

The background of the cover is a historical map, likely from the 17th or 18th century, showing the Americas, Europe, and Africa. The map is rendered in a sepia or aged parchment tone. At the bottom of the cover, there are three detailed illustrations of sailing ships, possibly galleons or frigates, with multiple masts and sails, navigating across a body of water. The ships are positioned in the lower left, center, and right of the bottom section.

Mystery Interactions in Interpretation, 2020-11-04 The concept of intertextuality was originally coined as an instrument in answering the question of how meaning is communicated through texts The Interactions in Interpretation discusses various aspects of how the world of the Bible seen as a world of a certain language a complex of ideas notions images idioms stories that are shared and referred to communicates with other worlds in both directions The collection of studies follows three types of interactions with marked bearing on understanding 1 interactions with a particular motif of dream 2 interactions with a particular text of Isa 6 9 10 3 intertextuality in changing contexts Reconceiving Religious Conflict Wendy Mayer, Chris L. de Wet, 2018-01-17 Reconceiving Religious Conflict deconstructs instances of religious conflict within the formative centuries of Christianity the first six centuries CE It explores the theoretical foundations of religious conflict the dynamics of religious conflict within the context of persecution and martyrdom the social and moral intersections that undergird the phenomenon of religious conflict and the relationship between religious conflict and religious identity It is unique in that it does not solely focus on religious violence as it is physically manifested but on religious conflict and tolerance looking too at dynamics of religious discourse and practice that often precede and accompany overt religious violence Castration and Culture in the Middle Ages Larissa Tracy, 2013 Essays exploring medieval castration as reflected in archaeology law historical record and literary motifs Castration and castrati have always been facets of western culture from myth and legend to law and theology from eunuchs guarding harems to the seventeenth and eighteenth century castrati singers Metaphoric castration pervades a number of medieval literary genres particularly the Old French fabliaux exchanges of power predicated upon the exchange or absence of sexual desire signified by genitalia but the plain literal act of castration and its implications are often overlooked This collection explores this often taboo subject and its implications for cultural mores and custom in Western Europe seeking to demystify and demythologize castration Its subjects include archaeological studies of eunuchs historical accounts of castration in trials of combat the mutilation of political rivals in medieval Wales Anglo Saxon and Frisian legal and literary examples of castration as punishment castration as comedy in the Old French fabliaux the prohibition against genital mutilation in hagiography and early modern anxieties about punitive castration enacted on the Elizabethan stage The introduction reflects on these topics in the context of arguably the most well known victim of castration in the middle ages Abelard LARISSA TRACY is Associate Professor of Medieval Literature at Longwood University Contributors Larissa Tracy Kathryn Reusch Shaun Tougher Jack Collins Rolf H Bremmer Jr Jay Paul Gates Charlene M Eska Mary A Valante Anthony Adams Mary E Leech Jed Chandler Ellen Lorraine Friedrich Robert L A Clark Karin Sellberg Lena W nggren The Psychology of Science and the Origins of the Scientific Mind Gregory J. Feist, 2008-10-01 In this book Gregory Feist reviews and consolidates the scattered literatures on the psychology of science then calls for the establishment of the field as a unique discipline He offers the most comprehensive perspective yet on how science came to be possible in our species and on the important role of psychological forces in an individual's development of

Among Ourselves and with All Nations Angelo Codevilla,2014-05-01 Author Angelo Codevilla asks What is to be America's peace How is it to be won and preserved in our time He notes that our government's increasingly unlimited powers flow in part from our statesmen's inability to stay out of wars or to win them and that our statesmen and academics have ceased to think about such things The purpose of this book is to rekindle such thoughts The author reestablishes early American statecraft's understanding of peace what it takes to make it and what it takes to keep it He reminds Americans why our founding generation placed the pursuit of peace ahead of all other objectives he shows how they tried to keep the peace by drawing sharp lines between America's business and that of others as well as between peace and war He shows how our 20th century statesmen confused peace and war as well as America's affairs with that of mankind's The result he shows has been endless war abroad and spiraling strife among Americans Codevilla provides intellectual guidelines for recovering the pursuit of peace as the guiding principle by which the American people and statesmen may navigate domestic as well as international affairs The Medical Pickwick ,1923 Get Well Soon Jennifer Wright,2017-02-07 A witty irreverent tour of history's worst plagues from the Antonine Plague to leprosy to polio and a celebration of the heroes who fought them In 1518 in a small town in Alsace Frau Troffea began dancing and didn't stop She danced until she was carried away six days later and soon thirty four more villagers joined her Then more In a month more than 400 people had been stricken by the mysterious dancing plague In late seventeenth century England an eccentric gentleman founded the No Nose Club in his gracious townhome a social club for those who had lost their noses and other body parts to the plague of syphilis for which there was then no cure And in turn of the century New York an Irish cook caused two lethal outbreaks of typhoid fever a case that transformed her into the notorious Typhoid Mary Throughout time humans have been terrified and fascinated by the diseases history and circumstance have dropped on them Some of their responses to those outbreaks are almost too strange to believe in hindsight Get Well Soon delivers the gruesome morbid details of some of the worst plagues we've suffered as a species as well as stories of the heroic figures who selflessly fought to ease the suffering of their fellow man With her signature mix of in depth research and storytelling and not a little dark humor Jennifer Wright explores history's most gripping and deadly outbreaks and ultimately looks at the surprising ways they've shaped history and humanity for almost as long as anyone can remember
