Monographic Series Library of Congress,      Rethinking US Education Policy Daniel Araya, 2016-02-11 Drawing on discussions of the Creative Economy the Network Economy and the Green Economy Rethinking US Education Policy critiques educational policies authored by the Obama administration and considers the need for a new educational policy framework that is better adapted to an era of accelerating innovation      Resources in Education, 1999-04      The Sage Handbook of School Music Education José Luis Aróstegui, Catharina Christophersen, Jeananne Nichols, Koji Matsunobu, 2024-09-27 The Sage Handbook of School Music Education stands as an essential guide for navigating the evolving educational landscape in the wake of the 2008 financial crisis and the transformative impact of the COVID 19 pandemic The handbook addresses philosophical foundations social justice challenges the envisioning of a transformative curriculum and critical issues in music teacher education Written by a diverse team of leading scholars this handbook offers a truly global perspective with contributors from Africa Asia Australasia Europe and North and South America The handbook engages with the profound interplay of economic political and social forces that shape educational policies Scholars within this collaborative work delve into what it means to educate in a world undergoing significant changes This entails an exploration of emerging educational approaches considerations for societal implications and the interconnectedness of school music education with broader curricular and global contexts As a cohesive resource The Sage Handbook of School Music Education not only addresses the challenges faced by educators but also envisions the transformative potential of music education in fostering creativity inclusivity and adaptability This handbook serves as a compass for students practitioners and scholars in the field and all those passionate about navigating the complexities of redefining music education for a new era Part 1 Foundations Part 2 Struggling for Social Justice Through Music Education Part 3 Curriculum Development Part 4 Teacher Education

Education and Social Transition in the Third World Martin Carnoy, Joel Samoff, 2014-07-14 Through a comparative analysis of educational theory and practice this analytic overview illuminates the larger economic and political changes occurring in five peripheral countries China Cuba Tanzania Mozambique and Nicaragua commonly viewed as in transition to socialism Current political patterns and leadership in these countries have emerged in the context of predominantly agricultural industrially underdeveloped economies Each state has played a major role in social transformation relying on the educational system to train educate and socialize its future citizens Discussing the similarities and differences among these states the authors show the primacy of politics and the interaction of material and ideological goals in the process of social transition and how shifting policies reflect and are reflected in educational change This collection first examines critical analyses of education in capitalist societies both industrialized and peripheral and explores the utility of those perspectives in the political and educational conditions of the countries under study Together these essays offer the first systematic explanation of how and why education in socialist countries undergoing rapid change differs from education in developing capitalist countries Contributions to the study were made by Mary Ann Burris Anton Johnston and Carlos Alberto Torres Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      Education And Democracy Pilar O'Cadiz,Pia Wong,Carlos Torres,2018-03-08 This book has been almost seven years in the making Though the work has certainly not been continuous for all those years it was a major focus of the three of us for most of them It is a tribute to Paulo Freire his courage his humanity and the timelessness and relevancy of his ideas that our work on this manuscript was never tedious never dull and never a burden but rather a constant source of joy inspiration and discovery Although the book was always intended to be a critical but friendly description and analysis of Freire s efforts as Secretary of Education the need to disseminate information about this radical educational reform became even more urgent after the sad news of Paulo Freire s death in May 1997 Thus while this text is the result of the scholarly efforts of three researchers it is also a celebration of a revolutionary thinker who had the unique opportunity to make his ideas concrete and therefore affect the lives of countless young children in his native country We dedicate our efforts on this volume to Paulo Freire and to the hundreds of educators in Sao Paulo whom he inspired to work tirelessly in creating a happy democratic school dedicated to serving poor and working class children and their communities It has been our pleasure and privilege to have worked with Paulo Freire and the many educators involved in educational reform in Sao Paulo Their commitment courage political clarity and struggle for social justice and equality are a constant source of motivation and inspiration for us to renew and reinvigorate our own efforts in the fight for equal rights decency and justice      Education Policy Les Bell,Howard Stevenson,2006-09-27 The study of educational leadership makes little sense unless it is in relation to who the leaders are how they are leading what is being led and with what effect Based on the premise that learning is at the heart of leadership and that leaders themselves should be learners the Leadership for Learning series explores the connections between educational leadership policy curriculum human resources and accountability Each book in the series approaches its subject matter through a three fold structure of process themes and impact Series Editors Clive Dimmock Mark Brundrett and Les Bell As global pressures focus increasing attention on the outcomes of education policy and on their implications for economic prosperity and social citizenship the experience of each individual learner is decisively shaped by the wider policy environment However there is often an underdeveloped understanding of how education policy is formed what drives it and how it impacts on schools and colleges This book explicitly makes these connections and links them to the wider challenges of educational leadership in a modern context Education Policy is divided into three sections which examine the development of policy at the levels of the nation state and individual institutions the forces that shape policies with emphasis on human capital theory citizenship and social justice and accountability research based case studies highlighting the application of policy in a range of situations The book provides a valuable resource for students practitioners middle managers and educational leaders in all sectors both in the UK and internationally who are engaged on masters and doctoral degrees or undertaking leadership training and preparation programmes

