Slump City The Politics Of Mass Unemployment:

Slump City Andrew Friend, Andy Metcalf, 1981 Scarman and After John Benyon, 2014-05-17 Scarman and After Essays Reflecting on Lord Scarman's Report the Riots and their Aftermath covers the proceedings of a conference on Lord Scarman's social and economic issues held at the University of Leicester in April 1982 organized by the Continuing Education Unit of the University's Department of Adult Education The Lord Scarman Report itemized and stressed particular issues that arose from the Brixton disorders This text is organized into five parts encompassing 22 chapters The first parts explore the political agenda of the Brixton riot and Lord Scarman's report explanations images and impact of riots Another part is concerned with the issues in policy making related to the community public and accountability These topics are followed by discussions of the issues of unemployment and racial disadvantages in cities The last part contains a summary of the Report This book will prove useful to historians sociologists and researchers Urban Regeneration and Neoliberalism Clare Kinsella, 2020-10-29 This book explores the concept of home in Liverpool over phases of regeneration following the Second World War Using qualitative research in the oral history tradition it explores what the author conceptualises as forward facing regeneration in the period up to the 1980s and neoliberal regeneration interventions that prioritise the past from the 1980s to the present The author examines how the shift towards city centre focused redevelopment and event led initiatives has implications for the way residents make sense of their conceptualisations of home and demonstrates how the shift in regeneration focus discourse and practice away from Liverpool's neighbourhood districts and towards the city centre has produced changes in the ways that residents identify with neighbourhoods and the city centre with prominence being given to the latter Employing Pierre Bourdieu's concepts of habitus and field as mechanisms for understanding different senses of home and shifts from localised views to globalised views this book will appeal to those with interests in urban sociology regeneration geography sociology home cultures and cities Conscience and Critic Keith Tudor, 2016-11-10 Health beyond the absence of illness The Death of Consensus Phil Tinline, 2022-06-23 Over Britain's first century of mass democracy politics has lurched from crisis to crisis How does this history of political agony illuminate our current age of upheaval To find out journalist Phil Tinline takes us back to two past eras when the ruling consensus broke down and the future filled with ominous possibilities until finally a new settlement was born How did the Great Depression's spectres of fascism bombing and mass unemployment force politicians to think the unthinkable and pave the way to post war Britain How was Thatcher's road to victory made possible by a decade of nightmares of hyperinflation military coups and communist dictatorship And why since the Crash in 2008 have new political threats and divisions forced us to change course once again Tinline brings to life those times past and present when the great compromise holding democracy together has come apart when the political class has been forced to make a choice of nightmares This lively original account of panic and chaos reveals how apparent catastrophes can clear the path to a new era The Death of Consensus will make you see British democracy differently State, Power, Crime Roy Coleman, David Whyte, 2009-11-04 Featuring contributions by many of the leading scholars in the field this seminal text explores the key themes and debates on state power today in relation to crime and social order It critically evaluates a range of substantive areas of criminological concern including terrorism surveillance violence and the media The Global City Saskia Sassen, 2025-09-09 In her classic book The Global City Saskia Sassen tells how New York London and Tokyo became command centers of the emerging global economy and in the process underwent massive and parallel changes The book reorients the way we think about how cities shape and are shaped by globalization and provides lessons for the future Feminism and "race" Kum-Kum Bhavnani, 2001 The past two decades have seen the incursion of feminist thought into many academic areas Within the academy feminist approaches have gained some legitimacy and yet simultaneous with these disciplinary advances there have been charges of racism directed at feminist scholarship and practice These charges have resulted in feminist work continuously reshaping itself This volume represents the strength as well as diversity of writings which discuss race and feminism showing how these two areas usually considered to be distinct and therefore discrete from each other have developed Feminism and Race includes articles spanning a number of disciplinary areas such as history literary analysis sociology and psychology and provides a history of how second wave feminisms have negotiated race as well as suggesting what future directions these debates may take

Selling the Welfare State Ray Forrest, Alan Murie, 2014-06-03 Originally published in 1988 this book offers the first comprehensive and critical analysis of the privatisation of public housing in Britain It outlines the historical background to the growth of public housing and the developing political debate surrounding its disposal The main emphasis in the book however is on the ways in which privatisation in housing links to other key changes in British society The long trend for British social housing to become a welfare housing sector is related to evidence of growing social polarisation and segregation Within this overall context the book explores the uneven spatial and social consequences of the policy

