"[This little azure-coloured book] is the true Apocalypse, this where the 'Open Secret' becomes revealed to a man. I rejoice much in the glad serenity of soul with which you look out on this wondrous Dwelling-place of yours and mine,—with an ear for the Ewigen Melodien which pipe in the winds round us and utter themselves forth in all sights and sounds and things."

of woman s rights by conceptualizing a more fluid and equitable model of gender founded upon the mythical reconfiguration of human potential But as her horizons expanded Fuller demanded not only political equality for women but also emotional intellectual and spiritual freedom for all victims of social oppression By the end of her career Steele shows Fuller had blended personal experience and cultural critique into the imaginative reconstruction of American society Beginning with a fervent belief in personal reform she ended her career with the apocalyptic conviction that the dominant myths both of selfhood and national identity must be transfigured Out of the ashes of personal turmoil and political revolution she looked for the phoenix of a revitalized society founded upon the ideal of political justice The History of Metaphors of Nature Stephen A.
