The Legend Of Hammiedownz:

A Thousand Miles from Nowhere John Gregory Brown, 2017-10-24 You have lost everything yes Everything Henry thought he considered the word Had he lost everything Fleeing New Orleans as Hurricane Katrina approaches Henry Garrett is haunted by the ruins of his marriage a squandered inheritance and the teaching job he inexplicably quit He pulls into a small Virginia town after three days on the road hoping to silence the ceaseless clamor in his head But this quest for peace and quiet as the only guest at a roadside motel is destroyed when Henry finds himself at the center of a bizarre and violent tragedy As a result Henry winds up stranded at the ramshackle motel just outside the small town of Marimore and it is there that he is pulled into the lives of those around him Latangi the motel's recently widowed proprietor who seems to have a plan for Henry Marge a local secretary who marshals the collective energy of her women's church group and the family of an old man a prisoner who dies in a desperate effort to provide for his infirm wife For his previous novels John Gregory Brown has been lauded for his compassionate vision of human destiny as well as his melodic haunting and rhythmic prose With A Thousand Miles From Nowhere he assumes his place in the tradition of such masterful storytellers as Flannery O'Connor and Walker Percy offering to readers a tragicomic tour de force about the power of art and compassion and one man's search for faith love and redemption John Gregory Brown is a writer I've long admired and this new novel is his best book yet A

Post-Agreement Northern Irish Literature Birte Heidemann, 2016-06-23 This book uncovers a new genre of post Agreement literature consisting of a body of texts fiction poetry and drama by Northern Irish writers who grew up during the Troubles but published their work in the aftermath of the Good Friday Agreement In an attempt to demarcate the literary aesthetic parameters of the genre the book proposes a selective revision of postcolonial theories on liminality through a subset of concepts such as negative liminality liminal suspension and liminal permanence These conceptual interventions as the readings demonstrate help articulate how the Agreement's rhetorical negation of the sectarian past and its aggressive neoliberal campaign towards a progressive future breed new forms of violence that produce liminally suspended subject positions
