Walter W Powell, Patricia Bromley

Tale Of Three Cities Or The Glocalization Of City Management:

A Tale of Three Cities Barbara Czarniawska-Joerges, 2002 Cities are complex sprawling diverse places They are organized but disorganized managed but unmanaged orderly but disorderly Modern metropolitan cities reproduce themselves and we are familiar with the common icons that are replicated in every part of the globe but how should we understand cities For the past five years Professor Czarniawska has been leading a research project on globalization and the management of cities Rather than seeing the city as a conurbation or a location of economic activity or in terms of governance and administration Czarniawska explores the city as an action net An action net of this sort includes various organizations municipal state private and voluntary and non organized individuals Such an approach was designed to avoid the fallacy of viewing the big city as one big organization The city is thus conceived as a particularly complex and disorderly action net a seamless web of interorganizational networks where the city administration proper constitutes just one point of entry and by no means provides a map of the entire terrain The research focuses on three European capitals Warsaw Stockholm and Rome At the outset leading politicians and officials in each city listed the major problems and projects that the city was engaged in for example environmental reforms improvement of public utilities privatization financial targets etc The author selected a number of these for more detailed study reporting upon interesting similarities and differences between the approaches taken The book aims to explore organizing processes in their local context while following the connections between such contexts

A Tale of Three Cities Barbara Czarniawska, 2002 This book examines the effects of globalization at the local level within our everyday lives Rather than seeing the city as a conurbation a location of economic activity or in terms of governance and administration Czarniawska explores the city as an action net She uses studies of city management in Warsaw Stockholm and Rome to develop this looking in particular at the impact of global influences on city management organization and culture

Urban Plots, Organizing Cities Claudio Coletta, 2016-02-11 By focusing on the interplay between material social and narrative dimensions of the city this book examines urban complexity namely the dynamic and entangled nature of urban issues and puts forward a notion of the city as an urban texture Taking an innovative interdisciplinary approach it perceives the way cities are organized as a restless stratification of materials meanings and uses and deals with the interrelationships between actors places administrative rationalities and artefacts It argues that urban fabric is manufactured in this interplay between imagery and practices of all the stake holders including planners city managers and city users Illustrated by in depth empirical studies from across Europe and Latin America the book explores material and symbolic aspects of the urban experience In particular the contributors focus on the less visible ways of organizing urban spaces such as those enacted and embodied by local news artefacts such as signals maps regulations public acts artistic performances sensory experience and collective memories The book offers an articulated discussion on these various means of spatial organisation thereby providing insights into situations of conflict and proposing innovative ways forward for enhancing urban sociability