Myanmar's Education Reforms Marie Lall, 2020-11-02 This book reviews the state of education in Myanmar over the past decade and a half as the country is undergoing profound albeit incomplete transformation Set within the context of Myanmar's peace process and the wider reforms since 2012 Marie Lall's analysis of education policy and practice serves as a case study on how the reform programme has evolved Drawing on over 15 years of field research carried out across Myanmar the book offers a cohesive inquiry into government and non government education sectors the reform process and how the transition has played out across schools universities and wider society It casts scrutiny on changes in basic education the alternative monastic education higher education and teacher education and engages with issues of ethnic education and the debate on the role of language and the local curriculum as part of the peace process In so doing it gives voice to those most affected by the changing landscape of Myanmar's education and wider reform process the students and parents of all ethnic backgrounds teachers teacher trainees and university staff that are rarely heard

Theorizing Teaching and Learning in Asia and Europe John Chi-Kin Lee, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2017-03-27 There has been much debate in recent times between the Anglo American tradition of curriculum studies and the Continental and North European tradition of didactics Didaktik As important as such debate has been this book seeks to add new voices to the debate representing ideas and traditions from a different part of the world The focus is on Chinese curriculum thinking that has passed through a number of stages and currently represents a blend of some aspects of the American tradition and Chinese cultural traditions How does Chinese thinking about curriculum teaching and learning resonate with European didactic traditions and what are the implications for theorizing an expanded field of curriculum studies This book deliberately transcends borders and cultures to explore new territory to provide a platform for open dialogue and to open up new areas of investigation Chapters include Curriculum Reform and Research in China A Social Historical Perspective What Mathematics Did Teachers Learn Comparison of the School and the Pre Service Teacher Mathematics Curricula in Germany and Taiwan Living in Parallel Worlds A Transatlantic Dialogue between General Didactics and Instructional Design

Sartre and No Child Left Behind , Darian M. Parker, 2015-12-16 Sartre and No Child Left Behind An Existential Psychoanalytic Anthropology of Urban Schooling asks two fundamental questions Who do students become as a result of inhabiting impoverished urban schools for eight hours a day five days a week over the course of several years What happens to the hearts minds and spirits of these children Using nine months of field observation and interviews with students teachers and administrators at a New York City middle school The Academy pseudonym the book offers an in depth analysis of students psychological and emotional experiences of the Title I school environment Ultimately the book demonstrates how the children's experiences become a part of a vicious chain of events The history of racial segregation guarantees inferior schooling conditions and as a result the students perform poorly the school closes gentrification efforts accelerate these closings and ultimately the school's community dies a whisper less death Propelling the study is a new anthropological theory of human consciousness By synthesizing the insights of Sartre Africana existentialists phenomenologists and sociocultural anthropologists Parker offers a preliminary outline for a theory that he names existential psychoanalytic anthropology Based on Sartre's existential psychoanalysis which asserts that we choose who we are from a field of possible beings that we encounter in our cultural environment existential psychoanalytic anthropology studies the complex ways that culture and consciousness work together to form an individual being
