Talking About A Revolution The Languages Of Educational Reform:

Talking about a Revolution Jacqueline Cossentino, 2004 Talking about a Revolution Jacqueline Cossentino, 2004-10-14
Analyzes how teachers attempt to translate the language of reform into pedagogical action Re-Envisioning Education and Democracy Ruthanne Kurth-Schai, Charles R. Green, 2006-09-01
The fate of public education and therefore the future of our democracy is at risk. Powerful forces are eroding commitment to public schools and weakening democratic resolve. Yet even in deeply troubling times it is possible to broaden social imagination and empower efforts toward systemic progressive reform. This book is an invitation for widespread participation in a complex process: re-envisioning education and democracy. To reenvision is to envision and then envision again; it is to join with others in imagining new possibilities and bringing these into existence. Re-envisioning is a radically social process. Although distinct and varied individual contributions are required, transformative visions cannot be advanced through the agency of one charismatic person or bound by one influential perspective. The process of re-envisioning, like all forms of democratic living and learning, draws energy and insight when connection and communion are sustained across dimensions of difference. Re-envisioning is an intensely creative and exploratory process. It is not accomplished through careful construction of best-laid plans aimed at attaining certainty and control. Re-envisioning is instead experienced and evolved by preparing for and then acting on informed and strategic glimpses. These brief and fleeting impressions, multimodal and multi-sensory, incomplete and ambiguous, always in motion, offer potentials but no definitive answers. Re-envisioning is a profoundly ethical and aesthetic process centered in prospects for social justice, compassion, reform, and renewal. Social movements are rarely motivated by commitments to narrow objectives aimed at solving specific problems. Across time and cultures we are drawn to persons and processes, to ideas and images that call us back to remember our highest principles and move us forward to respond with acts of integrity and grace. Recurrent themes of beauty and power, here mirrored in chapter titles, inspire, guide, and liberate collective vision and principled action. Re-envisioning, although accessible to all, remains largely undeveloped and underutilized. Our collective ability to realize progressive aspirations for education and democracy can be significantly enhanced by integrating the process of re-envisioning with other more familiar educational and political reform strategies. The Politics of Language in the Spanish-Speaking World Clare Mar-Molinero, 2002-11
This book traces how and why Spanish has arrived at its current position, examining its role in the diverse societies where it is spoken, from Europe to the Americas. Psychological Theory and Educational Reform David R. Olson, 2003-06-16
For well over a century, educational reformers have looked for a breakthrough in the sciences of psychology and pedagogy that would dramatically improve the effectiveness of schooling. This book shows why such an ambition is an illusion. Schools are institutions which attempt to balance the needs of a bureaucratic society that funds them with the personal goals, interests, hopes, and ambitions of the students who enroll in them. Reform efforts attempt to realign that balance without any clear conception of how the two are related. This book offers a theoretical account of the relation between the minds of learners and the institutional structure of the school that would account both for the ways that schooling remakes minds and societies and why such institutions are resistant to change

The Politics of Education Reform in the Middle East Samira Alayan,Achim Rohde,Sarhan Dhouib,2012-06-01 Education systems and textbooks in selected countries of the Middle East are increasingly the subject of debate This volume presents and analyzes the major trends as well as the scope and the limits of education reform initiatives undertaken in recent years In curricula and teaching materials representations of the Self and the Other offer insights into the contemporary dynamics of identity politics By building on a network of scholars working in various countries in the Middle East itself this book aims to contribute to the evolution of a field of comparative education studies in this region Teaching Writing in Chinese

Speaking Areas Mark Shiu-Kee Shum,De-lu Zhang,2005-11-23 One of the most civilized nations in history China has a long standing writing tradition and many Chinese texts have become world treasures However the way the Chinese teach writing in various countries in contemporary times is little known to the outside world especially in Western countries Undoubtedly the Chinese have had an established traditional method of writing instruction However recent social and political developments have created the perception amongst both practitioners and researchers of a need for change Whilst certain socio political changes both in Mainland China and in the territories acted as agents for reform of the teaching of composition the shape these reforms are taking has been due to many different influences coming both from inside the countries themselves and from foreign sources Mainland China Hong Kong Taiwan and Singapore have each developed their own approach to the teaching of composition Transformation of Knowledge and Educational Reform Zhongying Shi,2023-03-31 This book defines the concept of knowledge transformation describes the historical process of knowledge transformation and analyses its deep influence on education theory and practice by virtue of multiple discipline resources The general scope of this book encompasses the philosophy of education curriculum studies and education reform research It enables readers to understand how hidden epistemological factors have changed or reshaped the education system throughout history and at present Language Politics in Tunisia Fethi Helal,Joseph Lo Bianco,2025-02-11 This book offers both an empirical examination of language ideologies and language policies in post Arab Spring Tunisia and a detailed critical and interdisciplinary model of Language Policy and Planning LPP The authors present a comprehensive picture of how multiple language ideologies interact and play out as language policy against a background of political turmoil in a country with a complex history of indigenous and colonial languages They utilise critical perspectives from Sociolinguistics and Applied Linguistics and add Critical Discourse Studies and a Discourse Historical Approach to produce a model of LPP for scholars in other settings to describe and work to improve their own specific language contexts Science, Language, and Reform in Victorian Poetry Barbara Barrow,2019-05-29 Barrow s timely book is the first to examine the link between Victorian poetry the study of language and political reform Focusing on a range of literary scientific and political texts

Barrow demonstrates that nineteenth century debates about language played a key role in shaping emergent ideas about popular sovereignty While Victorian scientists studied the origins of speech the history of dialects and the barrier between human and animal language poets such as Elizabeth Barrett Browning Alfred Tennyson and Thomas Hardy drew on this research to explore social unrest the expansion of the electorate and the ever widening boundaries of empire Science Language and Reform in Victorian Poetry recovers unacknowledged links between poetry philology and political culture and contributes to recent movements in literary studies that combine historicist and formalist approaches
