The Synchronic and Diachronic Phonology of Ejectives Paul D. Fallon, 2013-12-16 This study is the first book length examination of ejectives and their phonological patterning deepening the empirical understanding of ejectives and contributing to both phonological theory and to typologies of sound change

The Prophecy That Is Shaping History Jon Mark Ruthven, Jon Ruthven, 2003 Millions of Jews Christians and Muslims believe that a 2 500 year old prophecy is about to be fulfilled a global apocalyptic jihad of many nations against the tiny state of Israel whose recent re emergence in its traditional land has sparked unrelenting rage and attack Repeated resolutions passed in the United Nations reflect world wide and nearly unanimous hostility against the so called Zionist entity even to the point of denying its right to exist Most news media and political analysts seem unaware of the ancient prophecy that not only predicts this apocalyptic war but also amazingly how this prophecy by Ezekiel chapters 36-44 provides the scenario for numerous best selling books in both the English speaking and Muslim worlds These best sellers not only describe this great conflagration but actually also motivate their readers to prepare for it The Prophecy That Is Shaping History represents a major advance in research and scholarship in examining the historical and contemporary impact of Ezekiel's prophecy on world events This academic monograph also offers a wealth of new evidence in tracing the identities origins and ultimate destinies of the key nations of Ezekiel's prophecy who are seen to participate in what millions believe will be the most horrific battle the world will ever witness

The Black Sea Flood Question:

Changes in Coastline, Climate and Human Settlement Valentina Yanko-Hombach, Allan S. Gilbert, Nicolae Panin, Pavel M. Dolukhanov, 2006-11-15 Stimulated by Noah's Flood Hypothesis proposed by W. Ryan and W. Pitman in which a catastrophic inundation of the Pontic basin was linked to the biblical story leading experts in Black Sea research including oceanography, marine geology, paleoclimate, paleoenvironment, archaeology and linguistic spread provide overviews of their data and interpretations obtained through empirical scientific approaches. Among the contributors are many East European scientists whose work has rarely been published outside of Cyrillic. Each of the 35 papers marshals its own evidence for or against the flood hypothesis. No summary or overall resolution to the flood question is presented but instead access is provided to a broad range of interdisciplinary information that crosses previously impenetrable language barriers so that new work in the region can proceed with the benefit of a wider frame of reference. The three fundamental scenarios describing the late glacial to Holocene rise in the level of the Black Sea: catastrophic, gradual and oscillating are presented in the early pages with the succeeding papers organized by geographic sector: northern Ukraine, western Moldova, Romania and Bulgaria, southern Turkey and eastern Georgia and Russia as well as three papers on the Mediterranean. The volume thus brings together eastern and western scholarship to share research findings and perspectives on a controversial subject. In addition, appendices are included containing some 600 radiocarbon dates from the Pontic region obtained by USSR and western laboratories.
