Balachandran,2002-12-31 Ten Canadian Poets. A Group of Biographical and Critical Essays. By D. Pacey William Cyril Desmond PACEY,1958 Major Canadian Authors David Stouck,1988-01-01 Canadian literature in English presents a wealth of imaginative experience that belies the colonial status sometimes accorded the world s second largest country This revised and expanded edition of Major Canadian Authors provides an entrance into that realm Stouck s carefully integrated essays introduce the life and writings of eighteen foremost Canadian authors including

Robertson Davies Margaret Laurence Sinclair Ross and Alice Munro The second edition adds a new chapter on Margaret Atwood updates the text and expands the reference guide to include more than sixty Canadian authors Canadian Literatures in English, Volume One - Second Edition Cynthia Sugars, Laura Moss, 2025-07-28 The long awaited second edition of Canadian Literatures in English has been updated throughout to include recent scholarship and fresh literary works As with the previous edition the anthology reflects the editors commitment to historical contextualization cultural inclusion and a nuanced understanding of critical debates over the long literary history of what is now Canada New to the second edition are works by Catharine Parr Traill Edith Maude Eaton L M Montgomery Ethel Wilson and others The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole Ten Canadian poets Desmond Pacey, 1969 Alan Crawley and Contemporary Verse Joan McCullagh, 2011-11-01 Little magazines like Alan Crawley s Contemporary Verse are the life blood of literary culture They provide an ongoing forum in which both well established and new poets can experiment and present their latest work and it is often with the little magazines therefore that literary change and originality have their beginnings Today there is no shortage of such outlets in Canada But in 1941 when Alan Crawley began to publish Contemporary Verse in North Vancouver there were only two in the whole country Both of these Canadian Poetry Magazine and Canadian Forum were in the East and neither was in any way committed to modernism Contemporary Verse thus became a major element in the foundations of modern Canadian poetry In this book Joan McCullagh shows how between 1941 and 1952 the magazine charted the establishment of modernism in Canadian poetry by publishing even before 1947 the largest most impressive and most representative collection of early forties poetry in the country Her extensive quotation from the hitherto unpublished correspondence between Crawley and nearly every major poet of the forties also shows how important and valued a literary influence Crawley himself was as a critic and advisor behind the scenes Daryl Hine and Jay Macpherson are only two of the poets who were first encouraged and guided by Alan Crawley s private criticism of work they sent him and then first published in Contemporary Verse Other poets with whom he corresponded at length and whose poetry he published including P K Page James Reaney Louis Dudek Raymond Souster Dorothy Livesay Anne Wilkinson and Earle Birney Very few libraries even in Canada hold a complete set of the 39 issues of Contemporary Verse The index to the magazine that Joan McCullagh has compiled and included here will therefore serve not only as a guide to Contemporary Verse itself but also as an indispensable publishing record of many Canadian poets during the 1940 s The Picturesque and the Sublime Susan Glickman, 2000 Winner of the Gabrielle Roy Prize in English and the Raymond Klibansky Prize The Picturesque and the Sublime is a cultural history of two hundred years of nature writing in Canada from eighteenth century prospect poems to contemporary encounters with landscape Arguing against the received wisdom made popular by Northrop Frye and Margaret Atwood that Canadian writers view nature as hostile Susan Glickman places Canadian literature in the English and European traditions of the sublime and the picturesque Glickman argues that early immigrants to Canada brought with them the expectation that nature would be grand mysterious awesome even terrifying and welcomed scenes that conformed to these notions of sublimity She contends that to interpret their descriptions of nature as negative as so many critics have done is a significant misunderstanding Glickman provides close readings of several important works including Susanna Moodie s Enthusiasm Charles G D Roberts s Ave and Paulette Jiles s Song to the Rising Sun and explores the poems in the context of theories of nature and art Instead of projecting backward from a modernist perspective Glickman reads forward from the discovery of landscape as a legitimate artistic subject in seventeenth century England and argues that picturesque modes of description and a sublime aesthetic have governed much of the representation of nature in this country Susan Glickman is a poet living in Toronto She is the author of Complicity The Power to Move Henry Moore s Sheep and Other Poems and Hide and Seek
