Situations and Attitudes Jon Barwise, John Perry, 1983 In this provocative book Barwise and Perry tackle the slippery subject of meaning a subject that has long vexed linguists language philosophers and logicians Situations and Attitudes Jon Barwise, John Perry, 1983 In this provocative book Barwise and Perry tackle the slippery subject of meaning a subject that has long vexed linguists language philosophers and logicians Meaning they propose does not exist solely within words and sentences but resides largely in the situation and the attitudes brought to it by those involved They present a witty and clear treatment of important innovations in the field of natural semantics contending that the standard view of logic as derived from Frege Russell and work in mathematics and logic is inappropriate for many of the uses to which it has been put by scholars In Situations and Attitudes they provide the basics of a realistic model theoretic semantics of natural language explain the main ideas of the theory and contrast them with those of competing theories Jon Barwise is Director of the Center for the Study of Language and Information at Stanford University John Perry is Professor of Philosophy also at Stanford of an evolving money bargaining system The book reviews attempts to derive an evolutionary economic theory from Darwin's theory of evolution by natural selection Neoclassical economic theory has had enormous influence on the governance of societies principally through its theoretical endorsement of the benefits of free markets An evolutionary account of economic processes should change the basis of debate The theory presented here will be of interest immediately to all economists whether evolutionary heterodox or neoclassical It will facilitate the work of economic historians who complain that current theory gives no guidance for their historical investigations Beyond the confines of professional theory making many will find it a revelatory response to questions that have hitherto gone unanswered Attitudes & Social Adaptation L.
