

The Idea Of The City

Ioannis Papadopoulos

The Idea Of The City:

The Idea of the City Joan Fitzpatrick, 2009-05-05 This collection of essays emerges from a two day international conference held at the University of Northampton UK It contains the best of the papers presented by 45 delegates from 12 countries UK India USA Canada Italy France Ireland Australia Romania Japan Germany Portugal involving both established academics and new scholars The collection is divided into three parts Part 1 Medieval and Early Modern Cities Performance and Poetry Part 2 Defining Urban Space the Metropolis and the Provincial and Part 3 Modern and Postmodern Cities Marginal Urban Identities The chapters explore the nature of the modern city in literature history film and culture from its origins in the early modern period to post modern dislocations and considers the city as a context within which literature is created structured and inspired and as a space within which distinct voices and genres emerge Much interest has developed recently on the city and its contexts but there is a tendency to focus on London for example there is the journal Literary London Interdisciplinary Studies in the Representation of London and the annual Literary London Conference a major conference that has run since 2002 This collection fills an important gap in the market by having a truly global focus Joan Fitzpatrick's The Idea of the City represents a fascinating snapshot of the current state of literary urban studies Conference proceedings can often seem diffuse or tokenistic but this collection offers unity on several levels For a start many of the contributors ask similar questions of their material approaching it with an informed awareness of the ways in which the city has been theorised as well as actually traversed from the medieval period to the present While one would expect work of this type and standard from established and widely published scholars such as Pamela Gilbert and Julian Wolfreys it is refreshing to see how new researchers are blending the cartographic with the psychological to raise important questions about the perception analysis and mythologisation of urban and metropolitan space The collection is impressively eclectic ranging from Petrarch's Avignon to modern Los Angeles and from 18th century Lichfield to operatic re imaginings of Venice As I said however the collection is unified at a deep level by the contributors shared interest in city writing and by their conviction that there is a complex relationship between space place and self This means that the book would be of use and interest to those working on individual writers including contemporary novelists such as Niall Griffiths on whom little has yet been published and in the more general areas of urban and cultural studies and critical theory The collection as a whole allows the reader to revisit the ideas of influential works from the previous decade such as Keith Tester's The Fl neur 1994 Sophie Watson and Katherine Gibson's Postmodern Cities and Spaces 1995 and Susana Onega and John Stotesbury's London in Literature Visionary Mappings of the Metropolis 2002 It is therefore both a useful round up of established ideas from various city centred disciplines and a starting point for the fresh consideration of enduringly suggestive material Dr Nick Freeman Loughborough University Author of Conceiving the City London Literature and Art 1870 1914 In this substantial volume the editor has assembled an international line up of scholars working on the city from the Renaissance to the present This is an important and timely work that has depth as well as breadth Interdisciplinary and cross period collections like this which straddle several historical periods run the risk of appealing only in part to coherent scholarly communities but Dr Fitzpatrick has structured the collection in a way which plays to the strength of critics working within particular periods while clearly displaying the latticework of links between the book's strongly marked sections There is an excellent balance between historical and theoretical readings between textual and contextual approaches and between interventions that are author or text based and those that deal with broader themes and issues The range of contributors is matched by the richness and variety of perspectives I would strongly recommend this book to students working in the early modern period and also to those interested in modern developments It is a comprehensive intelligently organized and richly researched volume that is likely to be well received well reviewed and well read I will certainly be ordering copies for my own University library and including it on reading lists for future courses Professor Willy Maley University of Glasgow

The Idea of the City in Nineteenth-Century Britain B.I. Coleman, 2012-12-06 In nineteenth century Britain ahead of the rest of the world in economic development many towns and cities grew to a size that only London had attained before This volume focuses on the intellectual and controversial response of the period's leading men and women to the key issues of urbanization and its surrounding social problems The extracts selected date from 1785 to 1909 and are drawn from the writings reports and speeches of admirers of city life and its most passionate critics optimists and alarmists advocates of back to the land panaceas and reformers who aspired to control and reform cities Contemporaries quoted include Dickens Cobbett Carlyle Disraeli Engels Mrs Gaskell Ruskin Joseph Chamberlain William Morris Charles Booth H G Wells and Seebohm Rowntree In a valuable introduction the editor indicates the main preoccupations of the debate about the city proposes a periodization for it and shows its connections with other controversies and issues as Victorian Britain found itself entering an age of great cities This book was first published in 1973

The Idea of the City in the Age of Shakespeare Gail Kern Paster, 2012-02-01 Gail Kern Paster explores the role of the city in the works of William Shakespeare Thomas Middleton and Ben Jonson Paster moves beyond the usual presentation of the city/country dichotomy to reveal a series of oppositions that operate within the city's walls These oppositions city of God and city of man Jerusalem and Rome bride of the Lamb and whore of Babylon ideal and real together create a dual image of the city as a visionary ideal society and as a predatory trap founded in fratricide shadowed in guilt In the theater this duality affects the fate of early modern city dwellers who exemplify even as they are controlled by this contradictory reality

The Stoic Idea of the City Malcolm Schofield, 1999-07 This systematic analysis of the Stoic school concentrates on Zeno's Republic Using textual evidence the author examines the Stoic ideals that initiated the natural law tradition of western political thought

