Philippians and Galatians Stanley P. Saunders, 2001-08-01 The letters to the Philippian and Galatian congregations illustrate well the passion and intensity of the writing of the apostle Paul Philippians is perhaps Paul's warmest letter affirming the already close relationship between the Philippians and Paul with the language of partnership joy and humility Galatians on the other hand reveals frustration and anger and lacks the expression of thanksgiving typically found near the beginning of Paul's letters. Although Paul presumes a relationship of trust and respect with the Philippians, the tone of Galatians suggests that he thinks he may already have lost this community to an erroneous vision of the gospel, a perspective that was not really the gospel at all.

Job David C. Hester, 2005-01-01 In this study, noted Old Testament scholar and Christian educator David Hester focuses on the difficult questions raised in Job: where is God in the worst moments of our emptiness? What are we to do when experience casts doubt on what we have always believed? Where in the world is justice? The author brings to this writing his own experience of suffering. His touching honesty provides a moving connection between the ancient text and the world of today, inviting us to join in Job's search for hope and healing.
