Tienken, 2020-10-30 The School Reform Landscape Reloaded More Fear Myths and Lies peels back the curtain of school reform to examine the tensions that exist between the democratic and equitable system of public education and the emerging dual system based on elite interests aimed at profit making and decreasing education equity The author takes in depth and controversial look at school reform since the launch of Sputnik I Education reform events proposals and policies are examined through the lens of progressivist philosophy and critical social theory Some of the issues and policies critiqued include the neoliberal corporate influence on education the Sputnik myth A Nation At Risk standardization charter schools and other relevant topics The author provides an evidence based view of the free market reform ideas and he pierces the veil of the new reform policies to find that they are not built upon empirical evidence but instead rest solidly on foundations of myth fear and lies Ideas for a new set of reform policies based on empirical evidence and supportive of a unitary equitable and democratic system of education are presented Educating scientists and engineers : grade school to grad school. , Carved from Granite Lance Betros, 2012-04-23 The United States Military Academy at West Point is one of America s oldest and most revered institutions Founded in 1802 its first and only mission is to prepare young men and since 1976 young women to be leaders of character for service as commissioned officers in the United States Army West Point s success in accomplishing that mission has secured its reputation as the foremost leadership development institution in the world An Academy promotional poster says it this way At West Point much of the history we teach was made by people we taught Carved from Granite is the story of how West Point goes about producing military leaders of character An opening chapter on the Academy s nineteenth century history provides context for the topic of each subsequent chapter As scholar and Academy graduate Lance Betros shows West Point s early history is interesting and colorful but its history since then is far more relevant to the issues and problems that face the Academy today Drawing from oral histories archival sources and his own experiences as a cadet and later a faculty member Betros describes and assesses how well West Point has accomplished its mission And while West Point is an impressive institution in many ways Betros does not hesitate to expose problems and challenge long held assumptions In a concluding chapter that is both subjective and interpretive the author offers his prescriptions for improving the institution focusing particularly on the areas of governance admissions and intercollegiate athletics Photographs tables charts and other graphics aid the clarity of the discussion and lend visual and historical interest Carved from Granite West Point since 1902 is the most authoritative history of the modern United States Military Academy written to date There will be lively debate over some of the observations made in this book but if they are followed the author asserts that the Academy will emerge stronger and better able to accomplish its vital mission in the new century and beyond NACIE Scholarship Field Guide ,1991 Learning from the Past Diane Ravitch,Maris A. Vinovskis,1995-02 Many Americans view today s problems in education as an unprecedented crisis brought on by contemporary social ills In Learning from the Past a group of distinguished educational historians and scholars of public policy reminds us that many of our current difficulties as well as recent reform efforts have important historical antecedents What can we learn they ask from nineteenth century efforts to promote early childhood education or debates in the 1920s about universal secondary education or the curriculum reforms of the 1950s Reflecting a variety of intellectual and disciplinary orientations the contributors to this volume examine major changes in educational development and reform and consider how such changes have been implemented in the past They address questions of governance equity and multiculturalism curriculum standards school choice and a variety of other issues Policy makers and other school reformers they conclude would do well to investigate the past in order to appreciate the implications of the present reform initiatives
