Skippping Around the World Francelia Butler, 1989-01-01 The Storyteller's Start-up Book Margaret Read MacDonald, 1993 Instruction on how to tell stories Includes 12 tales from other countries Children's Folklore Brian Sutton-Smith, Jay Mechling, Thomas W. Johnson, Felicia McMahon, 2012-10-12 A groundbreaking collection of essays on a hitherto underexplored subject that challenges the existing stereotypical views of the trivial and innocent nature of children's culture this work reveals for the first time the artistic and complex interactions among children Based on research of scholars from such diverse fields as American studies anthropology education folklore psychology and sociology this volume represents a radical new attempt to redefine and reinterpret the expressive behaviors of children The book is divided into four major sections history methodology genres and setting with a concluding chapter on theory Each section is introduced by an overview by Brian Sutton Smith The accompanying bibliography lists historical references through the present representing works by scholars for over 100 years Poetry's Playground Joseph T. Thomas, 2007 The first book length study of contemporary American children's poetry Poetry's Playground considers children's poetry in relation to the wider scope of adult poetic discourse Whispers of the Ancients Tamarack Song, Moses Beaver, 2010-05-05 Narratives inspired by the retelling of Indian stories and legends with gorgeous artwork The Art of Play Anna Beresin, 2013-12 What can the art of play teach us about the art of play Showcasing the paintings of more than one hundred Philadelphia public elementary school children folklorist Anna Beresin's innovative book The Art of Play presents images and stories that illustrate what children do at recess and how it makes them feel Beresin provides a nuanced child centered discussion of the intersections of play art and learning She describes a widespread institutionalized fear of play and expressive art and the transformative power of simple materials like chalk and paint Featuring more than 150 paintings and a dozen surreal photographs of masked children enjoying recess The Art of Play weaves together the diverse voices of kids and working artists with play scholarship This book emerged from Recess Access a service learning project that donated chalk ropes balls and hoops to nine schools in different sections of Philadelphia A portion of the proceeds of The Art of Play will support recess advocacy Recess Battles Anna R. Beresin, 2011-05-27 Winner of the Opie Prize from the Children's Folklore Section of the American Folklore Society As children wrestle with culture through their games recess itself has become a battleground for the control of children's time Based on dozens of interviews and the observation of over a thousand children in a racially integrated working class public school Recess Battles is a moving reflection of urban childhood at the turn of the millennium The book debunks myths about recess violence and challenges the notion that schoolyard play is a waste of time The author videotaped and recorded children of the Mill School in Philadelphia from 1991 to 2004 and asked them to offer comments as they watched themselves at play These sessions in Recess Battles raise questions about adult power and the changing frames of class race ethnicity and gender The grown ups' clear misunderstanding of the complexity of children's play is contrasted with the richness of the children's folk traditions Recess Battles is an ethnographic study of lighthearted games a celebratory presentation of children's folklore and its conflicts and a philosophical text concerning the ironies of everyday childhood Rooted in video micro ethnography and the traditions of theorists such as Bourdieu Willis and Bateson Recess Battles is written for a lay audience with extensive academic footnotes International scholar Dr Brian Sutton Smith contributes a foreword and the children themselves illustrate the text with black and white paintings
