Small Gardens For City And Country:

Small Gardens for City and Country Alice Recknagel Ireys, 1978 City and State, 1919 Landscape for Living United States. Department of Agriculture, 1972 Landscape for Living The Yearbook of Agriculture 1972 by the U S Department of Agriculture explores the vital role that plants and landscaping play in the environment highlighting their importance in both aesthetic and functional aspects of living spaces The publication covers topics related to the design and maintenance of gardens landscape architecture and horticulture Monthly Bulletin of Books Added to the Public Library of the City of Boston Boston Public Library, 1905 Growing Vegetables in Town and City Victor Rickman Boswell, Robert Emerson Wester, 1962 The Urban Archetypes of Jane Jacobs and Ebenezer Howard Abraham Akkerman, 2020-01-09 Ebenezer Howard an Englishman and Jane Jacobs a naturalized Canadian personify the twentieth century's opposing outlooks on cities Howard had envisaged small towns newly built from scratch fashioned on single family homes with small gardens Jacobs embraced existing inner city neighbourhoods emphasizing the verve of the living street From Howard's idea the American Dream of garden suburbs had emerged yet his conceptualization of a modern city received criticism for being uniform and alienated from the rest of the city Similarly at the turn of the new century Jacobs inner city neighbourhoods came to be recognized as the result of commodification vacillating between poverty and newly discovered hubs of urban authenticity Presenting Howard and Jacobs within a psychocultural context The Urban Archetypes of Jane Jacobs and Ebenezer Howard addresses our urban crisis in the recognition that city form is a gendered allegorical medium expressing femininity and masculinity within two founding features of the built environment void and volume Both founding contrasts bring tensions but also the opportunities of fusion between pairs of urban polarities human scale against superscale gait against speed and spontaneity against surveillance Jacobs and Howard in their respective attitudes have come to embrace the two ancient archetypes the Garden and the Citadel leaving it to future generations to blend their two contrarian stances City Planning, 1926 Ecology and the Literature of the British Left H. Gustav Klaus, Valentine Cunningham, 2016-04-29 Premised on the belief that a social and an ecological agenda are compatible this collection offers readings in the ecology of left and radical writing from the Romantic period to the present While early ecocriticism tended to elide the bitter divisions within and between societies recent practitioners of ecofeminism environmental justice and social ecology have argued that the social the economic and the environmental have to be seen as part of the same process Taking up this challenge the contributors trace the origins of an environmental sensibility and of the modern left to their roots in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries charting the ways in which the literary imagination responds to the political industrial and agrarian revolutions Topics include Samuel Taylor Coleridge's credentials as a green writer the interaction between John Ruskin's religious and political ideas and his changing view of nature William Morris and the Garden City movement H G Wells and the Fabians the devastated landscapes in the poetry and fiction of the First World War and the leftist pastoral poetry of the 1930s In historicizing and connecting environmentally sensitive literature with socialist thought these essays explore the interactive vision of nature and society in the work of writers ranging from William Wordsworth and John Clare to John Berger and John Burnside

Space, Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion, 2009-02-28 A classic first published in 1941 and translated into half a dozen languages Space Time and Architecture is an the unparalleled work on the shaping of our architectural environment The discussions of leading architects Wright Gropius Le Corbusier Van der Rohe Aalto Utzon Sert Tange and Maki are accompanied by over 500 illustrations

Regenerating Cities Maria Elena Zingoni de Baro, 2022-01-18 This book sets out the discussion on how cities can contribute solutions to some of the challenges the urbanised world is facing such as the pressure of growing populations mitigation of effects of and adaptation to globally changing environmental climate and public health conditions Presenting a detailed explanation of the causes behind the current state of modern cities the book advocates for a paradigm shift to improve the quality of life of ever increasing urban inhabitants whilst nourishing the natural systems that sustain human and non human life in the planet Recognising the precious role that nature plays in the functioning of cities it delves into the study of biophilic design and regenerative development The book argues that these social ecological design approaches can act as catalysts to develop conditions in urban settings that are beneficial for natural and human systems to thrive and flourish both in ecosystem services and social cultural systems This is particularly relevant for the design of new quality precincts or the regeneration of degraded urban spaces to promote health wellbeing and urban resilience A framework is proposed to guide the process of thinking about designing and building healthier more liveable and resilient urban environments that raise the quality of life in cities The method can be used by researchers practitioners urban designers urban planners architects and landscape architects interested in developing their work within a social ecological perspective It can also be used by local governments and agencies to underpin policy making and by educational institutions to prepare graduates with necessary skills to respond to current and future built environment challenges
