The Imaginative Writings Of Paul Chidyausiku:

The Imaginative Writings of Paul Chidyausiku George P. Kahari, 1975 The Imaginative Writings of Paul Chidyausiku George P. Kahari, 1975 Imagination and the Creative Impulse in the New Literatures in English, 2021-11-01

Imagination and the Creative Impulse in the New Literatures in English brings together the proceedings of a symposium organised by the editors at the University of Trento in 1990. At a time when the study of the post colonial literatures is gaining more widespread recognition, scholars based mainly at universities in Italy and Germany were invited to address the manner in which writers are giving literary expression to the complexity of contemporary post colonial and multicultural societies and to consider from their differing perspectives on the new literatures central questions of formal experimentation, linguistic innovation, social and political commitment, textual theory and cross culturality. Focusing on such major writers such as Achebe, Soyinka and Walcott as well as on lesser known figures such as Jack Davis, Witi Ihimaera, Rohinton Mistry and Manohar Malgonkar, the contributors take up many themes characteristic of the new literatures: the challenge posed to traditional authority, the expression of national identity, the role of literature in the liberation struggle, modes of literary practice in multicultural societies, the relationship of the new literatures in English to that of the former metropolitan centre and the complex intertextuality characterizing much of the literary production of post colonial societies.

The Columbia Guide to Central African Literature in English Since 1945 Adrian A. Roscoe, 2008

Columbia's guides to postwar African literature paint a unique portrait of the continent's rich and diverse literary traditions. This volume examines the rapid rise and growth of modern literature in the three postcolonial nations of Zimbabwe, Malawi and Zambia. It tracks the multiple political and economic pressures that have shaped Central African writing since the end of World War II and reveals its authors' heroic efforts to keep their literary traditions alive in the face of extreme poverty and AIDS. Adrian Roscoe begins with a list of key political events. Since writers were composing within both colonial and postcolonial contexts, he pays particular attention to the nature of British colonialism, especially theories regarding its provenance and motivation. Roscoe discusses such historical figures as David Livingstone, Cecil Rhodes and Sir Harry Johnston as well as modern power players including Robert Mugabe, Kenneth Kaunda and Kamuzu Banda. He also addresses efforts to create a literary historical record from an African perspective, an account that challenges white historiographies in which the colonized was neither agent nor informer. A comprehensive alphabetical guide profiles both established and emerging authors and further illustrates issues raised in the introduction. Roscoe then concludes with a detailed bibliography recommending additional reading and sources. At the close of World War II, the people of Central Africa found themselves mired in imperial fatigue and broken promises of freedom. This fueled a desire for liberation and a major surge in literary production, and in this illuminating guide, Roscoe details the campaigns for social justice and political integrity, for education and economic empowerment, and for gender equity, participatory democracy, rural development and environmental care that characterized this exciting period of development Plots and Characters in Shona Fiction, 1956-1984 George P. Kahari, 1990 Africa in a Multilateral World Albert Kasanda, Marek Hrubec, 2021-07-29 The book analyses how Africans and Africa relate to other parts of the multilateral world and to the world in general and how these relations stem from local national and regional interactions in different parts of Africa as well as Africa as a whole The first part focuses on the assumptions that are necessary to understand the role of Africa on the global stage especially from the perspectives of political philosophy and global and international studies The second part of the book looks at both Afropolitan trends and the limits of Afropolitanism In the third part the authors focus on specific African global tendencies stemming from the local conditions in several case studies Traditional and modern politics is connected problematically with the current Jihadist organisations in the local African conditions related to unilateralism and global war on terror for example The fourth part deals with the relevance of the language ambivalence in relation to global interactions It examines various views of African philosophy and lays bare the perception of earlier colonial languages in view of their current strength of global action This book will be of interest to scholars of African studies political philosophy politics and global studies Readings in African Popular Culture Karin Barber, 1997 This is an extraordinarily rich collection full of informative detail and excellent interpretative analysis There is not a single piece that fails to fascinate Leeds African Studies Bulletin an impressive collection of inspiring and thought provoking essays Media Development This is a book that should find its way into many syllabuses and onto the bookshelves of Africanist scholars in many disciplines Its publication marks a key turning point in scholarship on the cultures of contemporary Africa Africa Today This book surveys the popular culture of contemporary Africa including popular literature oral narrative and poetry dance drama music and visual art with special emphasis on the verbal arts The essays cover six main areas views of the field oral tradition revisited social history social criticism and interpretation women in popular culture little genres of everyday life the local and the global Aspects of the Shona Novel and Other Related Genres George P.
