Story of the Bible Animals J. G. Wood, 2024-01-25 Owing to the different conditions of time language country and race under which the various books of the Holy Scriptures were written it is impossible that they should be rightly understood at the present day without some study of the customs and manners of Eastern peoples as well as of the countries in which they lived The Oriental character of the scriptural writings causes them to abound with metaphors and symbols taken from the common life of the time They contain allusions to the trees flowers and herbage the creeping things of the earth the fishes of the sea the birds of the air and the beasts which abode with man or dwelt in the deserts and forests Unless therefore we understand these writings as those understood them for whom they were written it is evident that we shall misinterpret instead of rightly comprehending them The field which is laid open to us is so large that only one department of Natural History namely Zoology can be treated in this work although it is illustrated by many references to other branches of Natural History to the physical geography of Palestine Egypt and Syria the race character of the inhabitants and historical parallels The importance of understanding the nature habits and uses of the animals which are constantly mentioned in the Bible cannot be overrated as a means of elucidating the Scriptures and without this knowledge we shall not only miss the point of innumerable passages of the Old and New Testaments but the words of our Lord Himself will often be totally misinterpreted or at least lose part of their significance The object of the present work is therefore to take in its proper succession every creature whose name is given in the Scriptures and to supply so much of its history as will enable the reader to understand all the passages in which it is mentioned

African Hunt and the Wild Animals of Africa Axel Lundeberg, Frederick H. A. Seymour, 1910 Imperialism and the natural world John M. MacKenzie, 2017-03-01 Imperial power both formal and informal and research in the natural sciences were closely dependent in the nineteenth century This book examines a portion of the mass produced juvenile literature focusing on the cluster of ideas connected with Britain's role in the maintenance of order and the spread of civilization It discusses the political economy of Western ecological systems and the consequences of their extension to the colonial periphery particularly in forms of forest conservation Progress and consumerism were major constituents of the consensus that helped stabilise the late Victorian society but consumerism only works if it can deliver the goods From 1842 onwards almost all major episodes of coordinated popular resistance to colonial rule in India were preceded by phases of vigorous resistance to colonial forest control By the late 1840s a limited number of professional positions were available for geologists in British imperial service but imperial geology had a longer pedigree Modern imperialism or municipal imperialism offers a broader framework for understanding the origins long duration and persistent support for overseas expansion which transcended the rise and fall of cabinets or international realignments in the 1800s Although medical scientists began to discern and control the microbiological causes of tropical ills after the mid nineteenth century the claims for climatic causation did not undergo a corresponding decline Arthur Pearson's Pearson's Magazine was patriotic militaristic and devoted to royalty The book explores how science emerged as an important feature of the development policies of the Colonial Office CO of the colonial empire Against Life Alastair Hunt, Stephanie Youngblood, 2016-03-15 The contributors to Against Life think critically about the turn to life in recent theory and culture Editors Alastair Hunt and Stephanie Youngblood shape their collection to provocatively challenge the assumption rife throughout the humanities that life needs to be cultivated affirmed and redeemed The editors and their contributors explore how we might be better off daring to think ethics and politics as well as the project of the humanities in more radical terms as a refusal to choose life What forms of equality and freedom might emerge if we did not organize being together under signs of life Taken together the essays in Against Life mark an important turn in the ethico political work of the humanities Reading the World's Stories Annette Y. Goldsmith, Theo Heras, Susan Corapi, 2016-08-11 Reading the World's Stories is volume 5 in the Bridges to Understanding series of annotated international youth literature bibliographies sponsored by the United States Board on Books for Young People USBY is the United States chapter of the International Board on Books for Young People IBBY a Switzerland based nonprofit whose mission is bring books and children together The series promotes sharing international children's books as a way to facilitate intercultural understanding and meet new literary voices This volume follows Children's Books from Other Countries 1998 The World through Children's Books 2002 Crossing Boundaries with Children's Books 2006 and Bridges to Understanding Envisioning the World through Children's Books 2011 and acts as a companion book to the earlier titles Centered around the theme of the importance of stories the guide is a resource for discovering more recent global books that fit many reading tastes and educational needs for readers aged 0-18 years. Essays by storyteller Anne Pellowski, author Beverley Naidoo and academic Marianne Martens offer a variety of perspectives on international youth literature. This latest installment in the series covers books published from 2010-2014 and includes English language imports as well as translations of children's and young adult literature first published outside of the United States. These books are supplemented by a smaller number of culturally appropriate books from the US to help fill in gaps from underrepresented countries. The organization of the guide is geographic by region and country. All of the more than 800 entries are recommended and many of the books have won awards or achieved other recognition in their home countries. Forty children's book experts wrote the annotations. The entries are indexed by author, translator, illustrator, title, and subject. Back matter also includes international book awards, important organizations, and research collections, and a selected directory of publishers known for publishing books from other countries.

RSPB Spotlight Hedgehogs James Lowen, 2018-07-12

RSPB Spotlight Hedgehogs is packed with eye-catching, informative colour photos and features succinct and detailed text written by a knowledgeable naturalist. Much loved but about to be lost, the Hedgehog regularly tops polls of the UK's favourite animal, yet numbers in our countryside have halved this century. Generations of children have been captivated by Beatrix Potter's The Tale of Mrs Tiggly Winkle, though our complex and contradictory relationship with the Hedgehog is also characterised by persecution and death. This unmistakable spiny mammal is a gardener's best friend but one that we rarely see alive and in our midst. In Spotlight Hedgehogs, James Lowen reveals what a Hedgehog is and how it lives, unveiling the secrets of its lifestyle, such as foraging and hibernating, rolling into a ball and building a nest. He also investigates the relationship between Hedgehogs and people, from film and fun to conservation and crisps, and offers practical advice on how to find, watch, and help these charming animals in the wild.
