Carolina Jews is attuned to the national story of immigrant acculturation but has a southern twist Keeping in mind the larger southern American and Jewish contexts Leonard Rogoff considers how the North Carolina Jewish experience differs from that of Jews in other southern states He explores how Jews very often settled in North Carolina's small towns rather than in its large cities and he documents the reach and vitality of Jewish North Carolinians participation in building the New South and the Sunbelt Many North Carolina Jews were among those at the forefront of a changing South Rogoff argues and their experiences challenge stereotypes of a society that was agrarian and Protestant More than 125 historic and contemporary photographs complement Rogoff's engaging epic providing a visual panorama of Jewish social cultural economic and religious life in North Carolina This volume is a treasure to share and to keep Published in association with the Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina Down Home is part of a larger documentary project of the same name that will include a film and a traveling museum exhibition to be launched in June 2010 Jewish Roots in Southern Soil Marcie Cohen Ferris, Mark I. Greenberg, 2006 A lively look at southern Jewish history and culture American Book Publishing Record, 2005 A Guidebook to South Carolina Historical Markers, 2021-02-19 The South Carolina Historical Marker Program established in 1936 has approved the installation of more than 1 700 interpretive plaques each highlighting how places both grand and unassuming have played important roles in the history of the Palmetto State These roadside markers identify and interpret places valuable for understanding South Carolina's past including sites of consequential events and buildings structures or other resources significant for their design or their association with institutions or individuals prominent in local state or national history This volume includes a concise history of the South Carolina Historical Marker Program and an overview of the marker application process For those interested in specific historic periods or themes the volume features condensed lists of markers associated with broader topics such as the American Revolution African American history women's history the Civil War and Reconstruction While the program is administered by the South Carolina Department of Archives and History most markers are proposed by local organizations that serve as a marker's official sponsor paying its cost and assuming responsibility for its upkeep In that sense this inventory is a record not just of places and subjects that the state has deemed worthy of acknowledgment but of those that South Carolinians themselves have worked to enshrine Homelands Leonard Rogoff, 2007-09 Homelands blends oral history documentary studies and quantitative research to present a colorful local history with much to say about multicultural identity in the South Homelands is a case study of a unique ethnic group in North America small town southern Jews Both Jews and southerners Leonard Rogoff points out have long struggled with questions of identity and whether to retain their differences or try to assimilate into the national culture Rogoff shows how as immigrant Jews became small town southerners they constantly renegotiated their identities and reinvented their histories The Durham Chapel Hill Jewish community was formed during the 1880s and 1890s when the South was recovering from the Reconstruction era and Jews were experiencing ever growing immigration as well as challenging the religious traditionalism of the previous 4 000 years Durham and Chapel Hill Jews recent arrivals from the traditional societies of eastern Europe assimilated and secularized as they lessened their differences with other Americans Some Jews assimilated through intermarriage and conversion but the trajectory of the community as a whole was toward retaining their religious and ethnic differences while attempting to integrate with their neighbors The Durham Chapel Hill area is uniquely suited to the study of the southern Jewish experience Rogoff maintains because the region is exemplary of two major trends the national population movement southward and the rise of Jews into the professions The Jewish peddler and storekeeper of the 1880s and the doctor and professor of the 1990s Rogoff says are representative figures of both Jewish upward mobility and southern progress
