Magical Manuscripts in Early Modern Europe Daniel Bellingradt, Bernd-Christian Otto, 2017-08-31 This book presents the story of a unique collection of 140 manuscripts of learned magic that was sold for a fantastic sum within the clandestine channels of the German book trade in the early eighteenth century The book will interpret this collection from two angles as an artefact of the early modern book market as well as the long tradition of Western learned magic thus taking a new stance towards scribal texts that are often regarded as eccentric peripheral or marginal The study is structured by the apparent exceptionality scarcity and illegality of the collection and provides chapters on clandestine activities in European book markets questions of censorship regimes and efficiency the use of manuscripts in an age of print and the history of learned magic in early modern Europe As the collection has survived till this day in Leipzig University Library the book provides a critical edition of the 1710 selling catalogue which includes a brief content analysis of all extant manuscripts The study will be of interest to scholars and students from a variety of fields such as early modern book history the history of magic cultural history the sociology of religion or the study of Western esotericism Arturus Rex: Acta Conventus Iovaniensis 1987 Werner Verbeke, Maurits Smeyers, 1987 Constantine Porphyrogenetos - The Book of Ceremonies, 2017-11-27 This is the first modern language translation of the entire text of the tenth century Greek Book of Ceremonies De ceremoniis a work compiled and edited by the Byzantine emperor Constantine VII 905 959 It preserves material from the fifth century through to the 960s Chapters deal with diverse subjects of concern to the emperor including the role of the court secular and ecclesiastical ceremonies processions within the Palace and through Constantinople to its churches the imperial tombs embassies banquets and dress the role of the demes hippodrome festivals with chariot races imperial appointments the hierarchy of the Byzantine administration the equipping of expeditions including to recover Crete

Graeco-Arabic Astronomy for Twelfth-Century Latin Readers C. Philipp E. Nothaft, 2022-11-21 This volume makes available two little known twelfth century Latin sources on mathematical astronomy the anonymous Ptolomeus et multi sapientum c 1145 which is attributable to the famous Jewish astrologer Abraham Ibn Ezra and the surviving second part of Robert of Chester's Liber canonum which accompanied the Tables of London c 1150 Both texts are introductory level works originally written to educate a Latin Christian audience in the concepts and techniques involved in computing with astronomical tables They are here presented in critical editions with facing English translations The accompanying introductions and in depth commentaries elucidate their significance in the context of twelfth century Latin astronomy

Religion, Law and Learning in Classical Islam George Makdisi, 2022-02-23 This second selection of articles by George Makdisi concentrates on the schools of religious thought and legal learning in the medieval Islamic world and their defence of orthodoxy The author aims to review and re assess the implications of the conflict between first the rationalist and the traditional theologians the one accepting the influence of Greek philosophy the other rejecting it and then between one of these traditionalist schools the Hanbali school of law and Sufi mysticism One of the most important consequences of the first of these confrontations he contends was the emergence of the schools of law as the guardians of the faith and theological orthodoxy The final section of the book also looks at the structure of legal learning at the institutions themselves their organization and the principles upon which they operated As well as entering the debate over the existence of corporations and guilds of law in classical Islam maintaining that they did exist these articles further suggest links between such institutions and the evolution of universities in the medieval West and the Inns of Court in England and discuss the Islamic and Arabic contribution to the concepts of academic and intellectual freedom and to the development of scholasticism and humanism Cette deuxième section d'articles de George Makdisi se concentre sur les écoles de pensée religieuse et d'apprentissage juridique dans le monde islamique médiéval et leur défense de l'orthodoxie L'auteur entend passer en revue et évaluer les implications du conflit entre d'abord les théologiens rationalistes et traditionnels l'un acceptant l'influence de la philosophie grecque l'autre la rejetant puis entre l'un d'eux écoles traditionalistes l'école de droit Hanbali et le mysticisme soufi L'une des conséquences les plus importantes de la première de ces confrontations soutient-il a été l'émergence des écoles de droit en tant que gardiennes de la foi et de l'orthodoxie théologique La dernière section du livre examine également la structure de l'apprentissage juridique les institutions elles-mêmes leur organisation et les principes sur lesquels elles fonctionnent En plus d'entrer dans le débat sur l'existence des corporations et des guildes de la loi dans l'Islam classique maintenant qu'elles existaient ces articles suggèrent en outre des liens entre de telles institutions et l'évolution des universités dans l'Occident médiéval et les Inns of Court en Angleterre et discuter de la contribution islamique et arabe aux concepts de liberté académique et intellectuelle et au développement de la scolastique et de l'humanisme Patrology Otto Bardenhewer, 1908 Otto Bardenhewer's Patrology is certainly not the most recent work in the field But sound judgment is never obsolete Bardenhewer's concise pellucid analysis of the church fathers is still valuable today over a century after it was published For generations his work has been treasured by experts and novices alike for its penetrating insight and easy accessibility Many fathers are given fuller treatment here than in any modern handbook And today every work cited in Bardenhewer's copious bibliographies has entered the public domain what a boon to researchers of the information age

Portraying the Land Rehav Rubin, 2018-05-22 The book presents and discusses a large corpus of Jewish maps of the Holy Land that were drawn by Jewish scholars from the 11th to the 20th century and thus fills a significant lacuna both in the history of cartography and in Jewish studies The maps depict the biblical borders of the Holy Land the allotments of the tribes and the forty years of wanderings in the desert Most of these maps are in Hebrew although there are several in Yiddish Ladino and in European languages The book focuses on four aspects it presents an up to date corpus of known maps of various types and genres it suggests a classification of these maps according to their source shape and content it presents and analyses the main topics that were depicted in the maps and it puts the maps in their historical and cultural contexts both within the Jewish world and the sphere of European cartography of their time The book is an innovative contribution to the fields of history of cartography and Jewish studies It is written for both professional readers and the general public The Hebrew edition 2014 won the Izhak Ben Zvi Prize

From the Material to the Mystical in Late Medieval Piety Racha Kirakosian, 2021-09-30 The German mystic Gertrude the Great of Helfta c 1256 1301 is a globally venerated saint who is still central to the Sacred Heart Devotion Her visions were first recorded in Latin and they inspired generations of readers in processes of creative rewriting The vernacular copies of these redactions challenge the long standing idea that translations do not bear the same literary or historical weight as the originals upon which they are based In this study Racha Kirakosian argues that manuscript transmission reveals how redactors serve as cultural agents Examining the late medieval vernacular copies of Gertrude's visions she demonstrates how redactors recast textual materials reflected changes in piety and generated new forms of devotional practices She also shows how these texts served as a bridge between material culture in the form of textiles and book illumination and mysticism Kirakosian's multi faceted study is an important contribution to current debates on medieval manuscript culture authorship and translation as objects of study in their own right

Studies on Medieval Liturgical and Legal Manuscripts from Spain and Southern Italy Roger E. Reynolds, 2023-05-31 Though it may not be immediately obvious why articles on topics from such distantly removed areas of western Europe the Iberian peninsula and southern Italy should appear in the same volume the fourth collection by Roger Reynolds the materials covered illustrate that they are indeed closely related both in their differences and their similarities Both peninsulas had their own indigenous liturgies and music Old Spanish and
