Managerial Accounting: Tools for Decision Making

QUESTIONS

- Q14.1. Financial accounting is interest based accounting system, and is concerned with general purpose financial statements. These financial accounting statements are highly aggregated, report on relatively long time periods, are subject based and thus, are not convenient for managerial decisions. These statements emphasize the sale of objective data.
- Management accounting is interest based accounting system, and is concerned with quantitative information. This information may be aggregated or disaggregated, depending on need, covering relatively shortening time long or short, depending on need. This information is interest primarily toward the future and there are need to conform to external standards. Consequently, this data may be subjective. If subjective information is allowed.
- Q14.2. Strategic cost management is a blending strategic management ideas, strategic positioning, and value chain analysis.
- Q14.3. All organization's statements that have purpose based either to activities are ethical. Consequently, very early in their existence, all good is a unethical, measureable objective. While can become non-organization's mission.
- Q14.4. The three strategic problems that lead to business success and sustainability, product or service differentiation, cost focus and a market focus. Cost leadership intends controlling costs to ensure the competitive position of the firm. Product or service differentiation involves creating something considered unique and worth a premium price, cost focusing can a market place says that the firm can better serve a market through means than is being used.
