Thrillers Martin Rubin, 1999-03-28 An in depth exploration of the thriller movie genre

Studying the British Crime Film Paul Elliott, 2014-10-01 Ever since its inception British cinema has been obsessed with crime and the criminal One of the first narrative films to be produced in Britain the Hepworth s 1905 short Rescued by Rover was a fast paced quick edited tale of abduction and kidnap and the first British sound film Alfred Hitchcock s Blackmail 1930 centered on murder and criminal guilt For a genre seemingly so important to the British cinematic character there is little direct theoretical or historical work focused on it The Britain of British cinema is often written about in terms of national history ethnic diversity or cultural tradition yet very rarely in terms of its criminal tendencies and dark underbelly This volume assumes that to know how British cinema truly works it is necessary to pull back the veneer of the costume piece the historical drama and the rom com and glimpse at what is underneath For every Brief Encounter 1945 there is a Brighton Rock 2010 for every Notting Hill 1999 there is a Long Good Friday 1980

Historical Dictionary of Film Noir Andrew Spicer, 2010-03-19 Film noir literally black cinema is the label customarily given to a group of black and white American films mostly crime thrillers made between 1940 and 1959 Today there is considerable dispute about what are the shared features that classify a noir film and therefore which films should be included in this category These problems are partly caused because film noir is a retrospective label that was not used in the 1940s or 1950s by the film industry as a production category and therefore its existence and features cannot be established through reference to trade documents The Historical Dictionary of Film Noir is a comprehensive guide that ranges from 1940 to present day neo noir It consists of a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography a filmography and over 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on every aspect of film noir and neo noir including key films personnel actors cinematographers composers directors producers set designers and writers themes issues influences visual style cycles of films e g amnesiac noirs the representation of the city and gender other forms comics graphic novels television and videogames and noir s presence in world cinema It is an essential reference work for all those interested in this important cultural phenomenon

Cinematic Cuts Sheila Kunkle, 2016-05-09 Explores the philosophical literary and psychoanalytic significance of film endings Editing has been called the language of cinema and thus a film s ending can be considered the final punctuation mark of this language framing everything that came before and offering the key to both our interpretation and our enjoyment of a film In Cinematic Cuts scholars explore the philosophical literary and psychoanalytic significance of film endings analyzing how film endings engage our fantasies of cheating death finding true love or determining the meaning of life They examine how endings offer various forms of enjoyment for the spectator from the momentary fulfillment of desire in the happy ending to the pleasurable torment of an indeterminate ending The contributors also consider how film endings open onto larger questions relating to endings in our time They suggest how a film s ending hidden counternarrative can be read as a political act how our interpretation of a film ending parallels the end of a psychoanalytical session how film endings reveal our anxieties and fears and how cinema itself might end with the

The Fictional Christopher Nolan Todd McGowan, 2012-09-01 From Memento and Insomnia to the Batman films The Prestige and Inception lies play a central role in every Christopher Nolan film Characters in the films constantly find themselves deceived by others and are often caught up in a vast web of deceit that transcends any individual lies The formal structure of a typical Nolan film deceives spectators about the events that occur and the motivations of the characters While Nolan's films do not abandon the idea of truth altogether they show us how truth must emerge out of the lie if it is not to lead us entirely astray The Fictional Christopher Nolan discovers in Nolan's films an exploration of the role that fiction plays in leading to truth Through close readings of all the films through Inception Todd McGowan demonstrates that the fiction or the lie comes before the truth and this priority forces us to reassess our ways of thinking about the nature of truth Indeed McGowan argues that Nolan's films reveal the ethical and political importance of creating fictions and even of lying While other filmmakers have tried to discover truth through the cinema Nolan is the first filmmaker to devote himself entirely to the fictionality of the medium and McGowan discloses how Nolan uses its tendency to deceive as the basis for a new kind of philosophical filmmaking He shows how Nolan's insistence on the priority of the fiction aligns his films with Hegel's philosophy and understands Nolan as a thoroughly Hegelian filmmaker
