problem of addressing not only the substantive elements of the body of law but a means through which the characteristics of the calling of law are imparted and instilled At a time when the very essence of the legal profession is under threat this book calls for a realignment of the legal curriculum and pedagogies so as to emphasise the development of culture over industry character over eloquence and calling over skill Chapters are grouped around the core content and key themes of Curiosity Calling Character and Conscientiousness Contract and Culture The volume includes contributions from leading experts drawn internationally and from other professional disciplines in order to present alternative approaches aimed at tackling common issues providing insight and provoking debate

Women, Their Lives, and the Law Victoria Barnes, Nora Honkala, Sally Wheeler, 2023-12-14 This collection of essays honours Rosemary Auchmuty Professor of Law at the University of Reading UK She has fostered the study of women's academic careers and more politically advanced progress on gender and equality issues including same sex marriage and property law Her research promotes the case of feminist legal history as a way of revealing the place of women and challenging dominant historical narratives that cast them aside Just as Rosemary's work does the book seeks to end the marginalisation and exclusion of women in the legal world by including them The book begins fittingly with a discussion of Miss Bebb the woman whose biography Auchmuty deployed to push feminist legal history into the mainstream It turns then to a discussion of women known and unknown and their struggles within the legal profession offering within those chapters a critical appraisal of the role of history and biography as a methodology From there it moves to consider feminist perspectives and critiques of the dominant structures of private law This is followed by chapters that explore those who educate the legal profession within the academy The chapters and the collection as a whole examine areas of law that have a deep significance for women s lives

Rules and Networks Richard Appelbaum, William Felstiner, Volkmar Gessner, 2001-12-21 International business transactions are heavily influenced by culture practice and rule The pursuit of business relationships within nation states can be subject to differences in the generation of norms and the processing of disputes but these conflicts are magnified many times over in cross border transactions where nation state control and support is weak or absent This book seeks different explanations of the ways in which business people and their legal advisers try to minimise the effect of these magnified difficulties At the outset the editors suggest four sources through which the international business community might be considered to have supplemented nation state conflict prevention and dispute resolution institutions an international legal order the development of a private normative order based on common business practices denominated the lex mercatoria through the efforts and work product of internationalised law firms and by means of extensive thick personal relationships often referred to by their Chinese term guanxi Since most explanations are dominated by North American and European legal scholarship and practice a second concern of this book is to open up the discussion to competing explanatory frameworks Specifically it develops the notion that global legal convergence may not be the immediate inevitable result of increased global economic interaction Rather less formal mechanisms for achieving normative understanding and predictability in business dealings may also flourish

Elgar Concise Encyclopedia of Legal Education Fiona Cownie,Anthony Bradney,Emma Jones,2025-01-09 This Concise Encyclopedia provides a thorough overview of legal education and explores diverse topics including the use of digital skills in law schools and the intersection between law and economics and law and humanities Carefully curated it presents an invaluable survey of legal pedagogy

The Globalization of Legal Education Bryant G. Garth,Gregory C. Shaffer,2022 Legal academics and practitioners in recent decades increasingly emphasize the so called globalization of legal education The diffusion of the Juris Doctor JD degree to Australia Hong Kong Japan and South Korea as well as the advent of a very similar Juris Master JM degree in China and a shift in the late 1980s and beyond to a new US influenced format in India exemplify shifts toward US legal education practices Flood 2014 The global and Americanizing trend is evident on the web sites of law schools around the globe with many law schools competing to be the most global in terms of their faculty curricula teaching methods and students Less pronounced but related to the literature on legal globalization is that on transnationalization and transnational processes which is a strong component of the move toward globalization in legal education As this book shows if we look to see what is celebrated as part of globalized law schools and faculties we see increased cross border flows of professors and students teaching of transnational legal subjects development of particular forms of teaching practice such as legal clinics explicit focus on transnational rankings and transnationalized scholarly communities sharing teaching and research methods and approaches across domains of law

The Teaching of Criminal Law Kris Gledhill,Ben Livings,2016-08-19 The Teaching of Criminal Law provides the first considered discussion of the pedagogy that should inform the teaching of criminal law It originates from a survey of criminal law courses in different parts of the English speaking world which showed significant similarity across countries and over time It also showed that many aspects of substantive law are neglected This prompted the question of whether any real consideration had been given to criminal law course design This book seeks to provide a critical mass of thought on how to secure an understanding of substantive criminal law by examining the course content that best illustrates the thought process of a criminal lawyer by presenting innovative approaches for securing active learning by students and by demonstrating how criminal law can secure other worthwhile graduate attributes by introducing wider contexts This edited collection brings together contributions from academic teachers of criminal law from Australia New Zealand the United Kingdom and Ireland who have considered issues of course design and often implemented them Together they examine several innovative approaches to the teaching of criminal law that have been adopted in a number of law schools around the world both in teaching methodology and substantive content The authors offer numerous suggestions for the design of a criminal law course that will ensure students gain useful insights into criminal law and its role in society This book helps fill the gap in research into criminal law pedagogy and demonstrates that there are alternative ways of delivering this core part of the law degree As such this book will be of key interest to researchers academics and lecturers in the fields of criminal law pedagogy and teaching methods

Reorganization and Resistance William Felstiner, 2005-12-19 Reorganization and Resistance analyses the ways in which the legal professions of nine countries England France the Netherlands Germany Canada the US Mexico Australia and Korea and one continent South America have confronted the internal and external political economic and social upheavals of the past twenty years It documents how change and resistance are inextricably tied together in an oppositional tension where the greater weight shifts gradually from one to the other even shifts backwards at times but in the long view runs in the direction of change The most obvious instance almost everywhere is the struggle of women in legal professions where improvement is undeniable even as resistance is varied and stiff The book charts the way demographic shifts have changed the work of lawyers the way that the revenue from law practice has been re distributed and the extent to which barriers based on race class religion and gender have shrunk or shifted It describes how some professions have been forced by government or co regulation with government to reorganize It also documents how others have not kept pace with transformations in the economy and changes and challenges to legal education take center stage while demographic shifts and institutional reorganization are of much less importance
