Edinburgh History of Children's Periodicals Michelle J. Smith,Beth Rodgers,Kristine Moruzi,2024-04-30 Since the publication of the first children s periodical in the 1750s magazines have been an affordable and accessible way for children to read and form virtual communities Despite the range of children s periodicals that exist they have not been studied to the same extent as children s literature The Edinburgh History of Children s Periodicals marks the first major history of magazines for young people from the mid eighteenth century to the present Bringing together periodicals from Britain Ireland North America Australia New Zealand and India this book explores the roles of gender race and national identity in the construction of children as readers and writers It provides new insights both into how child readers shaped the magazines they read and how magazines have encouraged children to view themselves as political and world subjects A Southern Life Paul Green,2017-02-15 This exceptional collection provides new insight into the life of North Carolina writer and activist Paul Green 1894-1981 the first southern playwright to attract international acclaim for his socially conscious dramas Green who taught philosophy and drama at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill won the Pulitzer Prize in 1927 for In Abraham's Bosom an authentic drama of black life Among his other Broadway productions were Native Son and Johnny Johnson From the 1930s onward Green created fifteen outdoor historical productions known as symphonic dramas thereby inventing a distinctly American theater form These include The Lost Colony 1937 which is still performed today Laurence Avery has selected and annotated the 329 letters in this volume from over 9 000 existing pieces The letters to such figures as Sherwood Anderson Langston Hughes Richard Wright John Dos Passos Zora Neale Hurston and others interested in the arts and human rights in the South are alive with the intellect buoyant spirit and sensitivity to the human condition that made Green such an inspiring force in the emerging New South Avery's introduction and full bibliography of the playwright's works and first productions give readers a context for understanding Green's life and times

We Also Served Vivien Newman,2014-11-30 A social history of British women's brave yet forgotten service during WWI from a historian of female wartime experiences includes photos At the outbreak of World War I women looking to contribute to the Allied effort were told by the war office to go home and sit still Thankfully hundreds of thousands of women from all corners of society ignored that advice and lent their collective strength to the cause In We Also Served Vivien Newman digs beneath the myths surrounding women's war efforts to reveal stories of determination and heroism Becoming nurses munitions workers members of the Land Army ambulance drivers and surgeons women stepped readily into a world normally occupied by men Some served with the Armed Forces others funded and managed their own hospitals within sight and sound of the guns At least one British woman bore arms and over a thousand women lost their lives as a direct result of their involvement with the war This profoundly important history by an expert in female wartime experiences lets these all but forgotten voices finally be heard A short book rich in facts and personal testimonies Historical Novel Society

The Upper Class in Late Victorian and Edwardian England: a Study of the Formation and Perpetuation of Class Bias Arthur Meija,1968 People, Places, Things - Essays by Elizabeth Bowen Elizabeth Bowen,2008-11-26 This volume collects for the first time essays published in British Irish and American periodicals during Bowen's lifetime as well as essays which have never been published before The range of subjects alone makes these essays indispensable reading Throughout her career Elizabeth Bowen the Anglo Irish novelist and short story writer also wrote literary essays that display a shrewd generous intelligence Always sensitive to underlying tensions she evokes the particular climate of countries and places in Hungary

Prague and the Crisis and Bowen's Court In Britain in Autumn she records the strained atmosphere of the blitz as no other writer does Immediately after the war she reported on the International Peace Conference in Paris in a series of essays that are startling in their evocation of tense diplomacy among international delegates scrabbling to define the boundaries of Europe and the stakes of the Cold War The aftershock of war registers poignantly in Opening Up the House owners evacuated during the war return to their houses empty since 1939 Other essays in this volume especially those on James Joyce Jane Austen and the technique of writing offer indispensable mid century evaluations of the state of literature The essays assembled in this volume were published in British Irish and American periodicals during Bowen's lifetime She herself did not gather them into any collection Some of these essays exist only as typescript drafts and are published here for the first time Bowen's observations on age toys disappointment charm and manners place her among the very best literary essayists of the modernist period