Diversity and Decomposition in the Labour Market David Robbins, Lesley Caldwell, Graham Day, Karen Jones, Hilary Rose, 2018-05-11 Originally published in 1982 Diversity and Decomposition in the Labour Market is an edited collection addressing the contemporary sociology of the labour market The collection focuses on the categorisation of the diverse dualities that might be thought to characterise certain labour markets The collection addresses many economic sectors and there is a distinct focus on labour market analyses developed within neo classical and radical economics in the USA The analyses maintain that the labour market is in some sense dualistic Obstacles to Fairness in Criminal Proceedings John D Jackson, Sarah J Summers, 2018-03-22 This volume considers the way in which the focus on individual rights may constitute an obstacle to ensuring fairness in criminal proceedings The increasingly cosmopolitan nature of criminal justice forcing legal systems with different institutional forms and practices to interact with each other as they attempt to combat crime beyond national borders has accentuated the need for systems to seek legitimacy beyond their domestic traditions Fairness expressed in terms of the right to a fair trial in provisions such as Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights has emerged across Europe as the principal means of guaranteeing the legitimacy of criminal proceedings. The consequence of this is that criminal procedure doctrines are framed overwhelmingly in constitutional terms: the protection of defence rights is necessary to restrict and legitimate the state's mandate to prosecute crime. Yet there are various problems with relying solely or predominantly on defence rights as a means of ensuring that proceedings are fair or legitimate and these issues are rarely discussed in the academic literature. In this volume scholars from the disciplines of law, philosophy and sociology challenge various normative assumptions underpinning our understanding of fairness in criminal proceedings.

Legacy of Empire Werner Glinga, 1986

No Justice, No Police? Matt Clement, 2023-05-26 Sparked by the brutal police murder of George Floyd, the second wave of the Black Lives Matter protest movement has surged across more than 100 US cities, spilling into Brazil, South Africa, Paris and London to name a few of the primary sites of active resistance. This is a new movement, international in scope, with a disproportionately large section of young people, black and white, using their own language and tactics to fundamentally challenge the whole range of racist institutions governing today's globalised world. Matt Clement's No Justice, No Police: The Politics of Protest and Social Change chronicles this movement as it continues to deepen and broaden.

Making Space Matrix, 2022-03-08 Timely re-issue of the groundbreaking manifesto for feminist architecture. Making Space is a pioneering work first published in 1984 which challenges us to look at how the built environment impacts on women's lives. It exposes the sexist assumptions on gender and sexuality that have a fundamental impact on the way buildings are designed and our cities are planned. Written collaboratively by the feminist collective Matrix, the book provides a full-blown critique of the patriarchal built environment both in the home and in public space and outlines alternative forms of practice that are still relevant today. Making Space remains a path-breaking book pointing to possibilities of a feminist future. Some authors worked for the London-based Matrix Feminist Architects collective, an architectural practice set up in 1980 seeking to establish a feminist approach to design. They worked on design projects such as community children and women's centres. Others were engaged in building work, teaching and research. The new edition comes with a new introduction examining the context, process and legacy of Making Space, written by leading feminists in architecture.

Cities of the Mind Lloyd Rodwin, Robert M. Hollister, 2013-06-29 Curious about the images of the city that have been evolving in the different social sciences, we did what academics often do in such a situation: we set up a seminar on Images of the City in the Social Sciences. From the start we counted on the help of specialists in other fields to pursue their interests. Of the persons who agreed to participate, all but two came from the United States and their analyses in the main reflect the experience of Western countries and the United States. In our formal instructions to our collaborators we took for granted that a variety of images of the city could be found or inferred in their fields of expertise. We asked them to identify these images and their functions to explain how and why they have changed over time and to relate these images to the distinct intellectual traditions and techniques analytical or otherwise in their respective fields The definition of image was left to the judgment of the participants