The Idea of Rome in Late Antiquity Ioannis Papadopoulos, 2025-10-01 This book approaches the manifestation and evolution of the idea of Rome as an expression of Roman patriotism and as an urban archetype of utopia in late Roman thought in a period extending from AD 357 to 417

Within this period of about a human lifetime the concepts of Rome and Romanitas were reshaped and used for various ideological causes This monograph unfolds through a selection of sources that represent the patterns and diversity of this ideological process The theme of Rome as a personified and anthropomorphic figure and as an epitomized notion applied on the urban landscape would become part of the identity of the Romans of Rome highlighting a sense of cultural uniqueness in an era when their city's privileged status was challenged Towards the end of the chronological limits set in this thesis various versions of Romanitas would emerge indicating new physical and spiritual potentials

The City in the Muslim World Mohammad Gharipour, Nilay Ozlu, 2015-03-05 Presenting a critical yet innovative perspective on the cultural interactions between the East and the West this book questions the role of travel in the production of knowledge and in the construction of the idea of the Islamic city This volume brings together authors from various disciplines questioning the role of Western travel writing in the production of knowledge about the East particularly focusing on the cities of the Muslim world Instead of concentrating on a specific era chapters span the Medieval and Modern eras in order to present the transformation of both the idea of the Islamic city and also the act of traveling and travel writing Missions to the East whether initiated by military religious economic scientific diplomatic or touristic purposes resulted in a continuous construction de construction and re construction of the self and the other Including travel accounts which depicted cities extending from Europe to Asia and from Africa to Arabia chapters epitomize the construction of the Orient via textual or visual representations By examining various tools of representation such as drawings paintings cartography and photography in depicting the urban landscape in constant flux the book emphasizes the role of the mobile individual in defining city space and producing urban culture Scrutinising the role of travellers in producing the image of the world we know today this book is recommended for researchers scholars and students of Middle Eastern Studies Cultural Studies Architecture and Urbanism

Music Production in the Music City Yanto Browning, 2025-04-01 Music Production in the Music City considers how music is produced in specific urban contexts Music Production in the Music City features four case studies from a diverse set of cities Berlin Nashville Chennai and Brisbane to investigate how music comes to be created in locally specific music production contexts These case studies inform a thorough examination of the various factors that shape music production practices specific to urban contexts The author uses a new conceptual framework called the undersong to analyse the aural foundations of a city examining how policy design can help or hinder a productive music production scene This is a cutting edge contribution to music city studies and will be of great interest to researchers postgraduates and advanced undergraduates studying music production and world music This book will also be of interest to those involved in urban policy work related to the live and recorded music industries

Eyes On City Hall Evan Mandery, 2018-03-09 The Campaign is a close up look at the paranoid frenzied oppressive and exhilarating world of modern political campaigns a universe where truth is fungible and moral conviction a mere asset like good looks or personal wealth Corporeal restraints do not exist

People regularly become things they are not Evan Mandery research director on Ruth Messinger's doomed challenge to Mayor Rudy Giuliani offers a behind the scenes look at political campaigns in the television era A day to day account of the 1997 New York City mayoral race it takes us to the real battlegrounds of modern politics polls focus groups and television editing studios With Mandery as our guide we watch first hand as political consultants conceive of the ideal candidate and then attempt to fit their client into that ideal no matter how uncomfortably The stars of the story are memorable Rudy Giuliani popping his eyes and tweaking the truth Al Sharpton the colorful preacher and rising political force and Ruth Messinger herself torn between her populist political upbringing and the modern political world where money dominates over all other concerns Sometimes cynical often mirthful and always honest The Campaign will forever change your view of political campaigns

Carbon Neutral City Jun Wang, 2025-08-22 This book introduces the ecological low carbon and sustainable concept of ideal cities from different views With beliefs and practices of scholars in the past in pursuit of ideal cities it is written with historical events in the development of low carbon cities In this way activities about carbon peaking and carbon neutrality happening worldwide at present can be shown and efforts variety countries have paid off can be exhibited Besides as for the centralized and the distributed space structure in urban evolution the book discusses their trends and comes up with an ideal model the distributed city to realize carbon neutrality based on the distributed structure Therefore with a practical example in planning the feasibility of the distributed city is analyzed in several fields including space energy traffic water waste disposal etc The book can be used as materials for professionals in city planning and construction low carbon development and other fields as well as a way for ordinary people to learn about the complex city

The Political Philosophy of the European City Ferenc Hörcher, 2021-06-03 The Political Philosophy of the European City is a courageous and wide ranging panorama of the political life and thought of the European city Its novel hypothesis is that modern Western political thought since the time of Hobbes and Locke underestimated the political significance and value of the community of urban citizens called civitas united by local customs or even a formal or informal urban constitution at a certain location which had a recognizable countenance with natural and man made architectural marks called urbs Recalling the golden age of the European city in ancient Greece and Rome and offering a detailed description of its turbulent life in the Renaissance Italian city states it makes a case for the city not only as a hotbed of modern democracy but also as a remedy for some of the distortions of political life in the alienated contemporary centralized Weberian bureaucratic state Overcoming the north south divide or the core and periphery partition the book's material is particularly rich in Central European case studies All in all it is an enjoyable read which offers sound arguments to revisit the offer of the small and middle sized European town in search of a more sustainable future for Europe
