Resistance and Empowerment in Black Women's Hair Styling Dr Elizabeth Johnson, 2013-07-28

Elizabeth Johnson's Resistance and Empowerment in Black Women's Hair Styling develops the argument that one way Black women define themselves and each other is by the way they style groom their hair via endorsement by the media through advertisement idealized identification of Black female celebrities and encouragement by professional celebrity hair stylists who serve as change agents As a result hair becomes a physical manifestation of their self identity revealing a private and personal mindset Her research answers the following questions What is the relationship between Black females choice of hairstyles grooming and transmitted messages of aesthetics by the dominant culture through culturally specific magazines What role do the natural hair blogs vlogs play as a change agent in encouraging or discouraging consumers grooming their hair in its natural state What impact does a globalized consumer market of Black hair care products have on Hispanic Latinas and Bi Racial women Are Black female Generation Y members more likely to receive backlash for failure to conform their hair to dominant standards in their hair adornment in the workplace Johnson thus demonstrates that the major concern from messages sent to Black women about their hair is its impact on Black identity Thus the goal of Black women should be to break with hegemonic modes of seeing thinking and being for full liberation This critical and deep consciousness will debunk the messages told to Black women that their kinky frizzy thick hair is undesirable bad unmanageable and shackling Black Women, Citizenship, and the Making of Modern Cuba Takkara K. Brunson,2023-03-07 In the first book to focus on the activism of Black women during Cuba s prerevolutionary period Takkara Brunson discusses how these women battled exclusion on multiple fronts but played an important role in forging a modern democracy Resistance and Empowerment in Black Women's Hair Styling Elizabeth Johnson,2016-04-08 Elizabeth Johnson s Resistance and Empowerment in Black Women's Hair Styling develops the argument that one way Black women define themselves and each other is by the way they style groom their hair via endorsement by the media through advertisement idealized identification of Black female celebrities and encouragement by professional celebrity hair stylists who serve as change agents As a result hair becomes a physical manifestation of their self identity revealing a private and personal mindset Her research answers the following questions What is the relationship between Black females choice of hairstyles grooming and transmitted messages of aesthetics by the dominant culture through culturally specific magazines What role do the natural hair blogs vlogs play as a change agent in encouraging or discouraging consumers grooming their hair in its natural state What impact does a globalized consumer market of Black hair care products have on Hispanic Latinas and Bi Racial women Are Black female Generation Y members more likely to receive backlash for failure to conform their hair to dominant standards in their hair adornment in the workplace Johnson thus demonstrates that the major concern from messages sent to Black women about their hair is its impact on Black identity Thus the goal of Black women should be to break with hegemonic modes of seeing thinking and being for full liberation This critical and deep consciousness will debunk the messages told to Black women that their kinky frizzy thick hair is undesirable bad unmanageable and shackling The Digital Lives of Black Women in Britain Francesca Sobande,2020-08-11 Based on interviews and archival research this book explores how media is implicated in Black women s lives in Britain From accounts of twentieth century activism and television representations to experiences of YouTube and Twitter Sobande s analysis traverses tensions between digital culture s communal counter cultural and commercial qualities Chapters 2 and 4 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com Critical Perspectives on Black Women and College Success Lori D. enhance their educational success Perspectives about Black undergraduate women from various facets of the higher education spectrum are included sharing their experiences in academic and social settings issues of identity intersectionality and the services and support systems that contribute to their success in college and beyond Presenting comprehensive theoretically grounded and thought provoking scholarship Critical Perspectives on Black Women and College Success is a definitive resource for scholarship and research on Black undergraduate women African American Young Girls and Women in PreK12 Schools and Beyond Renae D. Mayes, Marjorie C. Shavers, James L. Moore III, 2022-06-02 African American Young Girls and Women in PreK12 Schools and Beyond Informing Research Policy and Practice presents a comprehensive viewpoint on preK 12 schooling for African American females This volume offers readers compelling evidence of the educational challenges and successes for this student population Black African Story Isaac B Thomas, 2019-04-03 In Black African Story Isaac attempts to expose reasons for Black people's failure to get along at the same pace with other races in terms of technological advancement and economic prosperity He discusses reasons that some sections of the immediate black society are not keen in discussing such as cultural reforms The book offers possible solutions with much emphasis on Zimbabwe and Malawi as case studies Diasporic Women's Writing of the Black Atlantic Emilia María Durán-Almarza, Esther Álvarez López, 2013-10-30 This book brings together a complete set of approaches to works by female authors that articulate the black Atlantic in relation to the interplay of race class and gender The chapters provide the grounds to engender a more complex understanding of the scattered geographies of the African diaspora in the Atlantic basin The variety of approaches displayed bears witness to the vitality of a field that over the years has become a diasporic formation itself as it incorporates critical insights and theoretical frameworks from multiple disciplines in the social sciences and the humanities thus exposing the manifold character of black diasporic interconnections within and beyond the Atlantic Focusing on a wide array of contemporary literary and performance texts by women writers and performers from diverse locations including the Caribbean Canada Africa the US and the UK chapters visit genres such as performance art the novel science fiction short stories and music For these purposes the volume is organized around two significant dimensions of diasporas on the one hand the material corporeal and spatial locations where those displacements associated with travel and exile occur and on the other the fluid environments and networks that connect distant places cultures and times This collection explores the ways in which women of African descent shape the cultures and histories in the modern colonial and postcolonial Atlantic worlds Black Woman's Guide to Beautiful Hair Lisa Akbari, 2002 Presents a program for African American women to take care of their hair and scalp Feminist Judgments Ann C. McGinley, Nicole Buonocore Porter, 2020-10-15 How would feminist perspectives and analytical methods change the interpretation of employment discrimination law Would the conscious use of feminist perspectives make a difference This volume shows the difference feminist analysis can make to the interpretation of employment discrimination statutes This book brings together a group of scholars and lawyers to rewrite fifteen employment discrimination decisions in which a feminist analysis would have changed the outcome or the courts reasoning It demonstrates that use of feminist perspectives and methodologies if adopted by the courts would have made a significant difference in employment discrimination law leading to a fairer and more egalitarian workplace and a more prosperous society