The Rise and Fall of the Right of Silence Hannah Quirk, 2016-11-25 Within an international context in which the right to silence has long been regarded as sacrosanct this book provides the first comprehensive empirically based analysis of the effects of curtailing the right to silence The right to silence has served as the practical expression of the principles that an individual was to be considered innocent until proven guilty and that it was for the prosecution to establish guilt In 1791 the Fifth Amendment to the US Constitution proclaimed that none shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself In more recent times the privilege against self incrimination has been a founding principle for the International Criminal Court the new South African constitution and the ad hoc International Criminal Tribunals for Rwanda and the former Yugoslavia Despite this pedigree over the past 30 years when governments have felt under pressure to combat crime or terrorism the right to silence has been reconsidered as in Australia curtailed in most of the United Kingdom or circumvented by the creation of the military tribunals to try the Guant namo detainees The analysis here focuses upon the effects of the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 in England and Wales There curtailing the right to silence was advocated in terms of common sense policy making and was achieved by an eclectic borrowing of concepts and policies from other jurisdictions The implications of curtailing this right are here explored in detail with reference to England Wales and Northern Ireland but within a comparative context that examines how different types of legal systems regard the right to silence and the effects of constitutional protection

Effective Educational Leadership Nigel Bennett, Megan Crawford, Marion Cartwright, 2008-03-25 Keith Grint's persuasive essay on the art of leadership in Effective Educational Leadership is uncannily accurate Tim Brighouse Times Educational Supplement its unique contribution is the exploration of links between leadership discourses and the themes that have emerged from the school effectiveness movements since the 1980s Riley and MacBeath provide one of the most valuable contributions to the volume by arguing that there are no generic recipes for educational leadership but ingredients which need to be carefully selected with a knowledge of specific contexts and needs I would use this book with graduate students and practitioners seeking to develop a perspective about contemporary educational leadership Its greatest contribution is its exploration of the links between effective leadership and effective education The book also provides optimism in that many of the authors have not capitulated to the reductionist visions of the past two decades There is still hope that educational theorists and practitioners view the life world as the true source of educational inspiration Journal of Educational Administration

Leadership is the theme of this decade This series provides an enormously valuable overview of all the critical issues involved in designing leadership as the main strategy for educational reform A great and timely collection Michael Fullan Dean OISE University of Toronto This book makes an excellent contribution to the current debate on Educational Leadership It blends theory with practice and as such provides an important resource for many aspects of leadership development programmes at a variety of levels Its ability to draw upon international perspectives along with examples beyond conventional educational parameters enhances its quality The book contains a well documented account of how leadership has been studied which will appeal both to the academic reader and to the professional provider of CPD in leadership offering a wealth of information that can be practically adopted and adapted for a range of courses Stephen Merrill Journal of Inservice Education Educational management and administration studies focus on leadership as a key determinant of effective educational institutions and currently much leadership preparation is characterized by a rational skills focused approach Placing current thinking in leadership studies in its organizational and historical context this book explores its implications for leadership preparation leadership theory in action and examines some of the dilemmas and tensions facing educational leaders in practice It draws on literature and research from both the private and public sectors It is deliberately international in its content and focus and examines a range of practice both within and outside education Each chapter has a short introduction by the editors setting it in context This book is for providers and students in higher educational institutions for postgraduate level courses in educational management and for leadership development provision for Headteachers induction programmes NPQH and LPSH It is also suitable for short courses and for practitioners occupying or aspiring to leadership roles in schools colleges and other educational organizations

Social Work and Social Perspectives Eileen Oak, 2008-11-24 Social Work and Social Work Perspectives introduces readers to a range of important sociological concepts showing how these can feed critical practice and illustrate social work s complex relationship with the welfare state Adopting a unique social policy framework this distinctive text is illuminating reading

Inside Babylon Winston James, Clive Harris, 1993 The varied experience of the Caribbean diaspora in Britain with its difficult and fractured history is reflected in this distinctive and lively collection The contributors to Inside Babylon show how employers and police psychiatrists and welfare services help to channel black people into residential and occupational ghettos Clive Harris Bob Carter and Shirley Joshi analyse the economic destiny of Afro Caribbeans in Britain Going beyond the familiar prisms of race relations and reductionist class analysis they illuminate the radicalizing dynamic of British capitalism in the postwar period Errol Francis provides a shocking account of the experience of black people at the hands of psychiatrists in Britain Cecil Gutzmore finds the Notting Hill carnival to be a litmus test of racist formations in both the media and the state as well as evidence of the resilience of the black community Amina Mama and Claudette Williams explore the position of women in black communities while Gail Lewis focuses on their characteristic patterns of employment In a powerful concluding essay Winston James charts the unfolding of a new Afro Caribbean identity in Britain and debunks the notion that racist structures by themselves create a homogeneous black community Publisher
