The Idea Of A European Superstate Public Justification And European Integration:

The Idea of a European Superstate Glyn Morgan, 2005 Recog 1 Justification 2 Nationalism 3 Euroscepticism 4 Welfare 5 Security 6 A postsovereign Europe 7 A sovereign Europe Theoretical Approaches to European Integration Sabine Saurugger, 2013-08-30 This major new text provides a uniquely broad ranging introduction to and assessment of the contribution of the whole range of theoretical approaches that have been applied to the analysis of European integration It provides tools for understanding the underlying logic behind the political and economic debates that take place in the EU today Constitutional Paradigms and the Stability of States Noel Cox, 2016-05-23 This book examines the influence of constitutional legal paradigms upon the political stability and viability of states It contributes to the literature in the field by focussing on how constitutional flexibility may have led to the rise of successful states and to the decline of unsuccessful states by promoting stability Divided into two parts the book considers theories of the rise and fall of civilizations and individual states explains the concept of hard and soft constitutions and applies this concept to different types of state models A series of international case studies in the second part of the book identifies the key dynamics in legal political and economic history and includes the UK US New Zealand and Eastern Europe The European Experience Jan Hansen, Jochen Hung, Jaroslav Ira, Judit Klement, Sylvain Lesage, Juan Luis Simal, Andrew Tompkins, 2023-02-21 The European Experience brings together the expertise of nearly a hundred historians from eight European universities to internationalise and diversify the study of modern European history exploring a grand sweep of time from 1500 to 2000 Offering a valuable corrective to the Anglocentric narratives of previous English language textbooks scholars from all over Europe have pooled their knowledge on comparative themes such as identities cultural encounters power and citizenship and economic development to reflect the complexity and heterogeneous nature of the European experience Rather than another grand narrative the international author teams offer a multifaceted and rich perspective on the history of the continent of the past 500 years Each major theme is dissected through three chronological sub chapters revealing how major social political and historical trends manifested themselves in different European settings during the early modern 1500 1800 modern 1800 1900 and contemporary period 1900 2000 This resource is of utmost relevance to today s history students in the light of ongoing internationalisation strategies for higher education curricula as it delivers one of the first multi perspective and truly European analyses of the continent s past Beyond the provision of historical content this textbook equips students with the intellectual tools to interrogate prevailing accounts of European history and enables them to seek out additional perspectives in a bid to further enrich the discipline Globalisation and Europeanisation in Education Roger Dale, Susan Robertson, 2009-05-11 This book grew out of the experience of a European Union Thematic Network of the same title and focuses on aspects of the complex and varying relationships between globalisation Europeanisation and Education The volume is divided into two parts PART 1 Governance and the Knowledge Economy focuses on how the discourses of a

Knowledge Economy and Lifelong Learning and an emerging functional and scalar division of the labour of educational governance became central to the development of a European Education Space Contributors emphasise the role of the European Commission and especially the Lisbon agenda in this process and considers the role of the Open Method of Coordination and the Bologna Process in the construction of the EES A key theme linking Europeanisation to globalisation is the prominence of the discourse of competitiveness and the role allocated to education in enhancing Europe's ability to compete with the United States and Japan PART TWO Citizenship Identity and Language looks at the emergence of a new social model for Europe this time from the point of view of how it relates the development of individual capacities and citizenship and the role of intellectuals in this process A second major theme is the place role and choice of languages and at the impact of pressures from globalisation and Europeanisation and national and sub national levels on language choice and teaching taking into account both World Englishes and Language Europe Finally globalisation becomes the central issue in an analysis of its different relationships with northern of which European education policy is taken as the example and southern paradigms of educational development

Reconsidering Europeanization Florian Greiner, Peter Pichler, Jan Vermeiren, 2022-08-01 This pertinent and highly original volume explores how ideas of Europe and processes of continental political socio economic and cultural integration have been intertwined since the nineteenth century Applying a wider definition of Europeanization in the sense of becoming European it will pay equal attention to counter processes of disentanglement and disintegration that have accompanied slowed down or displaced such trends and developments By focusing on the practices agents and experience of Europeanization the volume strives to bring together the history of ideas and the history of human actions and conduct two approaches that are usually treated separately in the field of European studies

Debating European Citizenship Rainer Bauböck, 2018-09-12 This open access book raises crucial questions about the citizenship of the European Union Is it a new citizenship beyond the nation state although it is derived from Member State nationality Who should get it What rights and duties does it entail Should EU citizens living in other Member States be able to vote there in national elections If there are tensions between free movement and social rights which should take priority And should the European Court of Justice determine what European citizenship is about or the legislative institutions of the EU or national parliaments This book collects a wide range of answers to these questions from legal scholars political scientists and political practitioners It is structured as a series of three conversations in which authors respond to each other This exchange of arguments provides unique depth to the debate

The Crisis of the European Union Andreas Grimm, 2017-07-20 The European integration project currently faces profound political economic legal and societal challenges These challenges seem increasingly to overburden the European Union as well as the cohesion among the Member States and therefore pose a serious threat to the integration project The EU faces a major task in coping with this situation and it is one that calls for new approaches and ideas This book addresses the major challenges confronting the EU analyses the consequences for the integration project and develops fresh perspectives on the EU's future prospects for coping with the most debated current and upcoming issues such as the rise of Euroscepticism or the contested idea of an ever closer union. Renowned experts in European Studies from the fields of political science, law, economics and sociology provide an interdisciplinary perspective on the different dimensions of the EU's crisis-laden situation and question whether the EU's existing problem-solving mechanisms and methods are sufficient to address the imminent tasks. This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU Politics, European Politics, European Governance and more broadly European law, history and the wider social sciences.

Supranational citizenship Lynn Dobson, 2013-01-18 Can we conceptualise a kind of citizenship that need not be of a nation state but might be of a variety of political frameworks? Bringing together political theory with debates about European integration, international relations and the changing nature of citizenship, this book available at last in paperback offers a coherent and innovative theorisation of a citizenship independent of any specific form of political organisation. It relates that conception of citizenship to topical issues of the European Union, democracy and legitimate authority, non-national political community and the nature of the supranational constitution. The author argues that citizenship should no longer be seen as a status of privileged membership but instead as an institutional role enabling individuals' capacities to shape the context of their lives and promote the freedom and well-being of others. In doing so, she draws on and develops ideas found in the work of the philosopher Alan Gewirth.

Building Regions Luk Van Langenhove, 2016-04-08 Regions: How they emerge and how they are dramatically changing the appearance of the present world of states and its related forms of governance from local to global levels is analysed in this monograph. But what are regions? Regions can be small or huge. They can be part of a single state, be composed out of different states or stretched out across borders. They can be important, recognized economic, social or cultural entities or they can be largely ignored by the people who live on a region's territory. They can be well defined with clear-cut boundaries as is the case in so-called constitutional regions or they can be fuzzy as for instance in cross-border regions. In sum, they are not a natural kind and defining regions is not a simple task. Luk Van Langenhove advances the concept of region building as an alternative to the construction of regions with three issues of region building being explored: Why are regions built in a world of states? How do region building processes take place? How are regions transforming the present world order? Crossing disciplinary boundaries, this book is an exercise in theorizing regions and brings together under one conceptual framework different processes and concepts such as regional integration, devolution, federalism and separatism and refines the social constructionist view on regions.