Ain't I a Beauty Queen? Maxine Leeds Craig, 2002-06-20 Black is Beautiful The words were the exuberant rallying cry of a generation of black women who threw away their straightening combs and adopted a proud new style they called the Afro The Afro as worn most famously by Angela Davis became a veritable icon of the Sixties Although the new beauty standards seemed to arise overnight they actually had deep roots within black communities Tracing her story to 1891 when a black newspaper launched a contest to find the most beautiful woman of the race Maxine Leeds Craig documents how black women have negotiated the intersection of race class politics and personal appearance in their lives Craig takes the reader from beauty parlors in the 1940s to late night political meetings in the 1960s to demonstrate the powerful influence of social movements on the experience of daily life With sources ranging from oral histories of Civil Rights and Black Power Movement activists and men and women who stood on the sidelines to black popular magazines and the black movement press Ain t I a Beauty Queen will fascinate those interested in beauty culture gender class and the dynamics of race and social movements

Challenging Misrepresentations of Black Womanhood Marquita M. Gammage, Antwanisha Alameen-Shavers, 2019-03-22 Challenging Misrepresentations of Black Womanhood investigates the typecasting of Black womanhood and the larger sociological impact on Black women s self perceptions It details the historical and contemporary use of stereotypes against Black women and how these women work to challenge and dispel false perceptions The book highlights the role of racist ideas in the reproduction and promotion of stereotypes of Black femaleness in media literature artificial intelligence and the perceptions of the general public Contributors in this collection identify the racist and sexist ideologies behind the misperceptions of Black womanhood and illuminate twenty first century stereotypical treatment of Black women such as Michelle Obama and Serena Williams and explore topics such as comedic expressions of Black motherhood representations of Black women in television dramas and literature and identity reclamation and self determination Challenging Misrepresentations of Black Womanhood establishes the criteria with which to examine the role of stereotypes in the lives of Black women and more specifically its impact on their social and psychological well being
