The Future As If It Really Matterred:

As If the Future Mattered Neva R. Goodwin, 1996 Explores how society can learn to care about the future Once in the Countryside Lloyd Suh, 2025-10-30 Discover complex histories and experiences of Asian Americans through the work of 2023 Pulitzer Prize finalist Lloyd Suh For the past decade Lloyd Suh has dramatized forgotten moments that have indelibly shaped American history Through a sustained exploration of over 150 years of Asian and Asian American experiences these plays contest the pastness of the past to reveal the unexpected ways that untold histories reverberate into the present Suh's theatrical imagination his stylistic and formal artistry empathy wit and humor shine through unforgettable characters Unique in scope and perspective these history plays offer a powerful testament to the ingenuity and endurance of Asian America The Chinese Lady is a portrait of the United States as seen through the eyes of the first Chinese woman in America Afong Moy who was put on display as she comes of age in a nation struggling to define itself Set in the wake of the Chinese Exclusion Act The Far Country is an intimate epic that traces the forging of an unlikely family through invented biographies and poems of longing from rural Taishan to the wild west of California A play for young audiences Bina's Six Apples follows Bina whose family grows the finest apples in all of Korea when war forces them to flee their home With just six precious apples to her name Bina discovers she is not the only one searching for family and a new home In Charles Francis Chan Jr's Exotic Oriental Murder Mystery it is 1967 and Frank Chan and Kathy Ching are trying to stage a revolution but find themselves thrown into a metatheatrical cage match between a fledgling political identity and the malignant persistence of stereotypes and yellowface In The Heart Sellers recent immigrants Jane from Korea and Luna from the Philippines run into each other in a grocery store on Thanksgiving in 1973 Over the course of one impulsive evening fueled by wine and roasted sweet potatoes they confess their fears and share their hopes for an unknowable future in the United States In addition to these scripts Once in the Countryside includes prefaces by theatre and performance studies scholars Lucy Mae San Pablo Burns Amy Huang Ju Yon Kim Christine Mok and Elizabeth W Son and postscripts by theatre artists May Adrales Jiyoun Chang Peter Kim Whit K Lee and Shannon Tyo The collection opens with an introduction by editor Christine Mok and closes with an interview with the playwright himself The plays along with their context criticism and collaborative insight offer an expansive view of Lloyd Suh's vision in an inaugural collection to inspire theatre makers and students Living for the Future Rachel Muers, 2008-10-01 Our relationship to future generations raises fundamental issues for ethical thought to which a Christian theological response is both possible and significant A relationship to future generations is implicitly central to many of today's most public controversies over environmental protection genetic research and the purpose of education to name but a few but it has received little explicit or extended consideration In Living for the Future Rachel Muers argues and seeks to demonstrate that to consider future generations as ethically significant is not simply to extend an existing ethical framework but to rethink how ethics is done Doing intergenerationally responsible theology and ethics means paying attention to how people are formed as theological and ethical reasoners about the good how social practices of deliberation about the good are maintained and developed and how all of this relates to an understanding of the world as the sphere of God's transforming action In other words an intergenerationally responsible theological ethics will pay attention to the ethics and the spirituality of ethics itself Her account of the ethical relation to future generations centres on three key concepts choosing life see Deut 30 19 keeping the sources open and sustaining fruitful contexts These concepts are developed theologically and in engagement with extra theological conversations on intergenerational responsibility She shows how they take up and move beyond concerns expressed in those conversations for survival for the right distribution of resources and for the maintenance of human values
