How have Jews experienced their environments and how have they engaged with specific places How do Jewish spaces emerge how are they contested performed and used With these questions in mind this anthology focuses on the production of Jewish space and lived Jewish spaces and sheds light on their diversity inter connectedness and multi dimensionality By exploring historical and contemporary case studies from around the world the essays collected here shift the temporal focus generally applied to Jewish civilization to a spatially oriented perspective The reader encounters sites such as the gardens cultivated in the Ghettos during World War II the Israeli development town of Netivot Thornhill an Orthodox suburb of Toronto or new virtual sites of Jewish Second Life on the Internet and learns about the Jewish landkentenish movement in Interwar Poland the Jewish connection to the sea and the culinary landscapes of Russian Jews in New York Employing an interdisciplinary approach with a strong foothold in cultural history and cultural anthropology this anthology introduces new methodological and conceptual approaches to the study of the spatial aspects of Jewish civilization

Norms and Space: Understanding Public Space Regulation in the Tourist City Lucas Pizzolatto Konzen, 2013

Ethnography and Law Eve Darian-Smith, 2017-11-30 Ethnographies of law are historically associated with anthropology and the study of far away places and people In contrast this volume underscores the importance of ethnographic research in analyzing law in all societies particularly complex developed nations By exploring recent ethnographic research by socio legal scholars across a range of disciplines the volume highlights how an ethnographic approach helps in appreciating the realities of legal pluralism the subtle contradictions in any legal system and how legal meaning is constantly reproduced on the ground through the cultural frames and practices of peoples everyday lives A Jurisprudence of Movement Olivia Barr,2016-02-22 Law moves whether we notice or not Set amongst a spatial turn in the humanities and jurisprudence more specifically this book calls for a greater attention to legal movement in both its technical and material forms Despite various ways the spatial turn has been taken up in legal thought questions of law movement and its materialities are too often overlooked This book addresses this oversight and it does so through an attention to the materialities of legal movement Paying attention to how law moves across different colonial and contemporary spaces this book reveals there is a problem with common law s place Primarily set in the postcolonial context of Australia although ranging beyond this nationalised topography both spatially and temporally this book argues movement is fundamental to the very terms of common law s existence How then might we move well Explored through examples of walking and burial this book responds to the challenge of how to live with a contemporary form of colonial legal inheritance by arguing we must take seriously the challenge of living with law and think more carefully about its spatial productions and place making activities Unsettling place this book returns the question of movement to jurisprudence The I.B. Tauris Handbook of Sociology and the Middle East Fatma Müge Göçek,Gamze Evcimen,2022-11-17

What we understand by the Middle East has changed over time and across space While scholars agree that the geographical core of the Middle East is the Arabian Peninsula the boundaries are less clear How far back in time should we go to define the Middle East How far south and east should we move on the African continent And how do we deal with the minority religions in the region and those who migrate to the West Across this handbook s 52 chapters the leading sociologists writing on the Middle East share their standpoint on these questions Taking the featured scholars as constitutive of the field the handbook reshapes studies on the region by piecing together our knowledge on the Middle East from their path defining contributions The volume is divided into four parts covering sociologists perspectives on Social transformations and social conflict from Israel Palestine and the Iranian Revolution to the Arab Uprisings and the Syrian War The region s economic religious and political activities including the impact of the spread of Western modernity the effects of neo liberalism and how Islam shapes the region s life and politics People s everyday practices as they have shaped our understanding of culture consumption gender and sexuality The diasporas from the Middle East in Europe and North America which put the Middle East in dialogue with other regions of the world The global approach and wide ranging topics represent how sociologists enable us to redefine the boundaries and identities of the Middle East today Spatializing Law Franz von Benda-Beckmann,Keebet von Benda-Beckmann,2016-04-01 Spatializing Law An Anthropological Geography of Law in Society focuses on law and its location exploring how spaces are constructed on the terrestrial and marine surface of the earth with legal means in a rich variety of socio political legal and ecological settings The contributors explore the interrelations between social spaces and physical space highlighting the ways in which legal rules may localise people s rights and obligations in social space that may be mapped onto physical space This volume also demonstrates how different notions of space and place become resources that can be mobilised in social political and economic interaction paying specific attention to the contradictory ways in which space may be configured and involved in social interaction under conditions of plural legal orders Spatializing Law makes a significant contribution to the anthropological geography of law and will be useful to scholars across a broad array of disciplines Mapping the Legal Boundaries of Belonging René Provost, 2014 This collection of essays explores the complex relationship between religion and multiculturalism and the role of the state and law in the creation of boundaries
